

Petsch Scores To Win—

Cagers Get By I-State With Second Half Rally

By Chuck Salem Sports Editor
Daryl Petsch hit a short hook from under the basket with one second showing to give Nebraska a two-point win over Iowa State last Saturday night, 57-55.

The shot capped a spirited Husker rally which saw them come from a nine-point deficit at halftime to even their league mark at 5-5.

Nebraska has now climbed to fourth place in the Big Eight race. Close behind the Cornhuskers are Kansas, Missouri, and Iowa State with 5-6 marks.

The Huskers fought their way to a 55-55 tie with 4:02 left on a layup by Jim Yates, then called time with only 1:56 remaining.

When play resumed the Cornhuskers went into their sideline stall, which has been so effective often this year. Once again NU was able to keep the ball away from the Cyclones with very little trouble.

With 16 seconds to go the Huskers, still in possession, began to work for a shot.

A pass from the side went to Jones who missed a jumper with 0:06 left, Yates controlled the rebound in the corner. The 6-8 center then found Petsch with a pass down the baseline.

Petsch, the left-handed senior from Marysville, Kansas, brought the 5,700 fans to their feet as he twisted past two Cyclone defenders and laid a reverse layup through the nets as the final gun sounded.

Tonight the Huskers will have their hands full with another Big Eight contest.

Kansas, a team tied for fifth just below Nebraska, will visit the Coliseum with tipoff time at 8:05. NU must win this to keep in contention for a first division spot.

Nebraska, always tough on its home court, will finish its season on the road after tonight.

So far NU has a 7-14 season mark. A look at the home and away records will show how the Huskers fare at home and on the road.

At home the Cornhuskers are 6-5 for a .545 clip, while on the road the only victory was over Iowa State against 9 losses for a .100 pace.

A win over the Jayhawks could give the Huskers the momentum need to succeed on the road. In their last three outings the Huskers visit Colorado, Oklahoma, and Oklahoma State.

The Buffs and the Cowboys are two of the teams above NU in the loop race, while the Sooners are the last place team with a 2-9 mark.

Petsch, who scored the Huskers' last point, also opened the NU scoring with a nifty three-point play which gave the Huskers a lead they kept until Iowa State tied the score at 19-19 with 7:37 left in the first half.

Nebraska went for over five minutes early in the first half scoring only two points, missing four free throws in the process.

After the 19-19 tie the Cyclones raced to 15 more points in the half, while NU hit only 6 more.

Trailing at half by 34-25 the Huskers were hitting 11 of 44 from the field for a .250 pace and a mere 3 of 9 free-throws for .333. In the opening stanza Iowa State was 12 for 39 for a .308 mark from the field and a sizzling 10 for 11 from the line for .909.

In the second half the Huskers started off with a roar as they hit seven straight points, closing the gap to two on their well-executed press.

The score then seasawed right down to the last minutes, setting-up the NU stall and last second victory.

Husker Cagers Fourth In Loop

After the three conference games last Saturday night Kansas State has strengthened its Big Eight lead.

In Saturday's action Nebraska rallied to beat Iowa State, 57-55, Kansas State trounced Kansas, 70-46, and Missouri upset Oklahoma State, 70-63.

K-State now is 8-2, while second-place Colorado is 6-3. Oklahoma State is next with a 5-4 mark.

Nebraska rounds-out the first division with a 5-5 loop record.

The second division is bunched more closely. Kansas, Iowa State, and Missouri are tied for fifth place with 5-6 marks. Oklahoma is in the cellar at 2-9.

Tonight Kansas is invading Nebraska's Coliseum and Oklahoma State travels to Colorado.

A victory for the Huskers, coupled with a Colorado win over the Cowboys would move the Huskers into third place, while at NU loss would drop them to fifth.

Frosh Trackster Second In Meet

Diminutive Charles Greene, freshman trackster, pushed Florid A & M's Bob Hayes to a new world's record in the 60-yard dash Saturday night.

Running in the National AAU Indoor Track and Field Championships in Madison Square Garden, the Husker yearling was two feet behind Hayes who was clocked in a stunning :05.9 time.

Greene, who stands all of 5'6" and weighs 138 pounds, has been unofficially clocked in :06 on the Memorial Stadium track in practice. This mark was the old world's record before Saturday night.

Two weeks ago the Washington D. C. product turned in a :06.1 timing against the Wesleyan freshmen.

Thinclads Victorious Over Iowa State As Beltzer, Cramer Excell In Field

By Peggy Speece Assistant Sports Editor

Field events came into the spotlight Saturday afternoon as the Nebraska track squad downed a weak Iowa State crew 77-45.

Big Jim Beltzer, sophomore from Grand Island, set a new varsity record in the shotput. The brawny, blond Husker tossed the shot 53-11 3/4.

Junior Jack Cramer from Lincoln was the other bright spot as he high jumped 6-8. This mark equaled the varsity record set by Harry Krebs last year. And was four inches over anything Cramer has jumped this season.

Other field events saw Nebraska's Vic Brooks take the broad jump in 23-9 3/4 and Iowa State's Dave Chipman and Ed Eneboe tie for first in the pole vault at 13 feet.

The pole vault was the only event in which the Cyclones were able to take a first place, and there they made a one-two-three sweep.

On the track, the Nebraskans found little competition and all the races were won with relative ease.

Gil Gebo, shifting to the 440, coasted to a :50.3 time. However, this mark did set a new meet record.

Sophomore Dave Crook ran Gebo's specialty, the 600, and had no trouble running 1:12.8 to equal a meet record held by Gebo.

Kent McCloughan will head into the Big Eight championships next week undefeated—he ran :06.4 in the 60 yard dash.

In the hurdles, Ron Moore came back after a muscle injury last week to take the highs in :07.4 and the lows in :07. The latter mark equals the varsity record established in 1949 by Bill Mooney.

Trouble in the hurdle department continued as Preston Love pulled out of the highs and scratched the lows. Lynn Headley, nursing a muscle injury, did not run again Saturday and will go into the Big 8 meet without ever having competed in a college varsity meet.

Junior Larry Toothaker set a new meet record in the grueling two-mile run. His time was 9:43.5.

The mile relay broke another meet record as Kent McCloughan, Peter Mills, Dave Crook and Gil Gebo ran a 3:26.6 time.

Peter Scott scored a double by winning the mile with a 4:24.5 clocking and taking the 1,000 in 2:18.1. In the 800, sophomore Ticker Lillis won with a 1:58.8 time.
