

ROCK 'N ROLL IN STEREO—The Chi Omegas rocked and rolled their way into first place in the skit division at Coed Follies Friday evening. Rock star Pam Hirschbach (center) lets go with the number she composed.

ANIMATED DOLLS—Real live Kappa Alpha Thetas sing "Ma, He's Makin' Eyes At Me" to win the travelers act trophy at Coed Follies Friday night.

NW Wins First At Tourney

NU Ruled Ineligible In Main Competition

Northwestern College of Minneapolis, Minn., was awarded the grand sweepstakes trophy at the speech and debate tournament Saturday on the University campus.

Kansas State Teachers College, Pittsburg, placed second. The University of Minnesota and Kearney State Teachers College tied for third.

Nebraska participated in the preliminaries but was ineligible for further competition, according to Donald Olson, associate professor of speech and dramatic art.

Superior individual ratings in debate went to Judy Brumm, Suzie Merrick, Linda Hillyer, Kathy Bayles, Mike Culwell, Tom Chandler and Bill Harding. Richard Weill and George Duranske received superior ratings in oratory.

Superior team ratings in debate were won by Judy Brumm and Suzie Merrick and by Linda Hillyer and Kathy Bayles.

Students Witness Hit, Run Accident

Yesterday, at 12:05 a.m., an unidentified driver left the scene of an accident in front of the Theta Xi fraternity house on R Street.

Several student witnesses on the scene said that a dark blue four door 1957 Chevrolet attempted to turn west on R street from 16th and "drove right into a parked car." The owner of the car is Ann Kosman, a University sophomore.

The driver jumped out of his car, looked at the damage, then got back in, backed up and left at a high rate of speed.

Members of the Board of Regents. It is . . . conduct unbecoming a student."

Oregon Emerald

The student senate of the University of Oregon voted 12-12 to ask for the resignation of the editor of the Oregon Emerald, Ron Buel.

The decision to ask for the resignation of the editor was reported to be the result of an editorial implying the practice of hazing in Oregon fraternities.

Buel said that he is "not going to resign. Student opinion seems to be behind us, judging from the letters received."

The editorial was run after three Oregon fraternities had been charged with hazing by the Inter-Fraternity Tribunal. The chairman of the IFC, Ken Wilson, ended the meeting by resigning, saying "The guilty are trying the guilty."

'Starring Stereo' Wins First Place At Follies

By SUE SMITHBERGER

The first encore in the history of Coed Follies was demanded by the audience Friday night at the completion of the winning Chi Omega skit, "Starring Stereo."

The skit was written and directed by Pam Hirschbach. There are some plans for recording the finale, "Rock 'N' Roll to Stereo" although no definite plans have yet been made, according to Miss Hirschbach.

The skit told the story of a rock 'n' roller who wanted his music to be accepted in the stereo world. It was climaxed with a rock 'n' roll finale by the cast and the audience.

Winner in the Traveler's Act division was the Kappa

Alpha Theta act, "Ma, He's Makin' Eyes At Me". It employed usage of two girls to look like one, the hands and feet belonging to two different people.

Second place in the skits went to Gamma Phi Beta with "Pirates Parody." They depicted the discovery of America as "Columbus" is forced to walk the plank by a female crew.

Pi Beta Phi won third with their "Faith, Hope and Chestity." The skit was a take-off on the TV western "Gunsmoke" with Chester saving the day by recovering a stolen treasure chest.

★ ★ ★ ★

Thorough, Kotouc Get Awards From AWS

Jeanne Thorough and Tom Kotouc were revealed as Ideal Nebraska Coed and Outstanding Collegiate Man at Coed Follies Friday night.

Miss Thorough is majoring in history and has a 7.2 average. She was a Homecoming Queen finalist, a member of the 1962 Ivy Day Court, winner of the All University Talent Show, Ideal Pledge of her sorority, member of Eta Sigma and has an Elks Youth Leadership Scholarship.

She is president of the All University Fund (AUF), vice-president of Builders, a member of the Governor's Council for Youth, Panhellenic rush workshop leader, cheerleader, member of Newman Club and pledge trainer for her sorority, Delta Gamma.

She has served as Panhellenic scholarship chairman, member of Orchestis and pledge class activities chairman.

Tom is majoring in history and has an 8.6 average. He is the University representative in the Rhodes Scholarship competition and representative to the National Educational Leadership Conference.

He has received the Sigma Delta Chi award for outstanding news reporting, Sons of the American Revolution award in Air Force ROTC, Regents Scholarship, Innocents Memorial Scholarship and Interfraternity Scholarship.

He is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, Phi Mu Epsilon, and is job placement chairman for People-to-People, Corn Cobs rally chairman and Senator's program chairman.

He is a member of the public issues committee of Student Council and Wesley House.

He is affiliated with Phi Kappa Psi. He has been chairman of Nebraska Council of Youth and Nebraska Conference of Youth, outstanding freshman and sophomore of his fraternity, pledge class secretary, and public relations and alumni chairman for his fraternity.

Other finalists for Ideal Nebraska Coed were Maureen Frolik, Marilyn Keyes, Mary Jo MacKenzie, Linda Reno, Susan Salter and Kathryn Vollmer.

Other finalists for Outstanding Collegiate Man were Robert Brightfelt, Bill Buckley, Dennis Christie, Jim Hix, Bob Seidell and Richard Weill.

The awards, a bracelet for Miss Thorough and a plaque for Kotouc, are given each year by the Associated Women Students (AWS).

Announcing the winners for AWS was Diane Armour. Pat Spilker, AWS president gave Miss Thorough a bouquet of roses.

John Nolon, 1962 Outstanding Collegiate Man, and Nancy Miller, 1962 Ideal Nebraska Coed, presented the awards.

★ ★ ★ ★

Yearbook Finalists Revealed

Finalists for the Cornhusker Beauty Queen and Eligible Bachelor were announced Friday night at Coed Follies.

Six Beauty Queens and Eligible Bachelors will be selected from the finalists and revealed in the 1963 Cornhusker, according to Cyn Holmquist, Cornhusker editor.

Beauty Queen finalists are: Kathryn Vollmer, Becky Yerk, Carol Thompson, Marilyn Masters, Jana Lambach, Judy Keys, Mary Lee Jepsen, Donna Highland, Maribelle Elliott, Judy Edwards, Susan Christensen and Joan Brueggemann.

Eligible Bachelor finalists are: John Zeilinger, Bill Wright, David Theisen, David Smitz, Allen Olsen, John Nolon, Jim Levy, Mike Lessman, Tom Kort, Gary Fegley, Richard Callahan and Gary Brouillette.

Interpretations Vary In State Water Study

Nebraskans have more than 500 times as much available water as they currently use.

"Nebraska has about 187 times as much groundwater in storage as is replaced by annual average rainfall," said Eugene C. Reed, director of the University's Conservation and Survey Division.

At the 3rd annual conference of the Nebraska Well Drillers Association at the Nebraska Center, Reed said, "The state has a fine future because we use only a third of our annual rain, but we need to know more about it so we can manage it for the greatest good."

Reed said, "There is some danger that much time, energy and money may be spent in looking for simple solutions to complex problems at the expense of basic data collection and hydrologic research."

He cited research projects including: water quality in reuse, water table recharge, flood impounding, and affect of water withdraw on the structure of water bearing strata.

Reed said that about 3,000 test wells have been recorded in the state by the University. He believes that almost 10 times as many wells may have been drilled but not recorded.

University scientists are drilling test wells about three miles apart, north and south, and 10 miles apart, east and west. Some authorities estimate one test well per square mile.

Reed said the University groundwater survey has covered about half the state.

Opinions on groundwater range from dire predictions of serious water shortages in 20 years to complacent opinions that water supplies are inexhaustible.

Neither opinion is factual. "It is about as difficult to forecast future water requirements as it is to forecast the stock market," Reed said.

No water supply is inexhaustible — even though it is replaceable. "Nebraska's tremendous groundwater supply is like money in the bank. The amount of water replaced over a period of time is our average income. If we can learn to manage our ground water bank account we will leave a significant estate to future generations."

Bennett Will Attend College Union Meet

Allen Bennett, managing director of the Student Union, will attend the annual meeting of the Association of College Unions, March 10-14 at Indiana University.

Officials Restrict College Publications

Special disciplinary action by school officials and student organizations has recently restricted the editors of two college publications and the ex-managing editor of the Colorado Daily.

According to news releases from the Collegiate Press Service the action in two of the cases was taken because of an arbitrary editorial and in one case because of a letter to a University Regent.

Colorado Daily

The ex-managing editor of the Colorado Daily, Terry Marshall, received a "Dean's warning" from a special board of appeal composed of three deans for writing an outspoken letter to University Regent Dale Atkins.

Dean of Student Affairs, Arthur Kiendl, placed Marshall on probation after he wrote a public letter to Regent Atkins.

Atkins, just elected, had been instrumental in pressuring the Colorado administration to take action against the Colorado Daily because the paper had earlier allowed a student-written article to be printed which referred to Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) in derogatory terms.

After a month-long furor on the campus, University president Quigg Newton fired the editor of the Daily, then Gary Althen.

The letter sent to Atkins by Marshall, which the board said was "intemperate and insulting," told the regent that Marshall intended to "continue to publish your dirty Americanism."

The special board held that "students at the University do not have the privilege, as a matter of right, to write scurrilous and insulting letters to other students, teachers or to members of the Board of Regents. It is . . . conduct unbecoming a student."

Oregon Emerald

The student senate of the University of Oregon voted 12-12 to ask for the resignation of the editor of the Oregon Emerald, Ron Buel.

The decision to ask for the resignation of the editor was reported to be the result of an editorial implying the practice of hazing in Oregon fraternities.

Buel said that he is "not going to resign. Student opinion seems to be behind us, judging from the letters received."

The editorial was run after three Oregon fraternities had been charged with hazing by the Inter-Fraternity Tribunal. The chairman of the IFC, Ken Wilson, ended the meeting by resigning, saying "The guilty are trying the guilty."

—Mental Health Grant— Money Will Finance Four-Year Research

The National Institute on Mental Health is financing a four-year investigation by Dr. Michael J. Carver on the effects of phenylketonuria on the distribution of free amino acids.

Dr. Carver is an associate professor at the University College of Medicine in Omaha.

Phenylketonuria is an inborn error of metabolism which less than five years ago struck many infants with complete mental retardation.

Its powers have waned but researchers have found out a great deal about arresting the condition before it permanently damages the brain through experiments controlling the diets of laboratory animals.

Only in early infancy can the condition be corrected. It is the result of "mistakes in the ways humans handle food-stuffs," according to Carver.

He has just received a $10-

324 grant covering the second year of the research project.

"Free amino acids," he explained, "are those acids which are not incorporated into the protein of the brain."

The chemical counterpart of phenylketonuria is produced in the study by injecting and feeding certain compounds to rats. These compounds then are studied at specific intervals.

Freshmen members are asked to register for either the freshman interest group or for one of the upperclass interest groups, said Miss Johnson.

It said, "The business about defending the political religion of America comes right out of the most decadent and genteel strain of American cultural tradition."

"It demands a recognition that the mother of the land was without sin, that the father caressed her with confident procreativity, that they conceived a perfect child begot to withstand the assaults of its changing environment."

The HUAC investigations of Women's Strike for Peace antagonized the editors, they said, because HUAC represents "most America's inability to recognize and admit her imperfections."

The college president, Harold Stokes, declared that the editorial "admittedly violated the regulations of Queens College and the Board of Higher Education as well as the canons of good taste."

Queens College Phoenix

The entire editorial board of the Queens College Phoenix has been placed on disciplinary probation by the administration as a result of an allegedly obscene editorial.

The college president, Harold Stokes, declared that the editorial "admittedly violated the regulations of Queens College and the Board of Higher Education as well as the canons of good taste."