

Swimmers Take On ISU, ICU

The Husker swimmers will take on highly touted Iowa State this Saturday in a double dual affair with Iowa State and Kansas.

The Huskers have yet to meet the Iowa State squad this year. Earlier in the semester the Huskers took on Kansas at Lawrence and the Jayhawkers were beaten 55-40.

In Iowa State's last appearance they defeated the Big Eight champions Oklahoma, 50-45.

Iowa State will bring with them a 400-yard freestyle relay team that broke a Big Eight record with a time of 3:11.9. Also on the squad will be the defending Big Eight diving champion, Fritz Hagen.

Iowa State will be relying on the efforts of Dan McQuillen, Rol Wellman, Bud Pierce, and Art Paterson. These are the members of the relay team that set the Big Eight record in the freestyle relay with the exception of Bud Pierce.

Pierce placed second last year in the Big Eight backstroke behind George Winters of Kansas University.

Rol Wellman is a native Nebraskan that took the trip to Iowa State and now wears their colors. He is a native of Omaha and swims the freestyle sprints, placing third in the Big Eight 50-yard last year.

Nebraska will throw stalwarts Vern Bauers, breast-stroker, and Keefe Ludwig, sophomore whiz. Freestyler Phil Swaim will also be counted on to bring in some points.

One of the best races of the day may be the 200-yard backstroke with Husker Bill Henry going against Bud Winters. Henry was right behind Winters in the Big Eight last season and Henry is improved over last season.

Meet time Saturday will be at 3 p.m. in the coliseum pool.

NU Wrestlers On Road Trip

Coach Bob Mancuso's wrestling team will be looking for victories three and four on a road trip to Colorado this weekend.

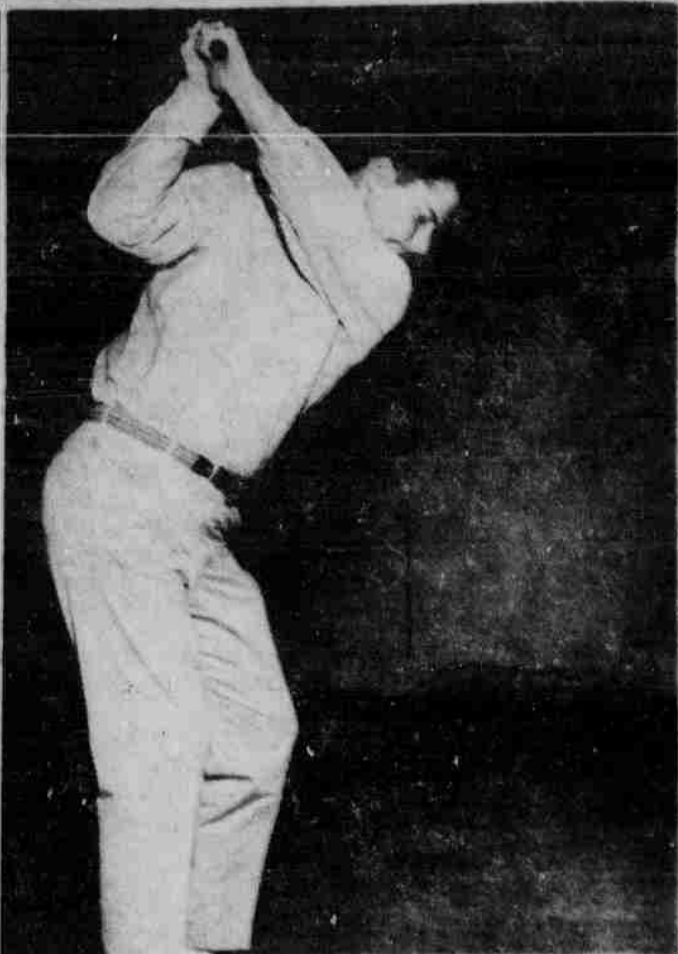

Scarlet grapplers, fresh from a squeaker over Omaha University Tuesday night, will meet Denver University at Denver on Friday night and the Air Force at Colorado Springs Saturday. The Colorado teams will be the last dual competition for the Huskers this season.

Nebraska, 2-9 for the season, will compete the following weekend in the Big Eight championships March 8-9 at Norman, Oklahoma.

Mancuso has hopes for Steve Walen, a sophomore wrestling at 123, and Mike Niessen, the team captain wrestling at 130.

Nissen is still undefeated in dual competition, and Walen has lost only three times.

These wrestlers will make the Colorado trip: 123—Steve Walen; 130—Mike Nissen; 137—Chuck Martin; 147—Larry LeBruska; 157—Bruce O'Callaghan; 167—Ken Fox; 177—Mike Tihotson; Hwt.—Don McDermott.

SEASON OPENS—Bill Gunlicks, varsity golfer, swings into action during winter practice in the "cage" in the Coliseum basement.

Golfers Swing Into Spring Sessions

Golfers have been swinging in the basement of the coliseum until warmer weather permits them to move to Pioneers Golf Course for regular practice.

NU links men will meet Creighton for its first match April 4 at Miracle Hills golf course in Omaha.

Last season the NU golfers posted a 8-7 season and finished eighth in the Conference meet at Columbia, Missouri.

Coach Harry Good commented, "This season we're going to try and improve our conference standing."

Returning lettermen from last year include Bill Gunlicks and Stan Schrag.

Last fall the NU golf team played four matches with Creighton University, Nebraska winning all four matches. Averages for fall golf:

- Frank Schriener ..... 74.2
- Stan Schrag ..... 74.5
- Bill Gunlicks ..... 77.3
- Tom Thomsen ..... 78.5
- Fred Sukup ..... 79.2

Nebraska golfers post a 14 schedule meet playing its first match April 4. All matches in Lincoln will be held at Pioneers Golf Course at 1:00 p.m.

Inside Track

—by Jan Sack

To say that Nebraska's chances of taking the Big Eight Indoor Track title are good is a bit of an understatement.

The Huskers have perhaps the most talented crew on the cinders. Besides their talent, they have the all-necessary desire to win. As you know last year they were beat out by Kansas by 11-12 of a point.

It's always interesting to talk with the boys before they get ready to go. Some of them have a lot to say while others prefer to keep their sentiments to themselves.

Sprinter and hurdler Ray Knaub is very optimistic. He said "Nebraska will win if every man runs what he is capable of." Knaub is one of the reasons why Nebraska has a good chance of coming out on top.

The Scottsbluff speedster is quite capable of running the 60-yard dash in :06.2 and he has the best conference low hurdle time of :06.8.

His hurdle time is quite phenomenal when you stop to think that before this season he hadn't run the hurdles since he was a senior in high school. How much work did he put on them before the first meet? Only 1 1/2 weeks.

Co-Captain Fred Wilke, defending Big Eight Indoor champ in the lows, said, "Nebraska's times are not indicative of what we can do. We have a slow track."

"Gale Sayers (Kansas) has a :06.2 mark and Knaub a :06.3 but I know Ray's faster. Look at the good times Colorado had, but we walked all over them."

Nebraska's other co-captain, Mike Fleming, was every bit as confident, but not as talkative. He said Nebraska's chances are good.

Mike will probably run the mile and 1000-yard event. He has not been beaten this year. What Mike wants is competition which he will get this weekend.

Senior Ray Stevens who is always a threat in any event he runs, said, "We're going to win. Everybody is pretty fit and ready to go. The boys are fairly well relaxed." Stevens will double in the mile and 880-yard run.

Another senior Bill Kenny said, "I think we're going to win. We have a better attitude than last year. It will be tough between us and Kansas though."

Most of the points for Nebraska will be garnered on the track. Harry Krebs in the high jump and Victor Brooks in the broad jump are two of the top men in their events in the conference.

KNUS Radio, 880 on the dial, will broadcast the Big Eight Track championships direct from Kansas City Saturday night. Air time is 7:55 p.m. Listen to the broadcast in the dorms and in the crib.

Kansas City is only 250 miles from Lincoln. This is only a 4-hour drive. Why not plan to go down and cheer the boys on to victory. I know they'd appreciate it. Ray Knaub told me as much.

NU To Get Last Glimpse Of Coach Bush Saturday

Nebraska's Cornhuskers will play their last home game for departing Coach Jerry Bush this Saturday night.

The Oklahoma Sooners will provide opposition for the Huskers who are presently 6-16 for the season and 1-10 in the Big Eight. Despite the fact that both squads are in the Big Eight second division, the games should provide fireworks.

Both of the teams' previous meetings were high-scoring encounters. Nebraska took the first game 93-86 in the Big Eight Tournament early in the season and the Sooners came back to top the Scarlet 84 to 77 at Norman two weeks ago.

Nebraska will have to contend with peppery Eddie Evans who led the Sooners over the Huskers with 22 points in the game at Norman.

The Huskers, however, with the abandon of a cellar dwelling team and a recent upturn against Oklahoma State, could very well top the Sooners in their season series.

Also, three seniors will be seeing their last home action of their careers. Ivan Grupe, Husker captain this year, will round out one of the best varsity records in Nebraska's history.

The Byron, Nebraska, product has been noted for his consistent floor play and excellent rebounding. Grupe and Charlie Jones are still battling for the team rebounding title.

Jan Wall, Northeast High graduate and Jim Hugel, an outstanding football end as well, are the remaining seniors seeing their last Coliseum action.
