Jack Frost Went Thataway . . . Temporarily

COEDS GREET PREMATURE SPRING — Linda Hagmann and Katie Roehrkafe take advantage of yesterday's 63 degree temperature, an all time high for Jan. 21, in Lincoln. The traces of snow lurking behind them verify that winter is not yet over, and the U.S. Weather Bureau predicts overcast skies and rain tonight, with temperatures in the mid 50's.

Builders Tap Chairmen, Assistants

Cheryll Crosier will head the new Campus Promotion Committee of Builders, along with her assistants Carol Bischoff and Barb Atkinson.

Other results of the Builders interviews held last week are: Karen Schnurr and her assistants Dick Theis and Sandy Stefanis will be in charge of the Tours Committee and the College Days Committee will be headed by Percy Wood. The Publicity Committee will be under the direction of Carol Van Steenberg, and publications Vice President Jean Probasco will oversee the four committees.

The Builders Calendar and Directory will be compiled by Jackie Allen, chairman, and her assistants Betsy White and Karen Westenberg.

Jean Holmquist, and assistants Jerry Kreifels and Diana Focht, will direct the First Glance Magazine, and continuing as editor and assistant of the Special Edition are Diane Steffensen and Cuz Guenzel.

Galen Frenzen, Ag Vice President oversees two committees, Ag Public Relations and Ag Tours.

Ag Public Relations Committee is headed by Jeanette Coufal while interviews for the Ag Tours Committee chairman and assistant will be held tonight.

The new office manager is Vicki Packard and the new secretary is Marilyn Peterson. Robert Kriz is the new treasurer.

City-Ag Bus Discontinued During Final Exam Week

The intercampus bus will probably not run during the period of final examinations, according to Eugene Ingram, director of purchases and special services.

"Our lease with the Lincoln City Lines provides that the buses be scheduled to run only when classes are scheduled," said Ingram. "If the students would ride it, we could probably do it. However, if we run it for one day and they don't ride it, it could sink us."

He pointed out that much of the bus use would be travel to and from the library. Cutting down on the number of runs and running just a few times a day would probably not help this situation much, he said.

"The regularly scheduled buses will still be available so the students will not be stranded," said Ingram.

The regular bus will pick up students on 14th street to go to ag campus at approximately 8:15, 8:37, 9:05, 9:40, 10:15, 10:50, 11:25 and 12 in the morning and in the afternoon at 12:35, 1:10, 1:45, 2:20, 2:55, 3:30, 3:55, 4:13, 4:40, 4:55, 5:20, 5:45, 6:18, 7:18, 8:18, 9:18 and 10:18.

It will pick up students at the ag campus bus stop on Holdrege to go to city campus at approximately 8:15, 8:37, 9:00, 9:21, 9:50, 10:25, 11, 11:35 in the morning and in the afternoon at 12:10, 12:45, 1:20, 1:55, 2:30, 3:05, 3:40, 4:15, 4:35, 4:55, 5:22, 5:40, 6, 6:30, 6:55, 7:55, 8:55, 9:55 and 10:55.

The schedule on Saturdays

Film Schedule Altered

Richard Scott, assistant program director of the Student Union announced a change in the schedule of the Foreign Film Society. "Lazarillo," a Spanish drama, will be shown in place of the Russian Drama, "My Name is Ivan," tonight at 7 and 9 p.m.

and Sundays is a little different.

Schedules and bus stop locations may be picked up on the intercampus bus or the regular bus at any time.

Students will not be able to use their intercampus bus tickets, which are purchased at reduced prices, on the regular bus. The fare is fifteen cents per ride.

Ingram reported that the last total count of passengers riding the intercampus bus last week showed 3,465. "This may be off a little," he said. "I think it was more than this."

Pi Phis, Pharmacists Vie In Q-Bowl Tonight

The regularly scheduled session of Quiz Bowl competition will start today at 7 p.m. in the New Party Room of the Student Union with the Phi Beta Phi I team academically pitted against Pharmacy College.

At 7:25 the Theta Xi team will compete against the Phi Gamma Delata team. At 7:50 the Beta Theta Pi II pledges vs. Theta Chi and at 8:15 the Delta Tau Delta No. 1 team will meet the Delta Sigma Phi team.

All team members should be at the New Party Room of the Student Union 15 minutes before their scheduled match. At least four members must be present or the team will be disqualified. Team members will be given name tags when they arrive at the Party Room.

Disqualifications have to be made if the teams are late because of the tight schedule that the Quiz Bowl is run on. The double-elimination style tournament must be run on strict schedule to be finished by May 5.

The field will be narrowed down to five teams through the double-elimination tournament. The last games will be televised by KUON-TV.

RAM Seeks Trophy For Kappa Alpha Psi; Sig Chis Nix Award

The Residence Association for Men (RAM) Council Monday night unanimously passed a motion recommending the "waiver of, or change in, the ruling by the Intramurals Department concerning their refusal to award the first place trophy in the fraternity division of Indoor Track to the winning team from Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity."

Gene Young, president of Kappa Alpha Psi, explained to the Council the events surrounding his fraternity's protest. He said that, although the fraternity was given permission to compete in the fraternity division, the trophy, which they won, was not awarded to them because of an Intramural Department rule that a group without a house cannot receive a trophy.

Young added that Charles R. Tulloss, resident advisor of Selleck Quadrangle, where most of the fraternity's members now live, has agreed to let them display the trophy in the Selleck award case until the fraternity moves into its own house.

A letter was drafted Monday night and delivered Tuesday morning to Vice Chancellor G. Robert Ross, dean of student affairs, J. Winston Martin, dean of men, and Ed Higgenbotham, assistant professor of physical education.

The letter, signed by Gary Pokorny, RAM president, and Frank P a r t s c h, secretary, asked that the rule be clarified, "to insure fairness to the men of Kappa Alpha Psi as well as anyone who might encounter this rule in the future."

Pokorny said that the track championship was the first campuswide honor given to the Kappa Alpha Psis and, since they are in the process of recolonization, it would be a tremendous psychological boost to the men of the fraternity.

The question of the trophy's future was somewhat simplified by Sigma Chi fraternity, which finished second in the track tournament and would receive the trophy if it were not given to the winners.

At their Monday night meeting, the Sigma Chis agreed that they would not accept the award if offered to them. Steve Brammer, vice president of Sigma Chi, told the DAILY NEBRASKAN yesterday that the members of the house felt that the trophy should go to the Kappa Alpha Psis.

"We have no qualms about it," he said. "We don't feel that we have earned the trophy."

Union Contract Covers Miami Hotel Damages; Negotiations Underway

The Student Union has been charged for damages done to the Hotel Schine McAllister in Miami by Nebraska fans attending the Orange Bowl game. The Union officials are still negotiating with the hotel concerning the amount of damage. The Hotel originally sent a bill for $480 but agreed to cut this amount in half since some of the damage could have been done by other hotel guests.

The Union has written to the hotel and agreed to pay half of this second amount. No reply has yet been received, according to Robert Barnes, assistant director of the Student Union.

Carl Carlisle, program director of the Union, said that most of the damage was done by water released from fire extinguishers by the guests. Other damage was done to the paint on the walls and a door stopper was torn off. Most of the damage was little things, said Carlisle.

The Union had signed a contract previous to the trip which required that they be responsible for damage up to $1,000, according to Barnes.

"The students behaved themselves very well generally," said Barnes. "There was no trouble New Year's Eve. There were parties in the rooms the night after the game but they were generally quiet."

The total expenses of the trip have not yet been compiled so the Union does not know if they will be able to cover the damage expenses without dipping into other Union funds. These figures should be available soon, said Barnes.

AWS Announces Eligibility Change

Associated Women's Students (AWS) announced today that in accordance with the new University eligibility rules they have changed the necessary grade average of those who will participate in Coed Follies from a 4.0 to a 5.0.

AWS will ask the presidents of the six sororities competing in Coed Follies to verify that all of the girls in the skit are carrying at least 12 hours and have a 5.0 grade average.

Educator To Speak

Members of Alpha Tau Alpha, University vocational education fraternity, will hear one of the top men in the field at their meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday in the College of Agriculture Activities Bldg.

He is Cecil Stanley, assistant commissioner of education in the State Department of Education. Stanley is a past president of the American Vocational Assn., and recipient of the American Vocational Achievement Award, the highest honor in the field.

Agriculture Campus Boasts Plethora Of Old Landmarks

By Marv McNeff
Ag News Editor

A graduating class hasn't presented a memorial to the University since 1921. But the ag campus is rich in landmark memorials given prior to that date.

The tradition and inspiration attached to these memorials is almost awesome. This has been added to in recent years by gifts to the University from private individuals.

For instance, there's the statue in Ag Hall, presented by the class of 1915, apparently representing Lady Wisdom. North of the Department of Information Building is the Sundial presented by the class of 1920, in memory of World War I soldiers. However its most important part, the pointer, is missing.

A landmark soon to be torn down is the Chemistry building, a versatile red brick structure built in 1904. Besides the uses its name implies, it has been used as an animal meats lab, husbandry engineering machinery lab, for biochemistry research and as a home economics annex.

The Ag wishing well, Fount Davison, commemorates the first principal of now-extinct School of Agriculture. The two benches near the well were donated by the classes of 1919, and 1921. The first is square and the other round.

Living memorials were planted in April of 1909 in the form of pin oak trees,

Engineers Tap Spidle

Harold Spidle is the new president of Sigma Tau, national all-engineering honorary fraternity, at the University. He succeeds Allen Ote.

Other new officers: James L. Jorfgensen, vice president; Stanley J. Knudson, secretary; Roger H. Schwabauer, treasurer; James K. Linn, historian; and Larry P. Wade, correspondent.

17 in all, which border the Ag campus mall. Each tree is named for a famous Nebraskan including University faculty members, governors, University Regents and early pioneers.

Located in the dean's office in Ag Hall is a huge four by six foot hand-stitched tapestry, donated to the Home Ec Department in 1941 by a lady from Gering. Similar to needle-point, the outdoor scene required over a year to make and is composed of thousands of individual stitches.

Another War memorial is a large boulder with plaques attached donated in memory of men from the class of 1914 who were killed in the war. The boulder was obtained near Saltillo, Nebraska, a whistle-stop located along the Missouri-Pacific tracks southwest of Lincoln. It was hauled on the railroad as close to ag campus as possible, and rolled the rest of the way. Approximately two-thirds of it is buried.

Football Stadium Gets Flag Poles

Two new aluminum flag poles are being installed on the southwest and northeast corners of Memorial Stadium this week.

The new flag poles replace the old ones which were struck and destroyed by lightning this past year. The new poles are protected against this same disaster by being grounded.

Delegates Attend National YD Meet

Loron Weatherwax, chairman of public relations, and Karen Nelson, program committee chairman of the Young Democrats (YD) organization on campus, will attend a National YD Convention in Las Vegas on Jan. 29 to Feb. 1. Weatherwax will be the bearer of YD proxy votes from the University and from other YD groups in the state.

He will vote for the National YD president and for other offices of the national organization.
