

Tigers Can Win Big Eight Crown

Missouri is out in front of the Big Eight baseball race by four games after last week's sweep over Oklahoma State, while runnerup Kansas lost two of three to Oklahoma.

The unbeaten Tigers have a 13-0 record and can clinch the championship this weekend with a three-game sweep over the Huskers at Columbia.

Kansas has lost its pitching ace Steve Renko for the rest of the season as he ruptured a vessel in his thigh in a collision at Iowa State.

The Jayhawks could drop from second place after this weekend's series with Colorado unless they find a competent replacement for Renko.

Kansas has a 10-5 conference record, Iowa State is 7-4 going into a series with last-place Kansas State, 3-9, Oklahoma, 8-7, also can move up against Oklahoma State, 3-7, at Stillwater.

Missouri flashed its typical power Saturday as veteran Keith Weber pitched a three-hitter and rookie Dennis Musgraves fired a three-hitter for a pair of 11-0 shutouts over OSU. The Tigers bashed out three more homers bringing their total for the series to eight.

They scored 33 runs on 40 hits while Oklahoma State scored only once on nine hits.

Iowa State completed its sweep of Colorado at Ames with an 8-3 victory on Saturday behind the pitching of Bob Ziegler.

This left Colorado at 5-10, just a shade ahead of OSU in percentage.

Nebraska, now 4-11, climbed out of the cellar for the first time this season with a 12-inning, 1-0 victory authored by Bob Hergenrader at Kansas State. The two-hitter was won in the twelfth by Ron Douglas' run-producing single.

Oklahoma hit two more homers and exploded for a 10-run fourth inning in a 14-3 victory at Kansas behind Carl Morton's five-hitter.

Challengers Aim At Tennis Title

This is the year the Big Eight tennis has been waiting for. Oklahoma State has won the net title for the last six years, but has fallen short this year of its past records.

With the conference meet coming up at Stillwater this weekend, the Huskers have a very good chance to come out near the top. Nebraska sports a 12-5 dual record.

Oklahoma and Kansas are co-favorites however.

Vance McSpadden, a sparkling OU soph, leads lettermen Mike Rooker, Jerry Geyman, Mark Latham and Jack Richards.

Kansas has hustling Jim Burns, Lance Burr, Jay Ly-saught, John Grantham and Barry McGrath. KU upset powerful Wichita, a victory over Nebraska, and Burns feathered his nest by splitting matches with WU's Benny Anzola.

The Cowboys aren't completely without some punch. Bob McKenna and George Fols are Big Eight level, but OSU's depth isn't there for the title.

Rich Hillway, Colorado, was the No. 2 singles champ a year ago and coach Dock Gray could cop the team title with the right kind of breaks in pairings and early matches.

Last year No. 1 singles champ, OUS's Bob Folz is gone, and the top doubles team, KU's Burns and Jim Campbell, is half gone. So it'll be a big scrap to see who replaces the Cowboys as tennis champs.

Big Eight Track—Spotlight To Be On Pole Vault

By Peggy Speece Sports Editor

(This is the first of two articles to deal with the Big Eight Outdoor Championships to be held in Stillwater, Okla. May 15-16).

An exciting array of track and field stars, a lot of them wearing the black and gold of team-favorite Missouri, will assault quite a few records at the 36th annual Big Eight conference outdoor cinder carnival in Stillwater, Okla., this weekend.

None of the events carry the luster of the pole vault, however. A half-dozen conference vaulters have cleared 15-0 or better.

Floyd Manning of Kansas owns the highest vault in the conference this season with an outstanding 16-13/4 mark scored in a dual two weeks ago with Southern Illinois.

State, has gone 15-7/2 to place him along the league leaders.

The record for the pole vault of 15-10/4 set by George Davies of O-State in 1961 is definitely in danger of falling. Manning won the event with 15-0 last spring.

Both the broad jump and the triple jump find Nebraska's Victor Brooks with the conference's leading leap. In the broad jump Brooks has a 24-6 jump to his credit. However, Brooks' inconsistency in the event could put Bob Hines (23-7) of Kansas State, Bob Looney (23-10 1/2) of Kansas and B. J. Bonta (22-10 1/2) of Missouri into the thick of the race. Oklahoma's Anthony Waston is expected to pass up the event as he has been nursing a leg injury.

The broad jump record is 25-3/4 set by Neville Price, Oklahoma, in 1954.

In the triple jump, Brooks owns a 49-2 1/2 leap made at the Drake Relays which is nearly two feet beyond his conference record. Brooks went 47-3 to set the record in last year's Big Eight meet.

Contending in the event are two Kansans, Bill Chambers with a 47-5/4 leap and Glen Martin with 46-6/4. However,

O-State's Tom Von Ruden (46-2) and Ron Peters of Missouri (45-5) are not to be counted out. Peters, however, may not compete as he will probably try in both hurdle events and run the open 440 and possibly a leg on the mile relay for Mizzou.

Nebraska's Juris Jesifers has the 6th best leap in the league by virtue of last Saturday's 44-9 against Missouri.

Russ Tunnell, Missouri's defending high jump champ has been slowed by knee trouble all season and may have to give up his crown to O-State's Russ Laverty. Laverty has been the most consistent jumper, his best being 6-8 3/4. KU's Tyce Smith and Charlie Twiss both cleared that height indoors but have not approached it outdoors. Ray Nunley of OU, but his best other than that is 6-3 3/4.

The Huskers' Jack Cramer with a 6-5 1/4 leap will be contending for a place also.

The high jump record is 6-8 3/4 by Missouri's Bob Lang in 1956.

Missouri appears to have an edge in the shot put. Gene Crews and Bob Neuman, both of the Tigers, own marks past 55-0 along with Oklahoma's Dick Inman. Colorado's Tom Galbos and Nebraska's Jim Beltzer are both over 53-0 and will be among the top entrants.

likely to break Jayhawker Al Oerter's record of 183-5 set in 1956, but a lively race is shaping up. League leader is KU sophomore Gary Schwart with a 168-6 3/4 toss. Tom Galbos of CU (157-7/2) and OU's Dick Inman (156-10) will provide plenty of competition.

Crews and Neuman of Mizzou will be in this event, too. Both own marks past 155-0. Nebraska's Roland Johnson (148-1) could easily place.

As it shapes up on the form charts Missouri and the Jayhawkers are capable of placing nearly every field event. Anyone who wants to beat these two will have to do it on the track—and will have to run mighty fast to do it.

TO ALL SENIORS:

You are about to become a member of the influential group of college graduates. Your opinions and buying habits set the pattern for other members of the community.

Recognizing this, we have just announced a plan designed specifically to enable the seniors of the University of Nebraska to own a new car at graduation time. The plan enables you to receive a discount of hundreds of dollars on any 1964 Ford Galaxie, Fairlane or Falcon, regardless of the model or optional equipment selected. A deposit will be required with your order.

Trade-ins, with generous allowances, will be accepted.

The Ford warranty of 24,000 miles or 2 years, whichever comes first, will be honored by us, or by any Ford dealer in the country.

In summary, here's how you benefit from the Ford College Senior Savings Plan:

- You receive a discount amounting to hundreds of dollars on the purchase of a new car.
- You receive a discount on all dealer installed accessories.
- You save on transportation home after graduation.

Time is short. I'm sure you realize you must act now if you wish to take advantage of this unique opportunity. Bring this letter with you and receive complete details.

Very truly yours,
