

SPORTS PAGE

Daily Nebraskan

PEGGY SPEECE—Sports Editor

Olsen Nominated Intramural Athlete

A letter nominating Al Olsen as the intramural athlete of the year has been received by the DAILY NEBRASKAN sports staff.

Olsen has competed in intramurals for four years and has been named to the All-University Basketball team for three years.

Olsen's letter of nomination stated of his basketball playing, "In each of these years he has averaged more than 20 points a game (despite being double-teamed) as well as setting the pace in rebounding and playmaking."

Olsen's teams "have consistently placed close to the top and this year was again runnerup in dormitory competition."

This year in football, Olsen was named All-Independent end and played on a team that was runnerup for All-University champion.

The letter said "Al was part of the powerful Hitchcock line that contributed to the team's offensive record of consistently scoring 20-30 points a game." Olsen was on the end of a number of passes from All-Independent quarterback Jerry Yeutter.

Olsen has also been active in weightlifting and softball. In weightlifting three years ago he set several records. "Although Al is now 20 lbs. heavier and much stronger, he hasn't found time to compete recently," the letter stated.

"This is a tribute to the fact that he is primarily a student who consistently pulls close to an 8 average" the letter pointed out.

In softball two years ago Olsen led his team to the All-University runnerup spot. "As the team's clean-up hitter he frequently hit home runs (sometimes two a game) and led the team in RBIs. The semi-final game that year was won by his team 6-5 behind his 6 RBIs including two home runs" the letter read.

Winners of the intramural athlete and varsity athlete of the year awards will be announced in Friday's DAILY NEBRASKAN. Nominations are due by 5 p.m. today.

Husker Pitcher, Flock, Also Throws Javelin

If the baseball team needs a pitcher, George (Ron) Flock is available. If Coach Frank Sevigne needs a javelin thrower, Ron Flock can fill in.

When Ron didn't make the baseball trip to Oklahoma early this year, Flock threw the javelin 150-10 for the track team, good for third place in a dual with Iowa State.

With the extensive spring activity Ron may deserve a breather in the fall and winter. But not Flock. That's when he puts himself through school with the money he earns working in the training room 30 to 40 hours a week.

Baseball is Flock's primary pastime right now, though he helps Paul Schneider in the training room and on the baseball fields during the afternoons.

The 5-9, 165-pound right-hander from Ord is only 0-1 this season but has become a starter for Coach Tony Sharpe, whose team concludes its season with a three-game series at the NU Diamond Monday and Tuesday against Oklahoma State.

Flock says: "I'm under the assumption that I'm down here for an education and if I had to do over again I would spend more time studying . . . but still try to do the same athletic things."

Ron has a simple explanation for his unceasing hard work in sports. "I just enjoy working with athletic people," he says.

Flock's brother Dean was a halfback for the Cornhuskers through 1959 and also pitched for the baseball team.

After serving five years in the Air Force upon graduation, Flock will either make the service his career, get his Masters degree or pick up a physical education minor and become a teacher-coach.

If his years at Nebraska are an indication, a good bet is the latter — and a hard-working one.

happy with their matches was completely dissatisfied with the idea. One irate man commented that the closest thing he and his match had in common was that she wanted to be a parachute jumper and he liked to fly.

A graduate student said that he knew someone had to be matched with the socially inept wall flowers but he was upset that it had to be he.

A coed complained, "We seemed almost two opposites in religion, size of family and out-goingness, but we were matched in height."

ISU Couples Meet Via IBM

Machines may be replacing workers, but they are also turning out mates for desperate coeds.

Last fall Iowa State University held an IBM mixer where the machine matched couples according to backgrounds and interests. Now, seven months later, four engagements have resulted from the dance, and 20 percent of the unattached women who attended are still dating the men they met there.

three matches for each person who filled out a questionnaire. The first choice of each was considered the "ideal partner."

Iowa State sociologists have not confirmed that the matchings were more than coincidences, but they are doing a follow-up study of the couples who met at the dance. According to the studies that have been made, most of the 500 couples involved were happy with their matches.

The minority that was un-

Graduating Seniors! (who like to think for themselves)

If you haven't already made arrangements for career employment, it could be worth your time to phone us for an interview. Our company is over 100 years old and widely recognized as the leader in one field. After a short talk, if we are both still interested, we will provide complete testing to help us arrive at an intelligent final decision. We are seeking 2 men.

Phone 432-4281 — Ask for Mr. Novak

RETIREMENT AHEAD!

The self-employed business or professional man can now look forward to happy, comfortable leisure years with a tax-sheltered retirement plan.

For complete information about the tax law affecting your retirement write today for Connecticut Mutual Life's free booklet, Good News for Self-Employed Individuals. Or call at your convenience.

WALTER F. GARNER SUITE 707 LINCOLN BLDG. 432-3289

Connecticut Mutual Life INSURANCE COMPANY

Nebraska Ends Slate With OSU

Nebraska baseballers wind up their season today and tomorrow against Oklahoma State at the NU diamond.

Game time both days is 1:30. The doubleheader is played today and the nine-inning single game will be played Tuesday.

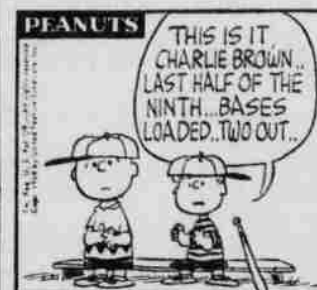

Coach Tony Sharpe will start Tom Larsen and Bob Hergenrader in the twin-bill and probably Ron Flock Tuesday.

The Huskers' current conference record is 4-14 and they stand 6-18 for the season. O-State is 4-9 in the Big Eight, and they hold down the No. 6 rung on the ladder. Nebraska can move into three only by sweeping the three games from the Cowboys.

Nebraska Coed Wins At Seward

Carol Moseke, freshman coed at the University, set three records Saturday as she won the javelin, discus and shot at the Midwest Women's AAU meet in Seward.

She threw the javelin 110-7 1/2, the discus 143-1/2 and the shot 43-1 1/2.

IM Results

Deck Tennis Allen and McGinnis, Phi Delta Theta, won their way into the finals of the double-elimination tourney by downing Chapel and Miller, Sigma Phi Epsilon, 15-11, 15-3.

Tennis Tipton and Gibson, Beta Theta Pi, drubbed Vautravets and Sipple, Islanders, 6-2, 6-1.

Softball Monday's games: NE Smith v. Capital SE Kappa Sigma v. Farmhouse

Golf Intramural golf moves into the final round as all players have been assigned special flights of three men and arranged in order of the total scores for the three previous rounds.

Flight 1: 235-Steve Nelson, Custer; 241-Jim Niemeyer, Custer; 242-Dean Lauritzen, Carson.

Flight 2: 248-Mike Zmargly, Delta Sigma Pi; 250-Jim Williams, Delta Tau Delta; 250-John Allen, Sigma Nu.

Flight 3: Ron Einspahr, Alpha Gamma Rho; 252-Ron Gould, Theta Xi; 256-Tom Wolf, Delta Tau Delta; 261-Ron Harris, Sigma Chi; 266-Richard Gibson, Theta Xi.

Flight 5: 267-Bob Lockwood, Sigma Chi; 267-Grant Simmons, Sigma Chi; 269-Gayle Cattau, Delta Tau Delta.

Flight 6: 270-Max Martin, Beta Theta Pi; 271-Larry Keep, Phi Epsilon Kappa; 272-Mike Flynn, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Flight 7: 273-Jim Buntz, Phi Kappa Psi; 274-Steve Folmer, Phi Delta Theta; 275-Tom Liewer, Theta Xi.

Flight 8: 278-Don Anderson, Delta Tau Delta; 286-Milan Moore, Farmhouse; 287-Larry Catlett, Sigma Chi.

Flight 9: 288-Lee Knobel, Phi Epsilon Kappa; 289-Ron Adams, Sigma Phi Epsilon; 296-Roland Johnson, Phi Epsilon Kappa; 303-Dennis Gleeson, Custer.

Knudson Is Head Of Pi Tau Sigma

Stanley Knudson of Inland has been elected president of Pi Tau Sigma, national honorary mechanical engineering fraternity at the University of Nebraska.

Other new officers include: Dwaine W. Francis, Osmond, vice president; Richard Klambunde, Fremont, recording secretary; John H. Schutz, Columbus, corresponding secretary; Wayne Leslie Howlett, Dorchester, treasurer; Robert W. Brightfelt, Erie, Pa., historian, and Dr. Russell C. Nelson, associate professor of mechanical engineering, adviser.

Frosh Baseball Squad Beats Offutt Outfit 8-2

The freshman baseball team finished a short but successful season Saturday by beating Offutt Air Force Base 8-2.

Bob Stickels was the winning pitcher as he gave up only two hits in the five scoreless innings he pitched. Coach Monte Kiffin lifted Stickels in the sixth to test his other hurlers under fire.

Mick Zangari came in for 1 1/2 innings but got in trouble by walking the bases loaded; Stan Bahnsen, winning pitcher in the first frosh game, then came on to pitch and put out the rally with one run scoring.

Jim Stevenson, Gary Nebbauer, Alex Walters and Tom Anderson had two hits apiece for the Huskers as they ended the season with a 2-0 record.

Table with columns for OFFUTT (2) and NU FROSH (1), listing player names and statistics like AB, R, H, RBI, and AVE.

Baseball Statistics

(After 24 Games)

Batting Summary

Table with columns: PLAYER, AB, R, H, RBI, AVE. Lists statistics for players like Bob Witte, Jim Karhoff, Randy Harris, etc.

Pitching Summary

Table with columns: PITCHER, G, W-L, BB, SO, ERA. Lists statistics for pitchers like George Landgren, Bob Hergenrader, etc.

India Madras . . . Guaranteed to Bleed

WALK SHORTS

New shipment, just received . . . ideal for the hot weather. Authentic India Madras . . . 6.95

SPORT SHIRTS

India Madras . . . the most asked for plaids this season . . . 7.95

Advertisement for 'WE NEVER CLOSE' featuring 'WE 2¢ ON EVERY GAL.' and 'LADIES SEAMLESS NYLONS 69¢ WITH GAS PURCHASE'. Includes 'DIVIDEND BONDED GAS' and address '16th & P Sts. Downtown Lincoln'.