

RAM May Allow Women In Rooms

OCT 14 1964
By CHERRY HARRIS
Junior Staff Writer

The Residence Association for Men (RAM) Monday heard a resolution seeking a rule change to allow weekend visiting hours in the male rooms of Selleck Quadrangle.

John Marburger, president of Maclean House, introduced the resolution and asked that the rule change be brought about with "suitable restrictions and processes".

Marburger said the move would instill pride in the dorm, have fine recreational aspects and play a significant part in the maturation process. "This proposal is something we should solve with an adult mind," he said.

The resolution was referred to the RAM resident-management committee for study and Marburger was made a temporary member of the committee. It will be brought up for discussion after a committee report next Monday night, he said.

Richard Scott, resident director of Selleck Quadrangle, said that the idea could be good if handled correctly and if everyone adhered to the policy decided upon. It would be a contributing factor to the social growth and adeptness of the residents of Selleck, Scott said.

Dave Kittams, president of RAM, was not too optimistic about the proposal, but said this kind of thinking is an excellent sign in the dorms.

"It shows the men are taking pride in their living quarters and trying to adjust them for the best advantage," Kittams said.

"The need for this resolution point up a few inadequacies of the dorms now on campus. There is a shortage of lounge space in all the dorms," he said.

M. Edward Bryan, director of housing, said the resolution would have to be within the limits of the Associated Women Students (AWS) and other campus groups. If this policy is worked out, Bryan said he felt it would be a good idea.

Helen Snyder, associate dean of Student Affairs, said she did not have a strong opinion on the proposal, but she said it would be a "radical departure" from the former policy.

"One's living quarters are private and not the best place for entertaining" Miss Snyder said.

Jane Benda, president of AWS, also feels that a man's room is not the best place for entertaining. Miss Benda said the proposal would probably spread to women's quarters as well as men's and from there to sorority and fraternity houses.

This could present a factor of inconvenience to others living in the unit, she said. Miss Benda, however, said she could see the good points on both sides of the proposal.

Queen Vote Today ... Big Weekend Ahead

The Homecoming Queen and her attendants will be elected today by the student body. Voting hours are between 8:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. in City Union and 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. in Ag Union.

The results will be machine tabulated by IBM machines at the Lincoln Tabulating Center.

The ten Homecoming Queen finalists are Vicki Cline, Linda Cleveland, Jeanette Coufal, Karen Johnson, Susan Moore, Diane Michel, Mary Kay Rakow, Linda Schlechte, Jan Whitney and Percy Wood.

A weekend of homecoming activity is planned for the University.

A special chartered plane will carry at least 140 alumni from California to Lincoln tomorrow, according to George Bastian, secretary of the Nebraska Alumni Association.

The NU pep band, cheerleaders, and a police escort will meet the jet at the airport.

The Phoenix, Ariz. chapter may also make the trip by special plane, Bastian said.

A first-time homecoming event is planned for Journalism School alumni, according to Dr. William Hall, director. The open house is scheduled from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Saturday in the school's new quarters in Nebraska Hall.

Student Support For Team Seen In Ticket Sales

Student support for the Cornhuskers is greater this year than ever before, according to athletic ticket manager James Pittenger. Seventy-five per cent of the student body have bought season football tickets.

Season ticket sales total 9,355 student tickets, 19,750 public tickets, and 2,300 faculty tickets, Pittenger said.

The Missouri-Nebraska game is the only sellout game and tickets for the Kansas State and Oklahoma State games are still available.

The south stadium seats 2600 freshmen. The remaining 2400 seats available are sold singly on a first-come first-serve basis for $5.00.

All seats this year are reserved seats and sell for $5.00 apiece.

Math Major To Give Church Organ Recital

Harry Kelton, senior mathematics major at the University will give an organ recital Saturday at 8 p.m. at Westminster Presbyterian Church.

The program will include: Introduction and Toccata (William Walond); Prelude, Fugue and Variation (Cesar Franck); Parfita on "O God, Thou Faithful God" (Johann Sebastian Bach); Prelude and Fugue in G minor (Marcel Dupre); and The Shepherds and God Among Us from The Nativity Suite (Olivier Messiaen).

The public is invited to attend.

Knitting Class Starts Today At Ag Campus

Girls interested in learning to knit may join knitting classes at Ag Union.

A series of six lessons begins today at 4 p.m. in the Ag Union lounge. There is no fee.

Homecoming reunion will be held at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education all day Friday and Saturday morning.

All alumni will attend the homecoming luncheon at 11 a.m. Saturday at the Lincoln Hotel.

Following the Nebraska-Kansas State football game, the open house and coffee for all alumni will be at the Nebraska Union.

The lights will go on at homecoming displays for public viewing at 7 p.m. Friday night. Sororities, fraternities, and living units will compete for attention and prizes.

Alumni and students will dance to the music of Maynard Ferguson's orchestra beginning at 9 p.m. Saturday at Pershing Municipal Auditorium.

Tickets for the Homecoming Dance are being sold between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. this week at the Student Union and the Ag Union.

Tassels and Corn Cobs are selling the tickets for $3.50 per couple.

"Ticket sales are going very well," according to Gary Oye, Corn Cob treasurer.

Lincoln radio station, KLIN, will feature music by Maynard Ferguson during the evening show between 7 p.m. and 12 midnight from now until Saturday.

Announcements will be made that he will be conducting for the homecoming dance.

The Alumni Association will entertain the administrative staff at the University, including the deans of the colleges and the board of directors of the association at a social hour and dinner at the University Club Friday evening.

The board of directors of the Alumni Association will meet Friday at 3:30 p.m.

Spirit Boosts Cornhuskers As Chicken Wire Unfolds

By Mark Plattner
Junior Staff Writer

This is the 41st year that stuffing, folding, stapling, cutting, and chicken wire have taken the place of classes as the major purpose of being at the University.

Since the year 1923, when the first meager Homecoming displays were built, the fad has progressed to the extravagant wonders of the present season.

Cornhusker football fortunes have gone up and down in this time, but the same determination has always been a major part of Homecoming.

In the year 1930 only $25 was allowed to be spent for a display. The present limit, set in 1962, is $300 for combined displays, and $200 for single efforts.

In 1915 the Homecoming "Mixer" was held in Grant Memorial. There were fireworks, a band concert, and a dance.

In 1923, the Memorial Stadium was dedicated as a part of the Homecoming ceremonies.

In 1930 a torch light parade was held. A bonfire was started with the materials

Spanish 'Cuadernos' Recognizes University

A Spanish literary magazine has called attention to the University's Latin American Area Studies program in its October issue.

An editor in "Cuadernos," an internationally circulated magazine published in Paris, France, cited the growing interest in Latin America among students at the University.

The University's Latin American Area Studies program was organized last spring. The program is possible for students to obtain a strong minor in Latin American studies. Students also may take part in an exchange program with El Colegio de Mexico at Mexico City.

provided by Lincoln merchants, and 50 gallons of crude oil.

1937 saw the corner stone of the Student Union laid, but no Homecoming Queen. Festivities were heightened by the Kosmet Klub fall show in the morning.

A traditional Tug of War was a major attraction in 1940. The freshmen stood against the sophomores. If the freshmen won, they could discard their beanies, if they lost, they wore their beanies till the first snow fall.

World War II held down Homecoming in every way. Decorations could not cost in excess of $7. The program was under the control of the War Council, and second place prize was $5 in war stamps. 135 tickets were available for the dance.

Dedications seem to be the prevalent theme of Homecoming: Carillon Tower was dedicated in 1949, this caused spirit to swell to such a degree that two pep rallies were held.

1952 was a year of sacrifice.

Pound Fights Size Successfully

Pound Hall has been described as the "hotel dormitory" because of its huge rather impersonal structure.

"How can the girls who live in Pound ever feel a part of things in such an impersonal atmosphere?"

The question can be answered, in part, by understanding just how Pound Hall is organized.

Each of the 12 floors in Pound is organized individually as a house. Each floor has officers elected to carry out plans and activities for the individual house.

A committee or council is formed of the officers from each floor, i.e. the presidents' cabinet, treasurers' cabinet. These cabinets seek to compile the ideas suggestions or problems of each individual floor through the floor's representative and make sugges-

The fraternities and sororities donated the money allotted for Homecoming to the Pello Campaign.

For drama, excitement, and a word to the wise, 1961 was the best year for Homecoming. This was the year of the Sigma Nu fire, the lost card section, and Les Elgart.

The Sigma Nu display burned Friday afternoon 30 minutes before the judges were to make their rounds. The Sigma Nu's, with the help of the other Greeks who had finished their displays helped the house to rebuild their display. The Phi Delta Theta display burned down later in the evening.

The card section, in a moment of exuberance, threw the cards all over the stadium, tore them up, or took them home as souvenirs. The damage was estimated to be $800.

Les Elgart was featured at the Homecoming Dance. After the dance Elgart and his band were to be found in jail. They were charged with illegal possession of narcotics.

Back to the stuffing, folding, and cutting, who knows what will happen?

Morrison Speaks To YD's Tonight

Governor Frank Morrison will address the University Young Democrats tonight in the Student Union Conference rooms at 7:30 p.m.

The Governor, who is seeking a third term Nov. 3, will speak on education.

Mrs. Stewart Udall, wife of the Secretary of Interior, and Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt Jr. will also attend the meeting.

There will be a meeting of the central committee at 7 p.m. in 346 Student Union. A new president will be selected.

Morrison Commends TV-Education Series

"Nebraska on the Move," a series planned and directed by KNUO-TV, University education television station, was commended by Governor Frank Morrison.

The series on the state's agricultural, economic and recreational growth will help keep Nebraskans informed about state government, Morrison said.

"Nebraska agriculture meets industry," is the first program to be aired.

Parking Survey Shows Availability Of Spaces

By Wallis Lundeen
Junior Staff Writer

A survey of parking lots on campus made by the Student Council Parking Committee showed parking spaces are available at all times throughout the day.

According to Bill Poppert, chairman of the Parking Committee, each lot was checked every hour Tuesday and Wednesday, and the number of empty stalls were counted.

The first area included the metered and free lots near Selleck Quadrangle, and the Student Union lot. These lots were filled to near capacity on both days until 2 p.m. After this time about 25 stalls were empty in the combined lots.

"I do not recommend this area for 'hunters' between 8:30 a.m. and 2 p.m.," Poppert said.

The second area was the two T Street lots between 9th and 10th, and U Street lot, and the Vine Street lot. This area always had empty stalls except between 10 a.m. and 12 noon on Wednesday.

"Those looking for a spot to park should find it in the Vine Street lot almost anytime during the day," Poppert said.

Between 36 and 87 stalls were open during the two days except during the times noted.

The third area, the Avery Avenue lot north of the field house, had available spaces ranging from 183 at 10 a.m. Wednesday to 607 at 8 a.m. Tuesday.

The last area included the Vine and North Side Avenue, and the Elgin lot.

"These lots were filled to near capacity between 9 a.m. and 12 noon, but thereafter had 65 or more empty spaces. There were 157 at 1 p.m. Wednesday."

"I have heard complaints from many students, usually the big husky males of our campus," Poppert continued, "about how far it is to walk from some of these lots, such as the one on Avery Avenue."

"I hate to think that the sorority girls living in houses on R Street between 16th and 17th have better endurance, for they have to walk farther going to classes in Burnett Hall than those students parked in the Avery lot.

Concerning the necessity for motorcycle owners having to buy a $5 permit, Poppert said the Parking Committee studied the problem and decided not to change the fee.

Poppert listed as reasons the fact that the owner may park near the building where he has classes, it is not necessary to pay for meters, and it is possible to park off campus on 16th and R Streets where no permits are required.

A plea from Police Chief Joe Carroll has been made that all sign stealing be stopped as it may lead to serious injury, Poppert said.

AWS Requires Parents' Consent For Migration

The annual Associated Women Students (AWS) Freshman Activities Mart will be held today in the Student Union Ballroom from 2-5 p.m.

More than 15 activities will be represented at the Mart with booths explaining what their organizations do and the requirements for joining.

Freshman students will be encouraged to join those activities that interest them.

An Activities Mart will also be held on the East Campus today from noon until 3 p.m. in the Ag Union.

The AWS announced following yesterday's meeting that since the Nebraska-Colorado game is not an official migration according to the University, women students are required to have their parents send a letter of special permission directly to their housemother.

They said all women students must leave a specific address of where they will be staying in Colorado with their housemothers.

Freshman AWS workers for this year were also announced after the meeting. They are the following: Jane Alfson and Ann Windle, Alpha Chi Omega; Jodine Brumm, Alpha Delta Pi; Sue Steckley, Alpha Omicron Pi; Jan Parrott, Alpha Xi Delta; Pat Unthank, Cindy Olson and Pat Maurer, Alpha Phi; Jan Binger and Judy La Belle, Chi Omega.

Jane Ross, Delta Delta Delta; Ann Boyles, Sue Dort and Mary Jo Sharrar, Delta Gamma; Jane Yates, Jennifer Marshall and Cathy Housel, Gamma Phi Beta; Carol Strand and Gail Ihle, Kappa Alpha Theta; Marti Hughes and Mary Sullivan, Kappa Delta; Denise Handshuh, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Gail Harvey and Mary McFarland, Pi Beta Phi; Betty Byfield, Heppner; Janet Mills, Sigma Kappa; Pat Schaffer, Zeta Tau Alpha; Jane Searle, Pound; Kay Phillips, Love, Cindy Woodland, Raymond; Sherry Hawk, Love Memorial; Eileen McGill, Burr East; Lava Meyer, Selleck; Betty Hays, Piper; Dorothy Dering and Linda Casper, Towne Club.

Builders Announce Chairman, Assistants

Builders this week announced the selection of new chairmen and assistants.

Diana Focht, chairman First Glance committee; Kathy Bentzinger, Lizz Flebbe, assistants; Cuz Guenzel, special edition editor; Judy Vitamvas, Bill Minier, assistants; An Mulder, Jim Lin-youn, publicity assistants; Candy Sasso advertising salesman.

This year the Pound Hall girls are building a homecoming display in cooperation with other independent women on campus, "encouraged by a little help from a couple of engineers," said Miss Holman.

"You can see the cooperation and pride, the unity we have when you see the signs the girls have put up on the floors noting that Pound Hall's Homecoming Queen candidate is 'our queen,'" Miss Holman said.

The committee hopes to make available several daily newspapers as well as literary, sports and news magazines. The New York Times, Sunday edition has already arrived.

The library is maintained

The committee will try to locate tutors this semester for girls that need extra help. This committee also is responsible for maintaining and increasing the Pound Hall library started last year.

A set of Americana Encyclopedia was donated by Love Library to begin an experiment with a library maintained by an individual housing unit.

Webster's Third New International Dictionary, etiquette books, literary guides and other books were added to the library.
