1962 TIGER TROUBLE—Dennis Claridge fumbles then gropes for the ball last year against Missouri at Lincoln. The fumble, one three the Huskers lost, was typical of the Homecoming game last year—Nebraska couldn't do one thing right. Claridge and most of his mates are back this year to avenge the Tiger loss next Saturday.

Even the word Missouri around campus triggers many a cringe or frown. For it was just last year on Homecoming, on television, on Memorial Stadium turf that the Tigers humiliated Nebraska.

The score was 16 to 7.

It was especially disheartening because the Huskers had strung six straight before the Tigers' invasion. This fact, in itself, had instilled a certain pride in Husker fans and players alike. After years of mediocrity, winning was a charming habit. The Missouri loss destroyed that habitual pride much quicker than it had been built.

Kansas helped Nebraskans forget somewhat, just as Colorado has lifted us from the Air Force loss this year . . . And the pride is very much alive and vibrant.

The Missouri Memory is also very much alive. But one will overcome the other—one can aid defeat, the other victory.

Dennis Claridge can't forget the hard-charging Tiger lineman; Willie Ross won't forget that tough pursuit; Dave Theisen probably doesn't want to remember that fatal fumble; the whole darn team that saw Missouri action last year won't forget. That's just it.

This year it's going to be different. I would venture to say that this is the game the Huskers have been waiting for. They are literally, "up for the game."

It was back in 1956 when Nebraska last beat Missouri, 15 to 14. It's going to happen again in 1963. Make it NEBRASKA 14, MISSOURI 0. Missouri's Homecoming, by the way.

Charlie Roach, President of the Extra Point Club has a worthwhile suggestion for Nebraska students. Red is the word.

Living units who have pushed red apparel and hats at Nebraska games have indicated a real spirit. The sight from the press box at Minnesota and at Kansas State (away games) was real impressive. One Minneapolis scribe said he had never seen so many visiting fans in the Gopher's stadium. Red color was sprinkled liberally through five sections of seats.

Word has it that Coach Devaney gives the idea his full support. Missouri is your chance to show off Nebraska's Big Red in a big way. You know, the red suit, the red tie, the red socks, the red hat, the red . . .

This week's Star of the Week pick was more difficult than usual with the Colorado game showing the best team effort to date. Bob Brown was chosen for his game saving plays, but indeed there were others. John Dervin played one of the best defensive games for a Husker this year with five unassisted and three assisted tackles. Back Dave Theisen, Bob Hohn and Maynard Smidt all ran well. Who is to say?

With new courage and seventy percent again last week: Oklahoma with early trouble over Colorado; Iowa State tromping Oklahoma State; Kansas makes the rivalry look silly with K-State; LSU to edge Mississippi; Auburn by a point over Florida; Georgia Tech second straight over Duke; Wisconsin and Michigan State in a tie (you can't win on these); my favorite Navy over another sentimental favorite Notre Dame; Air Force over strengthening Army; Pitt to surprise Syracuse; Southern Cal over Washington; Baylor over TCU; Texas not too easy over SMU; Ohio State over faltering Iowa; Minnesota over Indiana; California over UCLA; and Illinois over Purdue in a thriller.

Favored NU Hopes To End Tiger Wins

For seven long years Nebraska has not been able to beat the Missouri Tigers in a grid contest. Back in 1956 the Husker squad, then under Coach Pete Elliott, pulled out a 15-14 win.

Last year's 7-16 Homecoming loss represented the first time Nebraska has even scored in those years.

According to Cornhusker Coach Bob Devaney, Missouri's offensive attack presents even more problems than that of a year ago.

Last year Missouri didn't have a passing attack; now they have a good passer in quarterback Gary Lane.

The Tiger signal-caller has gained more yards in total offense than any Husker back. He ranks fifth in the conference with 487 yards. He has hit 29 of 59 passes for 337 yards and has run for 150 yards in 64 carries.

Nebraska's Dennis Claridge is right behind Lane, however, with 460 yards total offense. Claridge has passed for 345 yards and has gained 15 yards rushing.

Devaney compares Lane to Air Force's slippery signal-caller, Terry Isaacson. "He presents every bit as much of a problem to defend against," said the NU mentor.

The Husker coach feels that the loss of Monroe Phelps early in the Iowa State-Missouri tilt definitely hurt the Tiger offense but cautions that Missouri has had all week to build up an offense without Phelps for this Saturday's clash.

"They have Phelps out but we have three key players who are doubtful," Devaney noted.

The status of halfback Willie Ross, tackle Monte Kiffin, and center Lyle Sittler still remains doubtful.

Kent McCloughan is continuing to run from both half-back positions in case Ross is not ready. Devaney said he was pleased with Dave Theisen's running at left half against Colorado, but that due to Theisen's problems with leg cramps the past two years he hesitates to depend on him entirely.

Devaney reported that Frank Solich, NU's punt and kick-off return specialist who was injured in the Minnesota game will not travel to Missouri.

Clean IM Record By Betas Leads

Beta Theta Pi's "A" intramural football team keeps its hold on first place in Fraternity League 1-A with a 15 to 6 victory over Sigma Chi Tuesday.

Through Tuesday's games the Betas have the top University record of 5 and 0.

Beta Theta Pi took a 6 to 0 halftime lead when Bob Kvaal caught a touchdown pass from Bruce Brandt. Early in the third period Brandt tackled a Sigma Chi in the end zone for a safety.

Early in the last period Steve Olson, who played a fine defensive game despite the Sigma Chi loss, caught a pass from Denny Barger for a touchdown. The Betas then scored again late in the period on a long Dick Rademacher pass to Brandt.

Intramural Results:

Beta Theta Pi-A 15	Sigma Chi-A 6
Phi Kappa Psi-A 33	Mistifs 7
Phi Delta Theta-A 20	Theta Xi-A 18
Phi Epsilon Kappa 28	Nueman Club 0

1. Now that I'm a senior I have to start thinking about my future. Will you marry me?
Will you be able to give me all the things I crave—like pizza pie and chow mein?

2. I've lined up a terrific job. There's a choice of training programs, good starting salary, challenging work, and the chance to move up. That's Equitable.
I agree—but what's the company's name?

3. Equitable—it's Equitable.
It certainly is. It's also fair, square, and just. But I would still like to know the name of the company.

4. We're not communicating. I keep telling you it's Equitable—and you keep asking what's the name.
I keep agreeing your job sounds good. But you stubbornly refuse to tell me who you're going to work for.

5. Can it be you never listen to my words? Is it possible that what I thought was a real relationship was but a romantic fantasy?
Is it conceivable that what I took to be a solid foundation was just a house of cards? That what I thought was a bright flame was merely an emotional flicker?

6. I'd hate to lose you, but at least I'll still have my job with Equitable—The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States.
Oh, The Equitable. Why didn't you say so? We'll have a June wedding.

Does a man really take unfair advantage of women when he uses Mennen Skin Bracer?

All depends on why he uses it. Most men simply think Menthol-Iced Skin Bracer is the best after-shave lotion around. Because it cools rather than burns. Because it helps heal shaving nicks and scrapes. Because it helps prevent blemishes. So who can blame them if Bracer's crisp, long-lasting aroma just happens to affect women so remarkably? Of course, some men may use Mennen Skin Bracer because of this effect. How intelligent!
