STUDENT COUNCIL this week released and approved a policy statement concerning the upcoming Council Constitutional Convention, approving the automatic placement of constitutional revisions on a general election ballot in a special election.

UNIVERSITY BUILDERS announced a program to give special recognition to outstanding professors. Living units and Lincoln students will be given an opportunity to nominate their choice for the award of $500.

LEWIS FOWLES, assistant dean of Student Affairs, said this week that no down slips, as known in the past, will be issued this year. Taking their place will be "Progress Reports," which will be sent to students who are not doing satisfactory work and their parents. Satisfactory work is considered to be a grade of four or better on the University scale.

A DEBATE between the Young Republicans and the Young Democrats Wednesday gave the two groups an opportunity to square off on next week's election. George Kimball and Bob Cherny took the Democratic side, against Republicans George Duranske and Bill Harding.

CITY . . .

BARRY GOLDWATER, JR., the son of the Republican Presidential nominee, visited Lincoln this week and predicted his father would be elected president on the strength of currently noncommitted votes. Goldwater, 26, said he had difficulty believing polls showing the Democrats ahead, because GOP grassroots canvassing showed "we are doing very well."

TEACHERS flocked to Lincoln yesterday for a two-day convention of the Nebraska State Educational Association (NSEA). More than 4,000 teachers from Nebraska elementary and secondary high schools were registered for the meetings.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE approval for a drive among city industries and businessmen to finance a seminar on national security was given this week. The seminar would be one of 14 to be conducted across the nation by the Industrial College of the Armed Forces. It would be held in Lincoln Feb. 15 and the estimated cost would be $3,000.

STATE . . .

OMAHA CONGRESSMAN Glenn Cunningham rested in an Omaha hospital following a collapse last week. Doctors said his illness was not serious and that he would be released before the election. Cunningham's brother, Robert, said the congressman was suffering from hypoglycemia, a sudden drop in blood-sugar. Cunningham is running for re-election against Richard Swenson.

GARY ANDERSON of Axtell, a student at Hastings College, returned triumphantly to his home state after winning the Olympic Gold Medal in Rhythmic at the Olympic Games in Tokyo. Anderson beat 54 of the world's greatest marksmen for the title.

GRAND JURY hearings will begin in Omaha Nov. 16 in connection with charges against several city officials who were accused of agreeing to accept payments in return for special favors in a city rezoning project.

NATION . . .

PRESIDENT Lyndon Johnson and his opponent, Sen. Barry Goldwater swung into their last full week of campaigning for Tuesday's election with polls calling for a Johnson victory. Each added several new campaign phrases to an already bulging supply: Goldwater accused Johnson of "political daddysm" and Johnson told a crowd that Goldwater was "gambling with human destiny."

NINE PERSONS were killed Tuesday when a Navy bomber crashed into the El Centro Naval Air Facility in California. The plane was participating in a Navy Day low-level demonstration and crashed into several buildings.

President Lyndon Johnson was the students' choice as he defeated Barry Goldwater in the Student Council's mock election Wednesday.

The Johnson-Humphrey ticket defeated the Goldwater-Miller team by polling 971 votes to their total of 769.

A total of 1,755 students voted in the election as they gave the Democrats a four to three margin in mock election contests won.

This Democratic tendency was a big reversal of the election results in the 1960 mock election. In that year the University students favored only two Democrats while choosing six Republicans as their favorites.

Among the six winning Republican candidates was the presidential team of Nixon and Lodge which defeated the Democrats' Kennedy and Johnson by nearly a two to one margin. Nixon and Lodge also swept the state-wide vote in Nebraska, but they were defeated nationally.

Barry Goldwater Jr. Made Honorary YR

The Young Republicans yesterday awarded honorary membership in their organization to Barry Goldwater, Jr., son of the Republican Presidential nominee.

Goldwater was honored at a noon luncheon at the Lincoln hotel.

Living Standards Determine Vote Says Democrat Committeeman

Today's high standard of living will determine the outcome of the election, said Marvin Werve, Democratic National Committeeman, at the meeting of the Young Democrats last night.

"People will be going to the polls, well-fed, well-clothed, and educated, and satisfied with the present administration. These people aren't willing to give up the standard of living which they're used to," Werve said.

According to Werve, the farm policy will influence the Midwest, and Civil Rights legislation will influence the South. Nationally, Werve said, the economic condition of the country will influence the overall outcome of the election.

On the state level, Werve said that Nebraska has been represented by the Republican party for 24 of the last 32 years. He asked if there was any doubt why Nebraska hasn't progressed industrially and vocationally.

Werve said that Morrison is an outstanding governor, and that Sorensen would be an equally outstanding Lt. governor. "The governor and Lt. governor need to see eye to eye," he said.

"The benefits to Nebraska will be great if the Democrats win the state elections, since we will have a Democratic President," Werve said.

Clair Callan, campaigning for Congress, first district, said that a charge by Republicans that he was spreading malicious information about the incumbent Ralph Beermann, was fallacious. "I was only publishing his voting record," said Callan.

"Beermann has voted against social security, improving college facilities, vocational education and the Civil Rights bill. He was one of the five Congressmen who voted against the Kennedy half dollar, and he has said that the school lunch program is unconstitutional," Callan said.

Callan said that Nebraska needs new industry, to expand job opportunities and wages. "People shouldn't have to say that Nebraska is a place that they are from, but a place where they are living," Callan said.

Dick Shugrue, Young Democrat president in 1958, reported Goldwater's voting record. "Goldwater has voted against the tax cut, the civil rights bill, the nuclear test ban treaty, minimum wage increase, and aid to education," Shugrue said.

Shugrue noted "Goldwater's inconsistency and obliviousness to his own previously stated positions." In Phoenix, 1961, Goldwater said, "I have come to the reluctant conclusion that the United States no longer has a place in the United Nations."

Shugrue said that later in an interview June 29, 1964, Goldwater said "I've never advocated withdrawing from the UN. I've given more support to it than have some of my critics." Shugrue said that Rockefeller had to remind Goldwater what his stand on the UN was.

Shugrue reminded the YD's that since 1960, "the gross national product has risen, there has been a 13 billion dollar tax cut, and that the Communists have been forced to stop their spread of perversion in the Western Hemisphere."

Saturday morning the YD's will be distributing balloons and leaflets downtown. Bob Cherny, YD president, urged anyone who was interested in helping to come down to the Democratic headquarters at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Halgren Aids Grad Careers

By GALE POKORNY
Nebraskan Reporter

A graduating University student who doesn't know his future employer is a rarity these days and within a few years will become a thing of the past. This is a result of much on the part of Frank Halgren, Director of Placement and his staff of three in the Placement Division.

The division's main function is to acquaint seniors with job opportunities in their chosen fields.

Halgren said any student who would like to avail himself to this service should go to the third floor of the Student Union and look over the job listings and information posted on the bulletin board outside the office. He then may use the Division's library which contains information and literature on almost any field of interest to the University graduate.

One of the staff members is in the library to answer questions about the material found there. The Division then sends the student's data to any company in which he is interested.

In addition to this Halgren will personally talk to the student and try to arrange an interview between the student and a representative of a large company with job openings in field.

Last year over four hundred came to the University to talk with prospective employees. According to Halgren on a typical day the Ford Motor Co. and Dow Chemical Co. from Michigan, Boeing Aircraft from Kansas, Texas Instruments from Texas, Caterpillar from Illinois and the Atomic Division of Phillips Petroleum from Idaho were represented. Although rare, even an occasional foreign job opening appears.

Nebraska alumni who for one reason or another wish to relocate can also contact the Division and make full use of its services.

Halftime To Show Husker Football In 75th Year

An all time record crowd of 48,000 University of Nebraska football fans will be reminded at halftime ceremonies Saturday that Americans were still fighting Indians when the University played its first football game in 1890.

The University Marching Band, under the direction of Jack Snider, will commemorate the 75th years of Cornhusker football and will enter the playing field with an Indian dance.

As the bandmen form the letters Husker and 1890, fans will hear a brief history of names the team was once known by: "The Old Gold Knights", "Rattlesnake Boys", "Antelopes", and "Bug-eaters".

Snider's musicians will play the old Nebraska music with the new, including "March of the Cornhuskers", "The Cornhusker", "Hail Nebraska", "Hail Varsity", and "There is No Place Like Nebraska".

The bandmen also will remind the fans to vote with a surprise formation and the music, "The Best Things In Life Are Free".

Floyd Bottorf will be honored for his 35 years as equipment manager.

Dental Neophytes Practice In Clinic

Since 1928 the College of Dentistry on the third floor of Andrews Hall has provided not only the opportunity for dental neophytes to exercise their training, but also an on-campus dental clinic.

Accepting students on the basis of character, scholastic records and dentistry aptitude, the College now admits about 30 graduates of Arts and Science pre-dentistry each year.

When a student is a junior or senior in the Dental College he can begin work on patients.

Minister Discusses Sex With University Women

Palmer

Sex is a means for understanding who we are, Dr. Robert Palmer, senior pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church, said to an audience of University college women last night.

Dr. Palmer spoke to the group on "Sex and the College girl" as the final activity of Standards Week sponsored by Associated Women's Students.

"Today not many worry about how little, or how much sex is involved, you just take it as it comes," he said.

What must be remembered is that sex is not merely a physical relationship, it is on a human level of interpersonal communication. "Sex is communication and is responsible. That fact needs to be underlined again and again," he said.

"Some say, I love and leave them. You can't," Dr. Palmer said. "When you are really related in love there are others affected."

"Sex is a social relationship, we are responsible to others around us, to those before us and to those behind us," he said.

We can say sex relationships are involved in all of our lives because it is a social relationship affecting many.

Dr. Palmer noted the number of articles printed in magazines recently concerning sex and the college girl and sex relationships on campus. "I don't believe the whole story has been told," he said. "Sex has an involvement of higher values, of God, if it were not for this fact we wouldn't have an AWS, or a Standards Week."

"God created us for a deep personal relationship with

Morrison 1167
Burney 629

Incumbent Frank Morrison was nearly a two-to-one favorite of the University students as he defeated Republican Dwight Burney for governor in Wednesday's mock election.

Morrison garnered a total of 1,116 votes to Burney's total of 629.

The governor, who is campaigning for his third two-year term as the state's chief executive, last year openly expressed disappointment that the mock election favored his Republican opponent in 1962, Fred Seaton.

In the race for Lieutenant Governor, Democrat Phil Sorensen defeated Republican Charles Thone by a margin of 961 to 767.

Incumbent United States Senator Roman Hruska, a Republican, got 1,056 votes to defeat Democratic hopeful Raymond Arndt's total of 659.

In the races for the House of Representatives, Democrat Clair Callan defeated Republican incumbent Ralph Beermann by a margin of 497 to 379 in the first district.

In the second district, Republican incumbent Glenn Cunningham polled 225 votes to Democrat Richard Swenson's 155.

Incumbent Republican Dave Martin was the student's choice in the third district as he got 236 votes. Democrat Dr. William Colwell received 202 votes.

A parade will begin at 6:15 by the south Union steps and will go down 16th street to the parking lot.
