

OU Struggles To Tiger Win

A bruising Oklahoma Sooners defense contained Missouri 13 to 3 Saturday at Columbia, knocking the Tigers out of conference title contention and leaving Oklahoma with a clean slate for the championship battle with Nebraska.

Outgaining the fired-up Tigers by only five yards as each team made 15 first downs, the Sooners intercepted three passes and recovered three fumbles to repeatedly stop Missouri drives.

The only sustained drive was Oklahoma's 68-yard march in 12 plays, culminating in the second touchdown with 33 seconds left in the game. The drive was entirely on the ground, with fullback Larry Brown gaining big yardage. Oklahoma completed only three of eleven passes in the game for 28 yards.

Oklahoma never trailed as sophomore halfback Larry Shields took a Daryl Krugman punt on the Sooner 35 and sprinted 65 yards down the sideline for the touchdown. Shields also scored the second touchdown on an end run on a fourth and two situation.

With 3:41 remaining in the first half, Missouri (Bill Leistritz) kicked a 43-yard field goal, making the score 6 to 3 as George Jarman, who had missed only one conversion attempt for Oklahoma this year had missed his second.

Missouri threatened again in the first half but lost a fumble at the Sooner seven with 1:51 left. Oklahoma ran out the clock on the ground.

Sophomore quarterback Gary Lane was Missouri's only offensive threat, and the tenacious Oklahoma pass defense kept Lane's receivers reasonably well-covered. Lane did complete 10 of 25 passes for 139 yards.

Two of the three intercepted passes were by Shields. Both came when Lane had the wind at his back in the final period.

Except for straight smashes by injury-hampered fullback Jim Grisham and end sweeps by Shields, Oklahoma could not rush with its characteristic ease against Missouri. Oklahoma rushed for 229 yards, compared to 299 for Nebraska against Missouri. Of course, Nebraska rushed for only 208 yards against an Oklahoma State team that has won only one game.

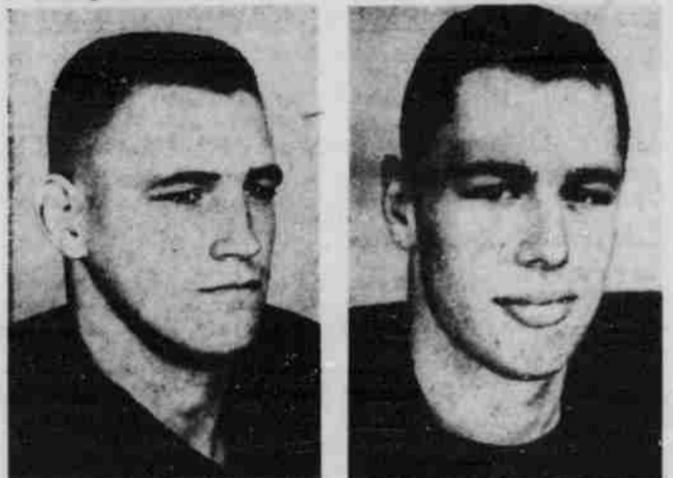

Oklahoma has now won 16 straight conference games. After the Nebraska battle Saturday, the Sooners finish up with Oklahoma State at Norman.

Although the Big Red of Oklahoma may be favored over the Big Red of Nebraska due to the poor performance of the latter against Oklahoma State, the Sooners were severely battered in their win, as was Nebraska Saturday. "We're going to be in our worst shape of the season," said coach Bud Wilkinson.

Grisham, not expected to start at all, sat out the final quarter due to his ankle injury. Fleet starting halfback Jackie Cowan missed most of the second half with a leg injury.

However, Oklahoma depth was again apparent as sophomore fullback Larry Brown filled in for the ailing Grisham well enough to lead all rushers with 74 yards in 11 carries.

K-State 'Joins The League' At Ames; Kansas, Sayers Whip Inept Buffs

Kansas State pulled the Big Eight upset of the season with a 21 to 10 victory over Iowa State. It was the first conference win for the Wildcats in four years. Twenty-six games ago, the Wildcats tumbled Nebraska, 29 to 14, and that was the last winning effort until the Cyclones fell to a vicious defense and their own errors. Coach Doug Weaver happily noted that "his team had just joined the conference" with the win. The 'Cats have one other season victory over

Brigham Young and now stand 2-7 for the year. The loss put Iowa State out of contention for third place with Kansas and Missouri. State drove for 67 yards and the winning touchdown when Doug Dusenbury went over from the Cyclone six. Moments later in the fourth quarter, Willis Crenshaw piled two yards for the insurance score after a Denby Blackwell interception to the ISU 9. Iowa State Coach Clay Stapleton said the Kansans won because they were the better ball club that day and lauded their comeback effort when the Ames team was ahead 10 to 7. Ottis William's 29 yard scamper and a personal foul penalty set up the third quarter score that pushed the Cyclones ahead for the last time. Kansas, aided by Gayle Sayers' outside running and the power of their fullback duo, mauled Colorado Saturday, 43 to 14. Armand Baughman and Ken Coleman busted the Buff line while Sayers scampered for 71 yards around it and a new KU career record. The Omaha flash bettered Charlie Hoag's 1950 record of 1,914 rushing yards by sixty yards.

NU Title Try Earned, 20-16

Nebraska earned a shot at the Big Eight crown against Oklahoma next week with a scary 20 to 16 victory over improved Oklahoma State Saturday at Stillwater.

After building a lackluster 20 to 3 margin by the third quarter's end, the Huskers just couldn't stop Cowboy Mike Miller. Last Year's conference leader in passing, Miller passed the Pokes within four points of the nation's ninth-ranked team and completed 19 of 32 tries for 165 yards.

Maynard Smidt capped the third long Husker drive of the day with a three yard hurdle over right tackle and Nebraska then had a 20 to 3 lead with the fourth quarter left. And it was Miller and his Pokes dominating the fourth quarter.

The senior quarterback completed four of six passes during a 78 yard drive, the longest being a 14-yarder to big Jack Jacobson. Jacobson grabbed nine shorties for 105 yards from Miller as well as contributing a stout defensive job against Scarlet sweeps.

The Miller-Jacobson combination offset some hard running by fullback George Thomas who scored the first State touchdown from seven yards out with 10:45 left in the contest. Charles Durkee, who booted a 30 yard field goal, converted the extra point try and Oklahoma State trailed, 20 to 10.

With three and a half minutes left, Miller and crew started again. This time he hit six for eight passes, three of them to Jacobson, and State drove 66 yards to pull within four points of the Huskers — 51 seconds remaining. Dick Callahan picked off Miller's two point pass attempt so the Cowboys weren't within field goal range.

It remained 20 to 16 after Wardell Hollis tried to on-side kick but Husker All-American Bob Brown covered the ball like a back to end State hopes for an upset.

Nebraska's weak fourth quarter might have had many sources, but Miller's late play showed him equal to any quarterback Nebraska has seen this season. In the last stanza, he made good on nine of thirteen passes. His seven yard scamper through the Scarlet secondary to the Husker four set up the second touchdown.

A big factor in the Husker effort was the line-smashing runs of sub fullback Bruce Smith who played most of the game in Rudy Johnson's absence. Smith, a 185-pound junior, rushed for 60 yards on 13 attempts to lead all carriers. Duda danced for 50 while Smidt managed 41 yards to lead Nebraska.

Willie Ross, John Kirby, and Bob Hohn came away with various aches and pains. Hohn has a bad knee, but according to trainer Paul Scheider, will be able to work out later in the week.

Kirby suffered a slight concussion, but appears fit for the Oklahoma game Saturday. Ross still complains about his Kansas State inflicted shoulder injury and a slight charley horse.

John Dervin and Bob Brown were defensive standouts Saturday, combining or soloing on at least fourteen tackles. Scarlet linemen rushed well, but the secondary couldn't cover Miller's receivers, Jacobson, Lynn Chadwick, and Jeff Williams.

Nebraska, who had driven inside State territory every time they had the ball before Miller led the Pokes to their first touchdown, met stiff resistance in that fourth quarter.

On the first series, Smidt was stopped twice for no gain and Fred Duda lost four trying to pass. Later, the vaunted Scarlet rushers could only rack up one first down. These two Nebraska sputterings were sandwiched between Cowboy touchdowns.

Nebraska's victory makes the series even at 2 and 2 after the Pokes took the first two conference contests.

Oklahoma and Nebraska now prepare for their Orange Bowl trip to Miami. The Huskers have cinched second place in the Big Eight with the State win while Missouri will battle for third place against Kansas.

is it me...or Jack Winter!

It's you, princess, when you have the Jack Winter look. But whoa... take a minute to learn about the subject of stretch. Because once you put yourself in Jack Winter stretch pants, you are going to get the eye test. Be darn sure you can pass. Questions. Should you wear stretch pants? What kind of figure does it take? Most all figures are flattered by stretch, whether angular, triangular, or a figure eight. Even if you have an hourglass figure where all the sand has sunk to the bottom, stretch pants can do quick subtracting. You won't need a grease job to slip in, but there's no sag, bag or bind either. Jack Winter cuts 'em just right...lean and ladylike...proportioned in your proper leg-length. So it's you and Jack Winter getting all those straight-on, slant-eyed, turn-about-face looks. You and Jack Winter causing that campus stir.
