

West German Ag Expert To Speak Here Monday

Agricultural problems in communist East Germany will be described here, Monday, by a man who is in intimate touch with the situation.

Dr. Peter Friedheim, manager of the Farmers Association of West Berlin, will address a seminar on Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the Dairy Industry building auditorium at the College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

According to Dr. Howard Ottosen, chairman of the department of agricultural economics at the University, Dr. Friedheim's address will be of interest to anyone concerned with foreign affairs or communist problems.

Dr. Friedheim managed eight "people's owned farms" near Brandenburg, East Germany from 1945 to 1949. From 1949-51 he was manager of a division of the Agricultural Society of East Berlin. After the Communist Academy of Agriculture took over in 1951, Dr. Friedheim declined to join and instead migrated to West Berlin.

Cassini Talks To YM-YW At Fall Camp

The District Fall Conference of the YWCA and YMCA will be held at Camp Brewster in Omaha, today and tomorrow.

Registration for the Conference will be held from 6 to 7 p.m. today, and the Conference will end at 4:30 p.m. on Saturday.

The cost per person is $3.50 which covers food and lodging. For those who can attend only the Friday session the cost is $1.00.

Participants are advised to bring a bed roll, warm clothes, a towel, flashlight, and writing material.

Dr. Cassini, Professor of Sociology at Nebraska Wesleyan will be the main speaker. There will also be separate discussion groups under leaders who are members of the District Planning Committee.

The theme of this year's conference is "What is the Power of the Student on Campus." All students are welcome to attend.

Humor Seen In College Papers

College newspapers have their "lighter side," which gleams with a special brand of humor seldom seen in newspapers on the "outside."

The Iowa State Daily, for instance, presents a "Fink of the Week" award as a form of "gentle criticism" to a person chosen by the editors. Anyone on the faculty or the student body is invited to nominate his favorite "Fink" in hopes of seeing justice done — proving that excellence and leadership are even recognized in Finks.

Bob Nolte, writing in the Missouri Moneater, says that President Kennedy's proclamation exempting married men from the draft has put many young men in a position of having to choose between two years in the Army or sixty years of marriage. A "boom" is expected in college romances, pinnings and engagements.

Iowa State fraternities have developed a new sign of prosperity, says the Iowa State Daily. The latest status symbol appearing on campus is the old fire truck.

The Daily commented that perhaps an IFC presidential candidate could run on the slogan "A pledge in every closet and a firetruck in every parking lot" (with apologies to Herbert Hoover)."

The Daily Kansan reports that the official uniforms for seniors this year are black sweatshirts with three and one half inch white buttons and a '64 class identification marked on the front.

The Kansan added that this practice pointed out at least one difference between the state's educational institution when they arrive but students must wait until they have been there four years. oners receive their stripes

"Dear God . . ."

When Grandmother was a girl, prayer was no stranger to her. She learned early to turn her thoughts to God and to ask Him for courage and for guidance.

The country was younger then. Men were still probing physical horizons in search of a better life for their families. Their quest took them to the sea in ships, or along the danger-filled trails to the West. Sometimes the women shared their peril. Other times, they stayed at home and waited, and that was even harder. But whichever their course, they prayed.

Our horizons are different today, and our lives filled with less danger. But we need prayer just as much — if not more — than we did in Grandmother's day.

Remember that prayer is our greatest source of strength. If the habit of prayer has become unfamiliar to you, start rediscovering it by attending church services regularly.
