

CAMPUS . . .

ELIZABETH BARRETT BROWNING HOUSE in Pound Hall led the campus in scholarship with a 6,948, it was revealed Thursday. The Greek living units raised their average from a 5,366 last fall semester to a 5,523 this fall semester.

EXTENSIVE ALTERATIONS in the Student Council constitution submitted for the spring election have been overruled by the Council's judiciary committee. The committee's action was appealed and will be decided this afternoon by the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs.

THIRTY NINE SENIORS have been elected to associate membership in Sigma Xi national scientific honorary. Twenty three undergraduate and recently graduated students were elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa, Arts and Sciences honorary.

LINCOLN'S CHILDREN ZOO received $4,500 as a result of a Saturday morning canvass of Lincoln by 1500 Greeks in connection with Greek Week.

CITY . . .

FAMILY was redefined by the City Council Monday, thus changing classification of students living in apartments and homes in Lincoln. No more than three students may live in such housing according to the new ruling.

CONSUMERS PUBLIC POWER DISTRICT has formally asked the Nebraska Power Review Board to defer approval of the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative's application to construct a new transmission line from Fort Randall to Grand Island.

THE LANCASTER COUNTY BOARD OF EQUALIZATION announced Monday it had declared Union College dormitories exempt over Assessor Arthur Davis's recommendation that private college dormitories be placed on the tax rolls. The board had ruled earlier that Nebraska Wesleyan dormitories would remain tax-exempt.

STATE . . .

A STATEWIDE COMMITTEE of seven prominent Democrats, representing all elements of the party, was named Tuesday to back Lincoln attorney Philip Sorenson in his candidacy for nomination for lieutenant governor. Members are former State Sen. Joe Vosoba, chairman, James Green, Clayton Shroul, A. Clifford Anderson, Robert Rauner, Frank Morrison Jr. and Mrs. Irene Bystrom.

UNIVERSITY REGENTS approved an operating budget of $22,494,600 for the 1964-65 fiscal year. This is an increase of $1,275,125 over the past fiscal year.

NATION . . .

THE NATION WAS SHOCKED Monday by reports that Premier Khrushchev had died. The report was denounced as "rubbish" by the Soviet. The vague report originated with a German press agency which later asked editors to withhold it.

SENATOR BARRY GOLDWATER won the Illinois Republican presidential primary Tuesday night even though 30% of the GOP votes went to Sen. Margaret Chase from Maine.

METHODIST CHURCH LEADERS Wednesday curbed hopes for an early merger of six major Protestant denominations. They said the Methodist Church is willing to continue "long range" talks about a possible merger in the relatively distant future but it not prepared to proceed at this time with drafting of an actual plan of union for early adoption. The Methodists cited the fact that some of the other participating denominations do not share the traditional Methodist stand on total abstinence from alcohol as one of the reasons.

Masters Make Banking Marks

Among the several Masters who have distinguished themselves in the world of banking are Samuel Waugh, former president of the Export-Import Bank, and Allen Sutherland, senior vice president, member of the board of directors and executive committee member of the Security First National Bank of San Diego, Calif.

The two will join nine other prominent University graduates for the second annual Masters Program April 26-28.

Waugh, a law student at the University, also played on the football, basketball and baseball teams. He was associated with the First Trust Company of Lincoln from 1913 until 1953.

Appointed to the Export-Import Bank in 1955, Waugh visited every continent, promoting trade. At the time of his resignation in 1961, the former president and chairman received a ward from six countries for his work with the bank. Brazil commissioned him with the rank of commander, as well as bestowing upon him the Order of the Southern Cross. From Japan, he received the Order of the Rising Sun, and the Mexicans gave him the Aztec Eagle.

Waugh has also served as a member of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce government affairs and policy committee, special ambassador to Indonesia during the Indonesian Civil War, assistant Secretary of State for economic affairs 1935-55, deputy Secretary of State for economic affairs 1955 and U.S. alternate governor of the International Bank for reconstruction and development from 1953 until 1955.

He is presently employed as a Washington consultant to the international department of the Bank of New York and international consultant for the Blaw-Knox Company, a Pittsburgh steel company.

Sutherland, who has a long history in California banking and commerce, graduated from the University in 1918 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in economics. In addition to his position with the San Diego bank, he is currently a trustee of the Putnam Foundation, president of the Goodwill Industries of San Diego County, a member of the mayor's industrial commission, the citizens charter review committee, director of the San Diego Transit System and an elder in the Point Loma Community Presbyterian Church.

He served in the Navy during the First World War. Past positions include membership on the business advisory committee of the United Nations, state chairman of the American Bankers Association, member of the California State Board of Education, president of the National Association of Credit Men, and cashier and manager of the First State Bank, Palmer, Kan.

Sutherland received the Distinguished Service Award from the State of Israel in 1962. A former resident of Waverly, he married Estelle Warner in 1921.

Miss Nelsen To Work For Quality YD Club

—First Coed YD President—

Karen Nelsen was elected president of the University Young Democrats (YD's) last night, making her the first female president of the YD's in the history of the University. Other newly elected officers are Steve Davis, first vice president, Jim DeMars, second vice president, Sabra McCall, corresponding secretary, Sam Thomas, recording secretary, and Mike Jeffreys, treasurer.

Miss Nelsen said that her ultimate goal for the YD's "is a cohesive unit of energetic YD's working for a strong Democratic party on this campus."

Concerning her plans as president, she said that she plans to set up a temporary committee to investigate the constitution of the organization. "It is five years old and badly outmoded," she said, "and I feel that a strong constitution is imperative for a strong group."

Cross reference files for each paid member of YD's is also part of Miss Nelsen's plan for the ensuing year. By knowing the abilities of members, committee assignments can be made more accurately and carried out more efficiently, she said.

Miss Nelsen said that she hopes to increase YD membership three times while she is in office. "I want to stress the importance of quality rather than quantity, however," she added. "Our aim is a closely knit organization that can work together well."

The aim of the entire executive committee is a complete reorganization of the group, Miss Nelsen went on. "We would like to be a functional organization that can work with upcoming elections and function as a good YD Club."

WHO DID THIS?—Mary Swanson of Chi Omega sorority lik. other students has noticed the designs of red paint which have appeared on campus. The design is the symbol of Rho Delta or "Red Dots," a subrosa which supposedly went off campus last year. The designs are possibly the work of pranksters.

AUF Amendment On Winter Ballot

The amendment to the Student Council constitution providing for a representative for All University Fund (AUF) will not appear on the ballot until December, according to a judiciary committee ruling yesterday.

The motion was passed April 8, but challenged the next day by two students, Ron Rogowski and Bob Cherny, who maintained that the proposed amendment was passed later than the specified date for such amendments.

The committee based its ruling on Article Ten, section one, subsection A, of the constitution which says "proposals for amendments may be originated by a two-thirds vote of the Student Council."

A committee statement said "The committee interpreted this to mean that a resolution brought to the Council becomes a proposal for an amendment upon receiving a two-thirds vote."

The AUF motion was passed 26 days before the spring election although it had been submitted to the Council two weeks earlier. An amendment must be submitted at least 28 days before the election, according to the Council constitution.

The confusion surrounding the action grew out of the definition of the word "submitted." Jim Baer, who introduced the amendment and the motion to table it for consideration, explained his interpretation of "submitted" as being brought before the Council.

The decision of the judiciary committee means that future constitutional amendments may be automatically killed by the Council floor by tabling them until after the deadline.

Scrip Entries Due
 The deadline for the SCRIP short story and poetry contest is 5 p.m. today.
