Former Grad Active As Missile Commander

Capt. Leon Kroenke, a university graduate participated in the latest successful launch of a U.S. Air Force Minuteman ballistic missile from Vandenberg AFB, Calif.

Kroenke, a missile combat crew commander, is a member of a Minuteman combat crew permanently assigned to a Strategic Air Command (SAC) unit at Ellsworth AFB, S.D. SAC keeps the nation's intercontinental missiles and jet bombers on constant alert.

The live launch here marked the first time these SAC missile combat crewmen actually had fired a Minuteman. The shot was one in a series of firings being conducted by SAC combat crews who come to Vandenberg on temporary duty to launch the missiles.

Med School Gets $200,000

Three retired Omaha public school teachers have given the University Foundation a gift of stocks valued at $200,000 to establish a memorial to their parents.

The income from the permanently endowed fund will be used for the benefit of the College of Medicine at Omaha, Harry Haynie, foundation president, said.

The donors, he said, wish to remain anonymous.

The trust agreement stipulates that the annual income be used to support: "scholarships or loans for needy and worthy students endeavoring to secure a medical education at the College of Medicine," "fellowships for needy and worthy graduate students pursuing advanced studies in medicine or surgery at the College," and "research in medicine or surgery."

Should there be no need for the scholarship, fellowship, or research support, the agreement provides the foundation's directors may turn the income to some other Medical College activity.

Dean Cecil Wittson of the College of Medicine called the gift, "a fine contribution."

"One of our greatest needs," he said, "is to find financial assistance for worthy students."

Wittson also said he is very pleased that the gift "will help us to conduct research investigations on a firm, continuing basis."

The $200,000 gift is the second large contribution received by the University for benefit of the College of Medicine.

Earlier the Foundation received $650,000 from the estate of Mrs. Mary Marischal of Spokane, Wash., to establish a teaching and research fund at the college. A companion bequest from the $1.2 million estate of Mrs. Marischal's sister, the late Mrs. Bertha Stokes Little, formerly of Omaha, is being held in trust but will eventually become available, Haynie said.

Phi Eta Sigma Offers Graduate Scholarships

Scholarships are available to graduating seniors who plan to work for graduate degrees and are members of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman honor society.

The National Phi Eta Sigma fraternity offers six $300 scholarships each year on the basis of the student's scholastic record, evidence of ability and need and promise of success in chosen field.

Interested students should contact Leslie Hewes, faculty adviser, at 104 Geography building.

Local deadline for applications is Feb. 24.

Unionizing

"From the West," a selection of 51 new paintings and drawings by West Coast painters, will be shown in the Student Union Gallery lounge starting tomorrow.

The show, which will last until Feb. 11, is on national tour, sponsored by the Art Bank of the San Francisco Art Institute.

Three noted San Francisco artists — Erle Loran, Louis Siegrist and Landy Siegrist — juried the exhibition which contains a broad range of work including cubism, abstract expressionism, "pop" art, thick, richly worked oils, delicate pastels and precisely painted hard edge works.

Among the nationally known artists in the exhibition are Carl Morris, whose one-man show is currently touring the United States under Ford Foundation auspices; Robert McChesney, represented in the collection of the Whitney Museum; Roland Peterson with recent one-man exhibitions at the Staempfli Gallery, N.Y.C.

David Simpson, one of the Museum of Modern Art's 15 "Americans — 1963," Wayne Thiebaud, whose recent exhibition at Allan Stone, N.Y.C., was subject of extensive articles in Art International and Time magazine; and George Miyasaki, recent winner of a Guggenheim Fellowship.

The Art Bank of the San Francisco Art Institute is a collection of current work by over 200 leading West Coast painters, sculptors and print-makers. Founded in 1958 with a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation, the Art Bank is maintained by the Art Institute as an educational project to make the finest West Coast art available to a wide national audience.
