

Astronauts Are Featured Saturday At Greek Ball

The Astronauts will be the feature of the Greek Week Ball Saturday at 9 p.m. All University students are invited to hear the Boulder, Colo., surfin' group.

Tickets are being sold in the Union ticket booth for three dollars per couple. Dress will be casual. Associated Women's Association (AWS) has granted an extension of all University women's hours to 2 a.m. for the event.

A city-wide drive will be held Saturday morning to collect money for Lincoln's Children's Zoo. Over 1,500 Greeks will participate in the drive. Junior Interfraternity Council (IFC), sponsor of the drive, is aiming for $6,000 to $8,000 in collections. The money will help finance an animal diet kitchen and feeding nursery.

The kitchen will be used to house incoming animals and accustom them to their new surroundings. Zoo facilities in general will allow children to see and play with some animals.

Money for the drive will be counted and collected at the National Bank of Commerce. Money is due at 1:30 p.m.

The Astronauts will make their third trip to the University Saturday. Despite their misleading name, they have become one of the nation's leading surfin' combos. First big hits for the Colorado group were "Surfin' U.S.A." and "Pipeline".

After skiing on the Colorado slopes, the five musicians learned the sport they sing about last year while cutting an album for RCA Victor.

Bob Demmon, a 24-year-old schoolteacher, serves as the groups' leader and plays rhythm guitar. Rich Fifield and Stormy Patterson share the lead and bass guitars. Dennis Linsey combines his guitar talent with his comedy material and vocal imitations. Jim Gallagher, the baby of the group at 19, handles the drums.

SURFIN' GROUP HERE—The Astronauts return to Nebraska for the Greek Week Dance Saturday night.

The answer can only be in terms of Council taking a renewed interest in examining their own motives and the good of the students. The very nature and power of Council should indicate that students who are interested enough in society to go to college would take an interest in student council. The Council and other interested students must take the bull by the horns—or this case, nurse the bull and hope it will grow horns.

Certainly, there were no horns on the Teachers College bull this semester.

Joan McGuire Gets $250 Extension Grant

A University of Nebraska coed is one of 20 outstanding undergraduate students from around the nation to receive a $250 scholarship from Charles Pfizer & Co. of New York.

Joan McGuire is a junior at the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, majoring in home economics education.

The Pfizer scholarship is awarded to students who are enrolled in professional Extension college courses and are planning to make a career of Extension work. Miss McGuire compiled a grade average of 8.059 for five of her eight semesters of course work completed thus far at the University.

The scholarship award was announced at the National Conference on Extension Training in session at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education by W. D. Lutes, associate state leader of Extension studies and training at the University.

One of the requirements of the scholarship which applicants must meet is previous membership in the 4-H program, and Miss McGuire is an 11-year veteran, with numerous accomplishments to her credit.

She completed 20 projects, and in her major project—clothing—she made 49 garments. Miss McGuire was a delegate to National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago and National 4-H Conference in Washington, D. C., two of the highest honors possible for a Nebraska 4-H member.

In addition to serving as president of the University 4-H Club, she is a member of the University symphonic band and is active in Ag YWCA, Phi Upsilon Omicron (professional home economics fraternity), and other campus activities.

Engineering Students Receive IEEE Honors

Three University engineering students were honored last night by the Nebraska section of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE) at its annual meeting at the University.

Neil Wellenstein was announced first place winner of the $25 IEEE Student Paper award. He won the prize for the writing and presentation of a scientific paper on optical equipment for use in hospital laboratories.

The second-place, $15 award, went to Vince Hansen. His paper was related to a nuclear power problem.

Tom Paska was recognized as the outstanding student branch member of the Nebraska section of the IEEE by his professor, Dr. W. C. Robinson.

The awards were made by R. K. Gormley, chairman, and Don Schaufelberger, vice chairman of the Nebraska section of the IEEE.

State Unicameral Races Dominated By Incumbents

Only three of Nebraska's western legislative districts lack incumbents in the 1964 Legislative race. There are 172 persons from 49 districts in the race. This is the last of a series on the Unicameral candidates.

Twenty-ninth District — the only woman representative serving on the Unicameral. Fern Orms of Lincoln, will attempt re-election. Mrs. Orms was chairman of the intergovernmental committee and was a member of the budget and committee on committees. Ralph Reger, Russell Strom and Nate Holman of Lincoln will oppose her.

Thirtieth District — Beatrice natives Fred Carstens and incumbent Thomas Dammor will run. Dammor was a labor and public welfare and agriculture committee member in the last session.

Thirty-first District — Incumbent Arnold Ruhnke from Plymouth, chairman of the public works committee, while serving on the education and committee on committees, will face Clarence Henkel from Gladstone.

Thirty-second District — Eric Rasmussen, after agriculture and miscellaneous subject committee membership will seek re-election against Sherman Ashby from Geneva. Rasmussen is from Fairmont.

Thirty-third District — Richard Marvel of Hastings, chairman of the budget committee, will run unopposed. Marvel, who also was on the committee on committees, had been considered a possible candidate for governor.

Thirty-fourth District — M. A. Keemer of Aurora will oppose incumbent, T. C. Reeves from Central City. Reeves was an agriculture and miscellaneous subject committee member.

Thirty-fifth District — E. H. Stobbe, Ira Paine, George Burr, A. Don Elrod, and W. J. "Lefty" Williams, all of Grand Island, will run.

Thirty-sixth District — Richard Lyninger, with service on the governmental and military affairs and salaries and claims committees, will try for re-election against Herman Mattson of Kearney.

Thirty-seventh District — Incumbent Kenneth Bowen from Red Cloud will face a woman aspirant Kathleen Fofe from Axtell. Bowen was chairman of the governmental and military affairs committee and a member of the intergovernmental cooperation and education committees.

Thirty-eighth District — McCook residents Guy Nelson, Douglas Vap, Leroy Lawell and Lester Harsh of Bartley will run.

Thirty-ninth District — Lexington incumbent Albert Klar was chairman of the banking, commerce and insurance committees and government and military affairs member. Albert Wells of Cotard and James Swanson of Holdrege will oppose Klar.

Fortieth District — Dwan Williams of Broken Bow, Robert McPherrin of Stapleton, George Hayes of Comstock and Cheser Paxton of Theford will run.

Forty-first District — LeRoy Babenak of St. Paul will seek re-election against Arthur Shokoski of Arcadia and Rudolf Kokes of Ord. Babenak served on the public works, salaries and claims committees.

Forty-second District — Chairman of the agriculture committee Frank Nelson will oppose Karl Linke of Bassett and S. H. Bruser, Jr. of Stuart. Incumbent Nelson also saw duty on the miscellaneous subject committee.

Forty-third District — Elvin Adamson of Nenzel returns unopposed after serving on the rules and budget committees

Forty-fourth District — Incumbent Donald McGinley of Ogallala who served as chairman of the judiciary committee and as a review committee member, will oppose Ramon Whitney of Chappell and C. N. Clemens of Bridgeport.

Forty-fifth District — Cecil Craft returns after service on the banking, commerce and insurance, intergovernmental cooperation, public works and committee on committees. Joseph Chambers of North Platte will oppose him.

Forty-sixth District — Judiciary and revenue committee member Dale Erlwine will face H. C. Grandall of Curtis and John Bobbinger of Culbertson. Incumbent Erlwine is from Grant.

Forty-seventh District — Incumbent George Fleming from Sidney opposes Robert Clark, also from Sidney. Fleming was on the agriculture and public health committees.

Forty-eighth District — Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff served on the labor and public welfare, public health and revenue committees. Carpenter will face Betty Karpf of Morrill.

Forty-ninth District — Incumbent George Gerdes returns unopposed after service on the budget committee and being chairman of the committee on committees.

ACE Honors Grad With Gold Medal, Citation, $5000

Dr. Theos Thompson, a former Lincoln man and University graduate, has been named a recipient of an E.O. for meritorious contributions in the field of atomic energy.

Thompson is a professor of nuclear engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The award, made by the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC), consists of a gold medal, a citation and $5,000. Five outstanding scientists were named recipients for 1964.

Thompson graduated with distinction from the University in 1941 with a major in chemistry and completed his Master's degree the following year.

Thompson was cited by the AEC for his contributions to the development of safe and economical nuclear reactors while serving as chairman of the design committee for the Omega West reactor at Los Alamos. He is a pioneer in finding safe methods of dismantling highly contaminated reactors.

The AEC also cited Thompson for developing an outstanding program of research and graduate education at M.I.T.

School's Out.

Right now, graduation seems way off in the wild blue yonder. But it's not too early to start planning. In the future, you'll look back on decisions you make today with satisfaction... or regret.

What can an Air Force career mean to you in tangible gain? The opportunity to take on executive responsibilities you might otherwise wait years to attain. And a head-start into one of a wide range of possible careers in the exciting Aerospace Age.

As an Air Force officer, for example, you may be flying a supersonic jet...helping to keep America's guard up. Or you may be in an Air Force laboratory, working to solve an intricate scientific or technological problem.

Doing jobs like these, you can hold your head high. In addition to being essential to your country, they're the beginnings of a profession of dignity and purpose.

For more information, see the Professor of Air Science.
