Poet Sanchez Lauds State

A summer assignment at the University of Nebraska has yielded an unexpected compliment from one of the ranking poets of Mexico, Ernesto Mejia Sanchez.

The Sept. 25 edition of "Siempre," widely-read Mexican weekly magazine, carries 12 poems by Sanchez under the general title of "Nebraska Notebook." In them he compares Nebraskan and Mexican terrain, sunshine, and air along with musings about learning and family life.

During the University of Nebraska summer session, Dr. Sanchez served as a visiting professor of Latin American culture on the staff of the National Defense Education Act institute for teacher training.

Dr. Roberto Esquenazi-Mayo, University staff member who directed the institute, says "Siempre" seldom features poetry.

Peace Foundation President To Talk Here Wednesday

William Plymat, president of the World Peace Broadcasting Foundation, will speak Wednesday at 11 a.m. at the Love Library Auditorium. The program is sponsored by the Nebraska International Association (NIA).

He will speak on the role of University students in improving racial relations.

Plymat, an accomplished man in civic, cultural, and business activities, was chairman of the Des Moines Interracial Commission which sought to bring harmony between colored and white in Des Moines. Last year he was Chairman of Iowans Against the Death Penalty, a group which sought to get the death penalty removed from the law.

He has been president of the University Club of Des Moines, chairman of the Institute of Scientific Studies on the Prevention of Alcoholism, and treasurer of a national youth organization, the Allied youth.

Plymat obtained his law degree from the University of Minnesota in 1936, and began his career practicing law in Des Moines. Later, he entered the insurance field and became vice-president of a large casualty company.

In 1947, he organized Preferred Risk Mutual Insurance Company which was the first Des Moines insurance company to adopt a policy of fair employment practice. This resulted in the employment of a number of negroes, including the head of their accounting department.

As president of the World Peace Broadcasting Foundation he has been responsible for hundreds of radio broadcasts on peace.
