CAMPUS

NEBRASKAN TRACKSTERS SCORED a four-mile relay victory at the Texas relays held last weekend. The quartet composed of Mauro Altizio, John Portee, Ray Stevens and Mike Fleming ran the event in 17:10.3.

Two other Husker relay teams that were entered also placed. The 440-yard relay team placed third in :41.7. Fred Wilke, Steve Pfister, Kent McCloughan and Ray Knab ran the event. The other relay team, the two mile relay placed fifth in 7:30.0. The quartet was composed of Bill Kenny, Clarence Scott, Jim Wendt, and Ray Stevens.

In other Husker action over the weekend, the baseballers turned in a two game sweep of the K-State Wildcats in the opening doubleheader, 6-1, 6-2, and then fell to the Wildcats on Saturday, 9-2. Ron Havecot and Jan Wall posted the twin bill victories while Keith Seick was charged with the loss.

The tennis squad won a victory over the Creighton team, posting an 8-1 victory with the aid of senior Dave Wohlfarth. The golf team also posted a victory over the Creighton squad Tuesday afternoon, 15-3 at the Miracle Hill golf course. Frank Scheider posted the low score, 68, for medalist honors.

THE HUSKER FOOTBALL TEAM opened spring drills last Friday as 100 players reported out for the drills. Two more were added Monday when Kent McCloughan and Ron Michka joined the squad after playing baseball and track over the weekend.

The big question to coach Bob Devaney is finding a second unit comparable to his first unit. First game-time scrimmage will be held Saturday morning with the squad going full tilt.

FORMER HUSKER WRESTLER, Dan Brand, won his weight class in the freestyle wrestling championships in the National AAU meet. Brand, wrestling for the San Francisco Olympic Club, won the 213 1/2 pound division title and also the title for outstanding wrestler in free style and Greco-Roman. He scored five falls, the most in the meet.

BIG EIGHT

OKLAHOMA AND COLORADO are tied for the Big Eight baseball lead while pre-season favorites Missouri and Oklahoma State are in second and fourth places respectively.

Oklahoma and Colorado jumped to a 3-0 Big Eight lead with victories over Kansas University and Iowa State. The two pre-season favorites, Missouri and Oklahoma State, met each other head-on with Missouri taking two out of three. Nebraska is tied for second place with Missouri, both possessing 2-1 records.

OKLAHOMA, BIG EIGHT FOOTBALL champs, are well on their way through spring training and in the latest scrimmages, the backfield is being quarterbacked by freshmen on the top three teams. Injured Tommy Pannell led the fourth string. The Oklahoma squad returned 18 out of 25 lettermen and had six of the starting lineup back, including fullback Jim Grisham and right halfback Virgil Boil.

The Sooners have 28 returning lettermen, who will conclude spring practice in the annual varsity-alumni game to be held April 20.

NATIONAL

YOUNG JACK NICKLAUS won the Master's Golf Tournament Sunday to become the youngest golfer ever to win the tourney at the age of 23. He shot a final round of 72 for a 286 series, highest winning score in seven years.

He won the tournament by standing off Tony Lema and Sam Snead. Lema placed second with a 287 and Snead wound up in third place with a 288.

IN AMATEUR BOXING, a 20 year old Army Pfc. was killed by a 18 year old high school student, Earl Johnson. Francesco Valesquez, stationed with the One Hundred Twenty-eighth Signal Company, was killed in an amateur boxing match sponsored by "friends of boxing."

An autopsy revealed that one punch killed Valesquez when he was struck high on the left cheek just before the bell at the end of the second round.

Van Velkinburgh Finishes High At National Meet

Keith Van Velkinburgh, a 20 year old University of Nebraska junior, was one of 55 finalists, from an original field of more than 11,000, who competed in the 1963 National Intercollegiate Bowling Championships in Buffalo.

Van Velkinburgh, a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, is an economics major from Richland, Nebraska. He finished 12th in singles, 12th in doubles, and 14th in all events competition.

The 1963 National Intercollegiate Bowling Championships were held on the same lanes being used by the American Bowling Congress for its 60th Annual Tournament, at the State Armory in Buffalo, New York. The Annual College Tournament is sponsored jointly by the Association of College Unions, American Bowling Congress and American Machine & Foundry Company.

The 55 finalists represented the best male college bowlers from 160 campuses in the United States and Canada. More than 11,000 students from 11 regions entered preliminary competition for a chance at the national finals. More than a quarter million games were bowled by all participants throughout the four-month tournament at college, regional and national level.

Competition in the finals was in singles, doubles and all-events competition. At stake in the all-events competition was the Morehead Patterson Award, presented to the student compiling the highest all-events total in the tournament.

Winner of the 1963 award was Ted Akin, a sophomore at Arlington State College, in Arlington, Texas, who compiled an all events total of 1815 through nine games in the 1963 tournament.

In addition to a trip to the championships in Buffalo, each finalist received a custom fitted Amflite bowling ball from AMF.

A number of records were broken on the AMF-tournament lanes, including a team game of 1124 by the winning Region Seven team. The game is the second highest scored in any division at the ABC tournament this year.

High game by any contestant was 269 by Jim Anderson of North Dakota State University, who also had the tournament's top series, 677. Anderson finished second in doubles and third in all events.

In the regional tabulation of the top scores rolled to qualify for the finals, Van Velkinburgh finished third in all-events with a 1841 total for the nine games. Bob Gant of Nebraska placed third in the singles competition with a 656 series.

The University of Nebraska team placed seventh in the nation-wide competition. The Husker team is now preparing for the Big Eight Tournament at Kansas on April 27.

Golfers Tour Iowa, Kansas On Road Trip

University of Nebraska golf team will take on a rugged week-long tour through Iowa and Kansas.

Coach Harry Good's charges will meet Iowa State at Ames Monday, Drake at Des Moines, Tuesday, and Washburn at Topeka on Wednesday.

A practice session Thursday will provide a "breather" before the Scarlet linksters face Kansas, Kansas State and Oklahoma in two quadrangulares at Lawrence Friday and Manhattan Saturday.

Good feels the quadrangulares against the three conference teams will be the toughest test of the golfers' spring trip.

The five-man Nebraska team will include: No. 1—Frank Schreiner, 2—Tom Thomsen, 3—Bill Gunlicks, 4—Ed Romjue and 5—either Fred Sukup or Jack Vondrak. Gunlicks and Sukup are the only lettermen while Romjue and Thomsen are sophomores.

Husker Tennis Schedule Change

Coach Ed Higginbotham indicated some changes in Nebraska's tennis schedule of 1963.

The Husker netters will meet Emporia State Teachers College at Emporia Friday instead of Wichita as originally scheduled. Nebraska will play Wichita Thursday, April 18 at Wichita. Higginbotham announced.

Other changes include the cancellation of a tentative match with Colorado and the addition of a North Dakota State match in Lincoln on May 14.

1. According to the Department of Labor, you're worth over $350,000 as soon as you get your sheepskin. That's theoretical, of course.

I didn't even know the Department was thinking about me.

2. The way they figure it, that $350,000 is how much the average college graduate will earn by the time he retires.

I'll take it right now in a lump sum. Would I live! Penthouse. Yacht. Hamburg. The works.

3. As an Eco major, I feel obliged to tell you what would happen to that bundle. First, Uncle Sam would help himself to about 290 Gs. With the going rate for penthouses, your life's earnings would disappear in one year.

You've ruined my day.

I never could handle money.

5. Fortunately, there's a way out for you.

Tell me—tell me.

Well, you won't be getting all that money in one year. You'll be getting some of it each year, at a much lower tax rate. What you should do is put aside a certain amount of it.

Nebraska Football Squad Holds First 1963 Practice Scrimmage

Nebraska's spring football candidates got their first taste of combat Wednesday afternoon as they battled for nearly 3 hours.

Coach Bob Devaney tested various units on a soggy practice field and there were impressive players on both the veterans squad and the up-and-coming sophomore crop. The number one unit was led by senior Dennis Claridge.

Claridge led a team composed of last year's squad and freshman quarterback, Henry Woods, led the No. two unit.

The No. one unit got off to a slow start because of the fine defensive work turned in by Woods. But it finally picked up with drives by fullback Gene Young and right halfback Rudy Johnson. Then

Claridge followed with a long pass to Larry Tomlinson for 80-yards and followed that with a 30 yard toss to Johnson.

Then the No. one unit shifted to defense and before they settled down Joe McNulty, a varsity reserve last season, ploughed the middle for 35 yards.

Standouts on defense were Bobby Hohn, a reserve halfback last fall and Henry Woods.

Husker lineups according to quarterbacks:

Dennis Claridge—Larry Tomlinson and Dick Callahan, ends; Larry Kramer and Lloyd Voss, tackles; Bob Brown and John Kirby, guards; Jim Baffico and Ron Michka, centers; Willie Ross, Rudy Johnson and Kent McCloughan, halfbacks; Gene Young, fullbacks.

Don Tucker—Pat Fischer and Chuck Doopke, ends; Bob Jones and Monte Kiffin, tackles; John Dervin and Don McDermott, guards; Lyle Sittler, center; Dave Theisen, Willie Paschall and John Sabaatana, halfbacks; Maynard Smith, fullback.

Henry Wood—John Koinzan and Rick Myslinski, ends; Ron Griese and Louis Dillard, guards; Duncan Drum, center; John Vucovich and Bob Rohn, halfbacks; Joe McNulty and Bruce Smith, fullbacks; tackle; LaVerne Allen, Dale Bradley and Bob Peterson, guards; Larry Krause and Bob Sizman, centers; Rod Prans, halfback; Bernie McGinn, fullback.
