PLANS FOR A PERMANENT concrete stadium addition enclosing the south end of Memorial Stadium were revealed by the Board of Regents last Friday. The 12,000 seat addition will be built right up to the end zone and over the cinder track circling the field, according to University business manager Carl Donaldson.

FRATERNITIES MUST STRIVE to parallel the aims and purposes of the University if they wish to become a stronger force within their institution, and the simplest, most obvious way to accomplish this parallel is through educational goals, according to Ted Roninson, assistant dean and adviser to fraternities at Iowa State University. Roninson was an IFC speaker during Pledge Education Week.

FOOTBALL TICKETS for reserved seats have been raised from $4 to $5, according to Tippy Dye, athletic director. Student and faculty prices are not affected by the price hike.

FOUR BOYS walking along a Florida East Coast Railroad track Wednesday night discovered 45 sticks of dynamite hooked to the track and dismantled the wires just minutes before a freight train passed over. Fraternities Sponsor Pageant Candidates

Fraternities will have a chance to win $50 in connection with the upcoming Miss Lincoln Pageant, according to Ron Hoppes, chairman of the pageant.

Fraternities are urged to sponsor a candidate for the pageant, and if their candidate wins, the fraternity will receive $50 from the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Hoppes said that this is to help overcome the fact that many girls are reluctant to enter themselves.

Preliminary judging will be held in the basement of the Bankers Life Insurance building February 25, 26 and 27 beginning at 7 p.m. Girls will be judged in evening gowns and swim suits and on talent in the preliminaries. There also is a possibility that each entry will be asked some general questions. Fifteen girls will be selected to go on to the finals.

Judging of the talent finals will take place March 31 in the basement of the Bankers Life Building.

Judging of the swim suit and an evening gown competition will take place at Pershing Auditorium April 2, in connection with the Greater

Lincoln Nebraska Home and Sports Show.

The winner of the Miss Lincoln Pageant will receive a $200 check and the right to continue on to the Miss Nebraska Pageant. If she wins the Miss Nebraska title she will be eligible to go to the Miss America Pageant held in Atlantic City.

Besides qualifying for the Miss Nebraska pageant and receiving the $200, the winner will receive $100 worth of modeling lessons from Miss Bette Bonne, owner and operator of a modeling agency in Lincoln. According to Hoppes, this is to help the Lincoln entry toward the state title.

Those wishing to enter the Miss Lincoln Pageant should call the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce, who is sponsoring the pageant, and inform the secretary of the fact. An entry blank will be mailed out which must be returned by February 25.

To qualify for candidacy in the Miss Lincoln Pageant a girl must be single, never married, a high school graduate and between the ages of 18 and 23.

She must also be a resident of Lincoln for six months prior to May 11 or be a student at one of the institutions of higher learning in Lincoln. The entry must have graduated from high school by Labor Day of 1964. She may be either a professional or amateur in her talent field.

Hoppes noted that a girl does not have to be sponsored by a fraternity to enter, and that there is no entry fee. He also said that each entry would receive aid from the "Mrs. Jaycees," an auxiliary of the Jaycees, during the preliminary judging.

Peace Corps Exams Are Set Next Week

Peace Corps placement tests will be administered at the University next week on Monday and Thursday. Those who are interested in entering the Peace Corps will be able to take the test in 232 Nebraska Hall, from 9 to 12 a.m. both days.

The Corps is an expanding organization which now reaches out to 46 countries in Latin America, Africa, and Asia. There are currently over 7,000 Peace Corps volunteers, with an additional 5,000 expected to go into training this summer.

Among those selected will be teachers, liberal arts graduates, engineers, nurses, doctors, sociologists, and recreation workers.

Anyone interested in sharing his skills in villages and cities, classrooms and hospitals and on farms throughout the world can begin by taking this on-campus administration of the Peace Corps placement test.

The Peace Corps announced that married couples are eligible, provided that both can serve and have no dependent children.

A college degree is not mandatory, as volunteers receive training and experience while helping the peoples of emerging nations fight poverty, disease, ignorance and hunger.
