Rotary Offers Fellowships For Grad Study Abroad

University students are eligible to win one fully paid year of graduate study abroad through the Rotary Foundation Fellowships.

These fellowships are available to both male and female students and are divided into two categories.

Regular Rotary Foundation Fellowships are awarded to young men for a year's graduate study abroad, to provide them with the opportunity to interpret their home countries within the country of study and upon return home to foster an understanding of their country of study.

Among qualifications for the applications are that he must have a friendly personality and ability to speak in public to enable him to make effective contacts abroad and at home.

He must have high scholastic ability and attainment and hold a Bachelor's degree (or its equivalent) by the time the Fellowship is to begin.

In addition, he must be single, between the ages of 20 and 28 inclusive and a citizen of the country of his permanent residence. He is required to be able to read, write and speak the language of the country in which he is to study and he must have an interest in world affairs.

A maximum of ten additional Rotary Foundation Fellowships will also be awarded. These have the same features and requirements as the regular Fellowships except that applicants may be male or female, there is no maximum age limit and the applicant need not be a citizen of his country of permanent residence.

In addition, language ability need not be complete, but the applicant must have a willingness and ability to learn the language of the country of study. A Bachelor's degree or its equivalent is preferred but this requirement may be waived in exceptional circumstances.

These applicants are not required to reside in a country in which there are Rotary clubs but they must be sponsored by a Rotary club in a city where they are known. The amount of the fellowship awards is based on: round trip transportation from the fellow's home to the university city in which he is to study; full tuition and registration fees; essential books and study materials; room and board; incidental living costs; and limited educational travel expenses within the country of study.

Applicants must be sponsored by and make applications through the Rotary club in or nearest to their permanent residence. This must be done not later than April 15, 1965.

Applicants will be required to list at least five universities, not more than three of

Other Campuses— Illini Men Offer Carols By Phone

Students at the University of Illinois are trying to help people get in the Christmas spirit by letting them hear their favorite Christmas carols.

For the third straight year, the residents of Snyder Hall (a men's dorm) are providing the area around the Illini campus with Dial-A-Carol service.

Residents of the hall man a telephone in shifts around the clock where anyone may call and request to hear their favorite carol. The Snyder man then puts the carol on a record player hooked up to the phone.

Last year Dial-A-Carol received more than 3,000 calls. They even received a call from Honolulu, Hawaii. The story of the service had been put on the UPI wire service and was carried by papers all over the country.

The Snyder men report that they receive several calls from children who think they're talking to Santa Claus.

The future of political freedom and peace at the University of California now rests with the decision of the Board of Regents there.

This was determined earlier this month when the school's faculty voted by an 8 to 1 margin to join the students in demanding that the controversial restrictions on free speech on the campus and off-campus political activity by students be thrown out.

The faculty's action climaxed several days of massive arrests and a University strike.

Following a nearly continuous battle between the University's students and Administration since the school year began, students staged a gigantic sit-in on December 3rd.

California Governor Brown then ordered the State Highway Patrol onto the campus to break the demonstration. Arrests continued for twelve hours and did not end until 768 students had been arrested.

In retaliation, the student body staged a strike the next day and Cal's classrooms were nearly deserted. Now following the faculty's endorsement of the students' stand, the future possibility of political repression and certain turmoil is up to the Regents.

Labor Contract Mock Sessions Held By Classes

The second of a series of 10 labor contract bargaining sessions was held yesterday by students in the advanced industrial relations class in Business Administration and labor law class students in the College of Law.

Two teams of students representing management and labor participated in the session, with law students assigned to each team.

The cooperative program was developed by Dr. William Torrence, associate professor of business organization and management with the cooperation of John Gradwohl, professor of law.

"This is an inter-disciplinary approach on both a student and teacher level between the subject areas of law and business administration," Torrence said. "Several purposes are involved. First, we want to give the students an opportunity to test their understanding of the theories and principles of their particular discipline."

"Second," he said, "it appears pedagogically sound to have this application of principles and theories done under conditions that more nearly approximate the 'real world.'"

The students are given an existing contract with accompanying financial statements. Through the process of collective bargaining, they are to come up with a new contract that is not only mutually acceptable to the parties, but attempts to pay attention to the public interest.

The labor team is made up of six students: Reynold McMeen, Delwin Anderson, Darrell Buss, Nadene Gardner, James Masonbrink and Larry Roos. Legal counsels for the team are Richard Stuckey and Larry Long.

Five students make up the management team. They are: Richard Buckley, Glenn Francis, Donald Haney, William Marsh and David Powell. Legal counsels for the team are Carl Alexis and Arthur Toodgood.

Program Abroad Offers Culture

For University students who are interested in going to European cities next summer to study the language, culture and civilization of the country for a nine-week stay, the classrooms abroad program is available.

The program is designed for the serious student who does not plan to see all of Europe in a short summer. The following cities are included in the program: Berlin, or Tubingen in Germany; Vienna or Baden in Austria; Vichy, Grenoble or Rouen in France; Neuchatel in Switzerland; Madrid or Santander in Spain; and Florence, Italy.

Graded classes in small sections of six to ten students, each under the supervision of American and native professors, will deal with the reading of classical and modern texts, the daily press, contemporary problems, conversation and composition, pronunciation and grammar.

Students will have full auditing privileges at the university in each of the selected towns and cities and will participate in all academic and social activities with students of the various countries.

For further information, students may write to Classrooms Abroad, Box 4171 University Station, Minneapolis, Minn. 55414.

Hospital Sets Pay By Ability

The University Hospital in Omaha began utilizing a newly adopted "ability to pay" schedule for both inpatients and outpatients.

The basis of the schedule is the individual patient's gross income and the number in the family.

Eligible for a classification under the "ability to pay" schedule, other than those patients who fall under the "full charge" category, are Nebraska state residents only.

Medical care expenditures for a family with an annual income under $3,000 were used as a base percentage in the new plan. An average ten day hospital stay was assumed in determining the charge to income ratio. Normal family expenses such as food and rent were included in the schedule.

Unusual or continuing medical, dental expenses and child care expenses for a mother who is sole support of the family, will be deducted from the gross income before computing the hospital charges.

Under the new "ability to pay" plan, a family with a monthly gross income of $240 and four children would fall into the first sub-classification. The family would pay 20 per cent of the inpatient rate and the outpatient rates would be dismissed.

The same basic classification in the schedule means that an outpatient will receive clinic care free of charge. Cost of medications will be the responsibility of the patient.
