

MMMMMM... NGH NGH... OOAUGH!

NE GAME—Dave Geisler, a member of FarmHouse, demonstrates "log-throwing", a new contest planned for this year's Spring Day on the College of Agriculture campus. Spring Day, 1963, is Friday, May 3.

Anthropology Prof Retires After 23 Years At University

Sigma Xi science honorary, Pi Mu Epsilon math honorary, Sigma Gamma Epsilon geology honorary, Alpha Kappa Delta sociology and anthropology honorary, all these, varied as they might seem, are held by the same man, Dr. John Champe, professor of anthropology.

Dr. Champe, who has been an instructor at the University since 1940, will be leaving at the end of this school year. He is 68 years old.

Born April 27, 1895 in Elwood, Dr. Champe lived in Hastings following his father's business endeavors.

He started to school in Hastings, but moved to Friend before the end of the year. He entered the fourth grade in Friend, skipping three

NU Students Receive Invitation For Pius X Trip

Interested University students may join Pius X High School students on a trip to the Truman Library in Independence, Mo.

A bus will leave Pius X at 6 a.m. Monday, April 15, for Independence. The whole trip, including noon meal, but not supper, will cost nine dollars.

The Truman Library will be the first stop after which the students will visit the Truman home. If the former president is there, he will speak to the students. The group will return to Lincoln that night.

Any who wish to join should call the Principal's office at Pius X.

years of school. He graduated from Friend High School in 1911 and entered the University in the college of engineering.

He remained in that college until he was called into the service with the first group in April 1917. He was a member of the first ROTC group organized at the University. He was commissioned a first lieutenant in the regular army and served at Ft. Snelling, Minnesota, training camp until he resigned in August, 1918.

Immediately after his release from the service, he returned to the University, enrolled in the college of Arts and Sciences where he was awarded a bachelor of arts degree in mathematics. With his father, he farmed wheat in western Nebraska until 1922.

Champe was a bond salesman for two years before going into the insurance business. He held various jobs with an insurance firm, until he was made vice-president and general manager. This post he held until 1938, when he decided to return to school for graduate work.

After two years of course work at Columbia University, he came to the University as an instructor in anthropology. In 1945 he returned to Columbia to take his exams and then received his Ph.D. in anthropology.

In 1953, when the department of anthropology was created at the University, Dr. Champe was the organizer and its first chairman. He held the post of chairman of the department until he reached age 65.

Two summers ago, Dr. Champe undertook a six week excursion to Guatemala, Honduras and eastern Mexico. While there he saw many of the Mayan ruin. The Mayans were probably the most influential tribe in central America previous to the advent of the Aztecs.

On this trip he also saw the city of Tikal, the "Athens of the Maya." It was here that much of the work was done on the Mayan calendar, which was perfected about 296 A.D.

The forests there are 125 feet tall, but the pyramids tower high above them, he said. "You get a beautiful view of the rain forests from the top of one of those pyramids," said Dr. Champe.

"We liked that trip so much," said Champe, "that during Christmas time we went to Yucatan in eastern Mexico. We saw Chi-chén Itza, a city of great archeological importance and Uxmal on this trip," he said.

Dr. Champe doesn't have any souvenirs. "I'm not a collector, I'm just an archeological tourist. All I brought back was a lot of memories and 1,700 slide pictures."

"I haven't the slightest idea what I'll do when I leave the University," he said. "There is a lot of writing that I've been putting off. I'll probably try to catch up on that."

Dr. Champe plans to remain in Lincoln. "This has been my home since 1918," he admitted, "my wife and I will just stay here."

Program Increases Privileges

AWS Investigates Plan For Seniors

Associated Women's Student Board (AWS) is investigating a program which would give a wider range of privileges to seniors, according to Sally Larson, president.

"We discussed this and other problems at an Intercollegiate AWS convention in Norman, Okla.," said Miss Larson. "We considered coed counselors and big-little sister programs."

Those attending the convention were Kathy Vollmer, Miss Larson, Nancy Holmquist, Elaine Anderson and Mrs. Marilyn Koehn.

"We are planning to have a state-wide A.W.S. meet at the University next fall," said the president. "We should encourage that all the state's governing board similar to ours."

The A.W.S. Board voted to change the structure of the organization which would divide the board into two areas—judicial and program.

"This would give us an opportunity to have more and better programs and to become known as something more than a governing board," said Miss Larson. "We hope to have programs concerning the academic and activity life of girls."

Applications Due

Applications for Young Republican executive offices are due today at 345 Student Union. There are no interviews, according to Steve Stastny.

Ag College Expansion Is Planned

Eldridge Describes Future Construction

The University of Nebraska is the envy of every other Ag College in the nation, Dr. F. E. Eldridge told Ag students yesterday. Speaking yesterday noon in the Ag Union, Eldridge, Director of Resident Instruction, outlined future hopes for expansion on Ag campus. He said that the irrigated field laboratory at Mead, the Child Development Lab near the Nebraska Center and co-operative experiments with the USDA's proposed program at Hastings, are all opportunities which are envied by the nation's other schools.

All of these projects are comparatively young, Eldridge said. The Child Development Lab is not yet teen-aged, and has already outgrown its home.

The Field Lab was born less than a year ago. The Hastings project is still in the prenatal stages.

But these comparative infants, said Eldridge, are healthy enough to attract envy—if not students and faculty—from many universities in the U.S.

And more expansion is planned, said Eldridge, pointing out at the same time that sophomore enrollment in Nebraska's high schools is almost only 19 fewer than their classes of '62 and '63 combined.

This indicates that freshman enrollment in Nebraska colleges, including the Ag College, could double in two years, the Director of Resident Instruction said.

Partly to keep up with this increased demand for education the Ag College is using nearly $700,000 a year, from a special levy, for building expansion, Eldridge said.

Top on the priority list is a building complex for the newly formed School of Home Economics.

Read Nebraskan Want Ads

Nebraskan Applauds

Steve Honey, was elected president of the State Student Education Association (SEA) at their spring convention last weekend at Chadron.

Fourteen University members of SEA and their sponsor Dr. Loren Bonneau attended the convention. Dr. Bonneau was chosen as state sponsor for SEA.

The theme of the conference was "Comparative Education," and foreign professors and instructors gave information on their respective educational systems.

Thirty University coeds have been selected for membership in Tasseis, announced Diane Armour, president.

They are Linda Cleveland, Merla Cook, Cheryl Crosier, Jan Cruikshank, Ellen Ender, Kathy Fliginger, Jackie Flick, Jamalee George.

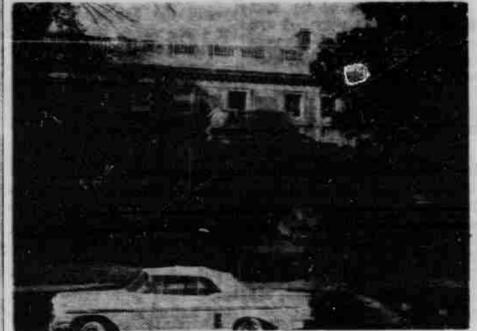

Becky Haas, Elizabeth Hecox, Linda High, Kathy Hobbs, Jean Holmquist, Kay Huffaker, Barb Husbands, Ingrid Korns, Ann Kotouc, Roberta Kriz, Georgia Merriam, Diane Michael.

Linda Muff, Rosalee Pleis, Mary Kay Rakow, Linda Schlechle, Tranda Schultz, Joann Smutny, Janell Quaring, Shirley Voss, Ruth Walker, Percy Wood.

Pledging will be at 5 p.m. in 235 Student Union, April 22.

New members of Eta Kappa Nu, national honorary electrical society: Jamil Ayoub, Tom Cobb, Loren Fairbanks, William Hurd, James Jorgenson, Patrick McDonald, Thomas Paska, Roger Nada, Denny Schwartz, William Trebelhorn, Theodore Von Kampen, John Wick and Khosrow Youssefi.

Old Admini ...

Topples!

TRADITION BECOMES DUST—The Old Administration Hall became rubble as men and machines battered down the walls. The building was razed to make way for the new Sheldon Art Gallery.

Campus Calendar

TODAY

YOUNG REPUBLICANS, 7 p.m., south party room, Student Union.

KNUS 880 CLUB 7 p.m., Temple Building.

PI LAMBDA THETA and Phi Delta Kappa Banquet, 6 p.m., Pan American room, Student Union.

PHI BETA KAPPA, Sigma Xi Banquet, 6:30 p.m., Student Union.

MUSIC SYMPOSIUM, 8 p.m., Student Union.

BLOCK AND BRIDLE, meeting, 7 p.m., Ag Union.

TOMORROW

INDIA ASSOCIATION, 8 p.m., south party room, Student Union.

Lutheran Choir Sings New Work

The 45-voice Lutheran Student Foundation choir gave the first performance of "Communion Service," a major original work by University graduate student, Robert Nelson.

Nelson was graduated with high distinction at mid-year. Last year he received a Vreeland award for another composition, "Woodwind Quintet."

WANT ADS

FOR SALE

One set each of Air Force and Army Officers' Uniforms size 30 long. Good condition. Cheap. Call 466-0963 after 2:00 p.m.

1959 Chevrolet, motor just overhauled. Call after 8:00, HE2-9523.

FOR RENT

Rent now and have used 2 bedroom furnished apartment for fall. Lovely view of Lincoln. Near University. 422-8221.

FOUND

Watch found in Burnett Hall, Mar. 28. Inquire 230 Burnett.

Man's dark plaid trench coat in Union on April 5. Call 643-2893.

HELP WANTED—MALE

Camp Counselor and wrangler, 18 years or older. Water-front director, 21 years or older. YMCA Camp Kilaui, 9 or 12 weeks employment. 489-3278.

LOST

On campus, pair boys brown frame glasses. Reward $1.00. 486-2365.

HELP WANTED—WOMEN

Registered nurse, YMCA Camp Kilaui, July 7-August 17. One week or 4 weeks. 489-3278.

THIS SPACE COULD BE YOUR AD

IF INTERESTED, CONTACT

DAILY NEBRASKAN BUSINESS STAFF

- BILL GUNLICKS, GR 7-9111
- BOB CUNNINGHAM, HE 5-2807
- PETE LAGE, HE 2-4228

Daily Nebraskan

THE PLACE for young juniors

SHOP THURSDAY 10 TO 9 — DAILY 9:30 TO 5:30

"MISS STACY" SUNSTERS

by COUNTRY SET Exclusively Miller's!

White stripe navy Helanca shirt, small, medium, large, 7.98; perfect fit poplin Jamaicas, red or navy, sizes 5 to 13, 7.98. Not sketched: Slim navy skirt, 8.98; white jacket, 14.98; slim white pants, 11.98.

THE PLACE — MILLER'S SECOND FLOOR

Miller & Paine