

Husker Depth Tells Again; ISU Falls In Second Half

A battle of many good big men and not so many little good men resulted in a triumph for the big men as Nebraska eventually conquered Iowa State, 21 to 7, Saturday at the Husker Memorial Stadium.

Iowa State's remarkably stout defense and one Cyclone surprise left the proud Cornhuskers with a 7-7 tie at intermission in a Big Eight contest played on 93 degree weather.

Neither offense could generate a scoring drive in the unseasonable heat, but Nebraska used a Cyclone fumble to jump to a 7-0 lead midway in the first quarter. Dennis Claridge, continuing his punting pace of the early season, put the visitors in the hole with a 53 yard kick to the State 11 yard line. All-America prospect Tommy Vaughn made one of his infrequent miscues and dropped a Ken Bunte lateral at his own 10 yard stripe.

Husker end Dick Callahan alertly smothered Vaughn's bobble and the touchdown door was open. The big bite on the way in was eight yards on Claridge's patented sweep. Dave Theisen hammered for one more yard and starter Bob Hohn knifed over right tackle for pay dirt. Rudy Johnson booted his seventh straight placement of the season and the Scarlet lead 7-0 with 7:54 left in the first quarter.

Clay Stapleton's crew dominated the rest of the first half after Nebraska's fortunate score with a consistent offense. Cyclone backs Mike Cox, Ernie Kennedy, and Vaughn provided the punch as the Huskers handled only 26 plays to State's 40 in the first half. Fans just about conceded that Nebraska would head for the dressing room with a lucky seven point lead when the Cyclones pulled their surprise.

The Iowa State team seemed stalled in their own territory with a third and twenty-four situation and former Omahan Steve Balkovec dropped back to punt. A startled Husker defense then watched as the short snap went to speedy Dave Hoover. The 183 pound senior quarterback weaved his way through a dumfounded defense 70 yards to score. Versatile Dick Limerick kicked the extra point for the Iowans with 4:47 left.

Nebraska quickly marched 23 yards to their 44 after the kick-off, but with time running out, Claridge was dumped behind the line twice attempting the long pass before intermission.

Penalties and poor Husker pass defense aided the Cyclone first half showing. Nebraska was penalized 86 yards in the first half.

Many of these infractions occurred due to eager linemen and personal fouls. Claridge was dropped behind the line three times for a total loss of 23 yards and was hampered on other patterns because of the Iowa State rushing.

Nebraska was a different ball club in the second half. The Huskers looked like their advanced billing as they drove 84 yards for the go-ahead touchdown. Claridge again sparked the drive with a twisting 30 yard scamper through the Cyclone secondary. Willie Ross, who bettered his last week's total with 95 yards, gained 26 yards on four carries during the drive.

The Husker comeback was similar to the Minnesota game with the Scarlet defense limiting the Ames backs to 42 yards on the ground in the second half. Nebraska penetrated deep in Iowa State territory two more times, capitalizing once. The first threat ended on the Cyclone's 11 yard line when Dave Theisen's field goal attempt was wide.

Moments later Husker half-back Kent McCloy showed old form, running 36 yards to the opposition's three yard stripe and Claridge punched the score over with 10:20 left in the game. Ross garnered his first Husker points by running the two

Drake, ISU, Defeat NU's Cross Country

Sweeping the first three places, Drake easily outran Nebraska and Iowa State in Friday's opening cross country run at Des Moines, Ia. A low score of 18 won for Drake while Iowa State had 56 and Nebraska 62.

Husker runner Peter Scott, making his varsity debut, was Nebraska's highest place man as he captured sixth in a time of 16:45. Larry Toothaker placed eighth and Stuart Tucker was thirteenth. Jack Kragie of Drake placed first in the three mile race with a time of 16:16.1.

Coach Frank Sevigne took a squad of seven harriers which included the last minute addition of senior Gil Gebro and sophomore Dave Crook. Senior John Portee, who did not run Friday, is temporarily sidelined with a foot injury.

Coach Sevigne has announced that Mauro Altizio, a junior distance runner last year, is scholastically ineligible to compete this year.

SMU Beats Air Force

A bruising defense by Southern Methodist University broke a six-game losing streak over the last two years and knocked the Air Force Academy from the ranks of the unbeaten.

Air Force is Nebraska's next foe.

Quarterback Danny Thomas's passing and John Richey's kicking provided much of the Mustang offensive punch, starting with a 26-yard field goal by Richey in the first period after SMU recovered a fumble.

Another Falcon fumble in the second period began the SMU touchdown drive, with Thomas passing for 49 of the 68 yards.

Terry Isaacson, Air Force's star passer, was relatively ineffective as the Falcons completed only 8 of 24 passes for 86 yards. The most serious Air Force threat ended abruptly in the second period when Tommy Caughran intercepted an Isaacson pass and ran it back 70 yards.

SMU's touchdown was by John Roderick, a 94 second hundred track man who came out for football only this year. He made a two-yard run, and Richey kicked the extra point.

FOURTH DOWN SUCCESS—Dennis Claridge starts to cut back of two confused Cyclone defenders for Nebraska's second touchdown Saturday. Claridge rambled four yards on this play from a fourth down situation. Rudy Johnson provides last-minute interference.

Kansas Falter Against Wyoming, As Colorado Takes Big 8 Opener

All conference games went as expected, although favored Kansas had to overcome a 21 to 7 lead to finally subdue Wyoming 25 to 21. After games with Northwestern and Arkansas, Missouri closed its non-conference schedule with an expected 24 to 0 breather over Idaho.

Colorado rolled up 26 first downs and 371 rushing yards to defeat hapless Kansas State 21 to 7 in a battle of the Big Eight cellarmates. Oklahoma State, which opened the season with a 21 to 0 loss to Southwestern Conference co-favorite Arkansas, played the other favorite, Texas, and saw little difference. Texas won 34 to 7.

Oklahoma, rated number one in the nation, had an open date.

The Jayhawks had to score 12 points in the fourth period to win the game. Kansas guard Greg Roth intercepted a pass and ran it back 20 yards for a touchdown to start the fourth-quarter rally.

The touchdown stopped the Cowboy momentum, which had carried them to a 21 to 7 lead in the third period. Kansas scored another touchdown on a 64-yard march in 13 plays and allowed Wyoming just nine running plays after the Roth touchdown.

Apparently remembering 1961 when Bob Devaney's Wyoming team tied a powerful Kansas eleven 6 to 6, the Jayhawks went for broke on their final winning touchdown.

With fourth down and seven to go on the Wyoming 47,

Tony Leiker faked a punt and lobbed a screen pass to Gale Sayers, who sprinted to the 28. Eight plays and a fifteen-yard penalty later fullback Armand Baughman plunged over from the one with the winning tally.

Missouri marched 75 yards with the opening kickoff and continued to dominate the game. Idaho did not pass the Tiger 21 until late in the last period against Missouri reserves.

Gary Lane quarterbacked Missouri on its two long scoring marches in the first half. Monroe Phelps and Carl Reese, also sophomores, got much of the yardage. Phelps scored first on a three-yard run, and Lane completed the 79-yard march with an eight-yard pass to Jim Waller, another sophomore, for the second score.

Bill Leistritz kicked three extra points and a 36-yard field goal. Second-string quarterback Mike Jones ran around right end for 13 yards and the third Missouri touchdown in the third period.

Colorado's speedy Bill Harris scored all three Colorado touchdowns in the first win for Colorado's coach Eddie Crowder.

Harris, a 198 pound senior halfback from Hackensack, N. J., carried 19 times for 103 yards. He bulled over twice from short yardage in the third quarter and ran 46 yards for the last touchdown in the fourth period.

Ed Daniele, Wildcat sophomore quarterback, led Kansas State 80 yards in nine plays for the initial touchdown in the first period. Kansas State stopped four Colorado scoring threats in the first half and led 7 to 0 at half-time.

Texas, ranked third in the country and mindful of this week's game with top-ranked Oklahoma, warmed up with a 34 to 7 pasting of Oklahoma State.

Texas found itself behind for the first time this season when the Cowboys scored their touchdown in the first period.

Oklahoma coach Bud Wilkinson was an interested spectator. Oklahoma, which was idle, plays Texas Saturday at Dallas's Cotton Bowl. Texas has defeated the powerful Sooners for four straight years.

Solich Hardship Try Is Denied By Big 8

Five conference athletes have been granted another year of eligibility under the hardship rule. Nebraska's Frank Solich was not one of them.

Solich, the 157-pound sophomore halfback and kick return specialist, was injured in the Minnesota game, and conference rules state that a man can be "red-shirted" (so-called because a few schools, like Mississippi, hold out quite a few boys, for a year but let them practice with the team while wearing red jerseys to distinguish them from that year's team) only if he is hurt in the first game of the season.

Nebraska hoped to hold Solich out because the first two games were non-conference tilts.

Many athletes (and other students) take five years to complete their schooling, so "red-shirting" does not usually rob an athlete of a year of play.

Athletes allowed another year are: Robert Case and Richard Lindgren, Iowa State baseball players; Carroll Cape, Missouri track man; James Estes, Missouri baseball player; and Jimmie Fields, Oklahoma sophomore end.

Three Nebraska football players who were out last year were ruled eligible this year. They are Duncan Drum, Maynard Smidt, and John Strohmeier.

The Big Eight faculty representatives, in their quarterly meeting Friday, also set the dates for the pre-season basketball tournament, indoor track meet and wrestling meet.

The basketball tournament will be at Kansas City Municipal Auditorium as usual on December 26, 27, 28, and 30.

The indoor meet will be held at the same location February 28 and 29. The wrestling meet, at Oklahoma State (Stillwater, Oklahoma), has been set for March 13 and 14 rather than March 6 and 7.

1. What's the matter, no appetite?

I have more important things to think of than food.

2. Worried about exams, huh?

No, about getting old.

3. You're kidding?

Not at all. I've reached a milestone today. I'm 21. The days of my youth have flown.

4. You should be celebrating not brooding.

The age of responsibility is upon me.

5. How come you're not a member of the Drama Club?

Already my father's talking about my being "self-supporting." I see responsibilities all around me — wife, children, lawn, leaves.

6. Relax. You can let Living Insurance from Equitable take care of responsibilities. It can provide for your family, your mortgage, the kids' education ... even build a sizable retirement fund for you.

Say, this is good spaghetti.
