IFC Announces Tutoring Program

A freshmen Tutorial Program for pledges will begin Sunday. John Cosier, scholarship chairman of IFC, announced last night at the Inter-Fraternity Council meeting.

Tutoring will be given in six different fields; Business Organization, English, Chemistry, Zoology, Spanish and German.

"We believe that the tutors are well qualified in their field," Cosier said. The English tutor is presently student teaching at University High; the Zoology tutor is a lab instructor at the University.

The Chemistry tutor is a Career Scholar in chemistry. The Spanish tutor has studied in Mexico; and the German tutor has lived in Germany and worked as an interpreter, Cosier said.

"We are still looking for tutors in Biology and French," Cosier announced. He reminded the council that tutors were being paid $2 an hour.

Tutors will be helping freshmen pledges from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Sunday. Room numbers for the different groups will be posted on the Union Calendar.

Questionnaires concern Eppley Staff Members Attend Research Meet

Three members of the staff at the Eppley Cancer Institute, University College of Medicine, attended the meeting of the American Federation for Clinical Research, last week at Thorne Hall, Northwestern University Medical School, Chicago.

Byron Antonomos, research associate in radiobiology at Eppley, presented a paper entitled "Effects of Hyperbaric Oxygen on Ehrlich Ascites Tumor Cells" before the Federation.

John Foley, M.D., Ph.D., assistant professor of internal medicine and chief coordinator of medicine therapy projects, and Perry Rigby, M.D., assistant professor of internal medicine and head of the section on hematology also attended the meeting.

Money Means More Minutes

Late date night, sponsored by Mortar Boards, will be open to University coeds Saturday night after the Kosmet Klub show.

On late date night, all coeds are allowed to stay out until 2 a.m., with the provision that their dates pay a penny for each minute after 1 a.m. the girls are out.

Barber Shop Quintet Quips, Clips In Union

Where's the best place on campus to get clipped? At the Student Union Barber Shop, according to the shop's five friendly barbers.

The barbers are: Pat Markusen, Elmer Neukirch, Frank Kuhn, James Hiller and Warren Engler. All of them have had previous working experience as barbers.

"We really enjoy working here, it is a lot nicer than downtown. You don't have to worry about drunks and people like that coming in," Kuhn said. The students are more interested to be with. We talk about the football team and girls," he said.

"Girls never come down for hair cuts, but we do sell them cosmetics and hair spray," Neukirch said. "When we aren't busy, we go upstairs to the Crib and watch them. We're members of the girl watching club," he said.

The barber shop, which is located in the basement, is open everyday except Sunday from 8 a.m. to 5:15 p.m. Most of the hair cuts are made by appointment, but there are two open chairs.

The barbers are Union employees and work on commission.

Markussen is the youngest of the five and is a student at the University. "I enjoy working here except when the other guys unscrew the lids to my lotion bottles and I start to pour it on someone," Markusen said.

al conventions, requiring another inquiry this year.

Tom Schwenke, vice president of IFC, said that 60 men had been pledged since Open Rush began October 15. Schwenke urged IFC members to discuss the possibility of another Spring Rush Program with the members of their respective houses.

Doyle Kauk, chairman of Fraternity Managers Association, announced that Sam Baird was his new assistant. Kauk said that some houses were having trouble with their bakery deliveries. He said that any house having this trouble should notify him immediately.

Record Number Sign For Evening Classes

An all-time record of 2,529 registrations for evening classes was reported last week.

Edor Ellingson, supervisor of evening classes, said fall registrars are up 284 from last year's total of 2,245 which equaled previous records set after World War II.

The registrations include 1,558 adults, those who are not carrying 12 or more hours, and 971 campus students carrying 12 hours or more.

"The increase in adult registrations, up 416 from a year ago, apparently is due to more interest in continuing education," Ellingson said.

Architects Hear Talk On Camera Technique

Kas Tada, Manager of Photographic Productions at the University, gave a talk yesterday afternoon in the Woods Building to the members of the Student Chapter of the American Institute of Architecture.

He spoke on 35mm. camera techniques as related to architectural photography. A question and answer period followed.

Associates Committee To Study Nebraskan

Students with ideas for solving the financial situation of the Daily Nebraskan should send their ideas to the associates' committee on the Daily Nebraskan, according to committee chairman Bruce Jensen.

Jensen said the ideas should be sent to the committee through the Student Council office.

Play Tryouts Will Be Monday, Tuesday

Tryouts for twelve parts in three plays will be held Monday, from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. and Tuesday from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. in Room 201 Temple Building.

The plays will be presented Dec. 16 and 17 in the Arena and Laboratory Theater. The three shows include: "The American Dream," a drama by Edward Albee, directed by Jeff Falter. "The Twelve Pound Look," a light comedy by J. M. Barrie, directed by Lynette Loesch. "The Lady of Larkspur Lotion," by Tennessee Williams, directed by Dan Faris.

ROTC Vitalization Act Provides Scholarships

A federal scholarship program for Army and Air Force ROTC students will become a part of the University ROTC program as a result of the ROTC Vitalization Act of 1964.

The Navy's Holloway scholarship program, will be replaced next fall with a program similar to the new Army and Air Force programs.

Scholarships will be available only to students in four-year ROTC programs. Recipients must commit themselves to a minimum of four years of active duty service.

"The new law encourages freshmen to pursue the four year program and go on to receive their commissions," Elmer Powell, commanding officer of the University Army ROTC, said.

Fifty dollars a month and payment of tuition, book costs and laboratory fees will go to 4,000 Army and 4,000 Air Force ROTC cadets. After four years, the number of Army and Air Force scholarships will rise to 5,500. The number of Navy scholarships will be increased immediately to 5,500.

A two-year ROTC program will be authorized and established under the new act which may be run simultaneously with or as a substitute for the current four-year programs.

Diabetes Tests To Be Given

Next week is Diabetes Detection week and the Student Health Service is making an effort to see that everyone on campus has a chance to take the detection test.

The test is a self administered urine test that is then mailed to Student Health for analysis and a confidential report is returned to the person taking the test.

People most likely to have diabetes are those who are over weight, over 40 years old, related to known diabetics, and older women. Although some people have diabetes with no symptoms the most usual are an increase in thirst, constant hunger, frequent urination, loss of weight, itching, easy tiring, changes in vision and slow healing of cuts and scratches.

The test which comes in a convenient envelope will be distributed to the faculty and students. These envelopes will be available in the Student Union and will be given to the living units on request.

Last years test received a good response from the faculty and Selleck Quadrangle. About 30 per cent of the Greeks participated. The poorest response was from the women's housing units.

Associates Committee To Study Nebraskan

Students with ideas for solving the financial situation of the Daily Nebraskan should send their ideas to the associates' committee on the Daily Nebraskan, according to committee chairman Bruce Jensen.

Jensen said the ideas should be sent to the committee through the Student Council office.

er program will have to substitute a six to eight week period of summer training for the first two years of ROTC training.

"Students who choose the two-year program are not eligible for the scholarships," Powell said.

"It is likely that the scholarships will be continued through all four years as a student, if the recipient's work is satisfactory," Powell said.

Scholarships were excluded from the two-year program because it was felt they would draw too many students away from the four-year program and cause its demise at many colleges.

The 1964 ROTC Vitalization Act represents an attempt to remedy the failure of ROTC programs to attract and to retain adequate numbers of students in the advanced, or third or fourth year ROTC course. Completion of the advanced course plus receipt of a degree are necessary to receive a commission.

During the past few years, the Army, Navy, and Air Force have all been unable to fill their quotas of ROTC officers, according to the Senate Armed Forces Committee report.

The University's Army ROTC is supposed to commission 100 cadets each year, Powell said. "Sixty-four were commissioned last year. We expect to commission about 60 to 65 men this year," Powell said.

Among the other provisions of the Act is an expansion of high school "Junior" ROTC programs. These programs are authorized to expand from their current 254 high schools to a maximum of 1200 schools at the rate of 200 a year starting in January, 1966.

Only Omaha high schools are in the "Junior" ROTC program. The Act also contains provisions for raising the retention pay of non-scholarship advanced ROTC students from $27 to at least $40 and up to $50 a month, and raising summer training pay from $78 to $111.15 a month.

The new scholarship and how it will be fully implemented at the University is not yet known, Powell said.

"I think this new law will help the low number of participants we have in ROTC, if we can attract the sophomores," Powell said.

"Anyone who has completed the advanced ROTC training can then decide to complete the required two years of active duty or can look forward to a full career as a military officer.

"From the letters I have received from the satisfied officers who graduated from Nebraska I believe the two years active duty should be considered a rare opportunity," Powell said.

Student Council To Check Devaney's Insurance Policy

By Priscilla Mullins Senior Staff Writer

Student Council yesterday decided to look into the possibility of Coach Bob Devaney's insurance premium, given to him by fans two years ago, coming up for renewal soon.

Sue Graham told Council members that the matter was brought to her attention, and she felt that Council should check on it.

Judiciary chairman JoAnne Stratemann brought to the Council's attention the matter of organizations which have received their constitutions back with suggested changes, and have not made the changes.

She said that some organizations have "gone on their merry way," disregarding the fact that their constitutions are not valid without the Judiciary Committee's approval. Miss Stratemann said that effective now, there is a 60-day limit for all organizations to make the suggested changes and turn their constitutions back in to the Committee.

The Student Council has the power to place any organization on probation, according to Miss Stratemann, and it will do so if the new ruling is not met.

When an organization is put on probation, Miss Stratemann explained, it is not recognized by the University, and thus does not have access to the Student Union for meetings, or to the Student Activity Fund.

The Judiciary Committee approved two constitutions this week, the Society of Mechanized Agriculture, and the Student Religious Liberals organization.

The constitutions for the African Student's Association and the School of Journalism Council were not accepted by the Council, and suggested changes have been made to these two organizations.

New Associate's officers were announced by Sue Graham. They are: Joan McClymont, chairman; Jan Binger, secretary; and Gary Watzke, treasurer.

Activities chairman Susie Segrist told Council members of the three main projects of her committee. These are: revising the activities section of the Campus Handbook in coordination with Curtis Siemers, Student Activities coordinator; looking into membership requirements for campus honoraries; and keeping the Student Activities Office files up to date.

The Council passed a resolution by Bill Hayes calling for the Student Council to "go on record as endorsing the efforts of AUF in their annual campaign for student donations and that the Student Council urge all students to support the campaign."

Galen Frenzen, reporting on the Constitutional Convention, said that George Vrba was elected as parliamentarian. He said that the Convention delegation has divided into two committees: one for representation, and one for organization or structural aspects of the Convention.

In a treasurer's report, Skip Soireff told the Council that there had been a misunderstanding about the financial support of Quiz Bowl.

He said that originally Quiz Bowl was to be on its own financially this year, but had been charging items on the Student Account.

Soireff said that after talking to Cuz Guenzel, Quiz Bowl chairman, it emerged that Quiz Bowl "will be more closely associated with Student Council than had been anticipated."

Bill Poppert, parking Committee chairman, reported to the Council that the check on the inter-campus bus will be tabulated tonight, and the report will be ready for the Council next week.

Scholarship Fund To Be Established In Memoriam

A permanent scholarship in the memory of Nancy Miller of Tekamah was established this week at the University Foundation by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Miller.

Harry Haynie, Foundation president, said the scholarship will provide $100 each year to an upperclassman who is in financial need and shows promise of leadership and academic ability.

Nancy, a 1963 graduate of the University, was killed in a car accident this past month at Santa Ana, California, where she was teaching ninth-grade English.

A campus leader at the University, she was president of Mortar Board and of the Nebraska Union program council and vice-president of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. She also earned a Phi Beta Kappa key. After her graduation, she served as Foundation class agent.

It is hoped that the Fund, established to commemorate the life of Nancy Miller who devoted her interest and abilities to education, both as a scholar and a teacher, will become permanently endowed, Haynie said. Friends of the Miller family may make memorial gifts to the Fund through the University Foundation.

Drag Yer Man To Dogpatch 'U'

Dog Patch "U" opens its doors Friday to the student body of the University at the annual Sadie Hawkins dance.

The "new university" will be located in the gymnasium of the Ag Union on East Campus. The opening will be marked by the selection of Sadie Hawkins and Li'l Abner at the dance, sponsored by the campus recreation committee of Ag Union.

Entering through the Dog Patch version of the arch and Columns, between 8:30 p.m. and 12 midnight, the new student body will find the campus features the best things of college life—a dance—starring the Jags, the Barracudas, and the Wanderers.

"Tuition" for the evening will be $1 per person or a $1.50 per couple.

Entrance requirements to Dog Patch "U" are only (gasp!) that the girl invite her date, for the annual Sadie Hawkins runnin' race is on.

Besides the Columns, students will find familiar landmarks like the Towers and a harvest moon over the Union where refreshments will be sold.

Trophies will be presented to Sadie Hawkins and Li'l Abner, after the winners are selected by a vote of the student body at the dance.

Skits by several of the candidates will be presented during intermission and before presentation ceremonies.

Candidates for Sadie Hawkins are Twila Anderson, Delta Delta Delta; Joanne Thurber, Chi Omega; Vesty Therman, Love Memorial Hall; Judy Windle, Pi Beta Phi; Mary Ulbrick, Alpha Xi Delta; Georgia Stevens, Alpha Chi Omega and Nancy Hoffman, Kappa Alpha Theta.

Candidates for Li'l Abner are John Dzerk, Beta Theta Pi; Jack Buchsack, Delta Upsilon; Ken Dinklage, Alpha Gamma Sigma; Bob Norris, Sigma Chi and Ken Beebe, Alpha Gamma Rho.

The candidates will appear on the "Wayne West Morning Show" on KOLN-KGIN TV, Channel 10, Wednesday between 7 a.m. and 8 a.m.
