

Three Organizations Offer Acting Practice

Three major organizations offer dramatically inclined students the opportunity to practice and improve their abilities.

The Laboratory and Experimental Theaters are for those students who are enrolled in theater classes. From 15-20 one-act lab plays are produced by these students each semester.

The University Theater is open to any University student who is interested in theater productions. Two plays per semester and an opera with the University Orchestra are included in the main season productions.

Interviews Switched From Thursday Night

The 1965 Delta Delta Delta National Fund Scholarship applications are now available from Mrs. Drury Pifer, 505 Boston Street, Seattle, Wash. 98109. Deadline is March 1, 1965.

Women students in colleges where there are Tri Delta chapters are eligible to apply. They may, or may not, be sorority members, and there is no restriction as to race, creed or national origin, but applicants must be at least juniors.

Six awards of $500 each are to be made. One award will be made to each of six geographical areas representing twenty or more campuses with Tri Delta chapters. Successful candidates will be notified by May 1, 1965.

Scholarships will be forwarded to the winners at the beginning of the term for which the awards are granted. Scholarships may be used for the 1965 summer session.

The local chapter of Delta Delta Delta is also sponsoring two scholarships for tuition in the spring under the same stated above. Applications for conditions of eligibility as these scholarships may be obtained from the Tri Delta house.

Argentinian Becomes University Frosh

By Keith Sinor
Junior Staff Writer

Marina MacDonnell arrived last week from Buenos Aires to begin classes as a freshman in the University. She is 17 years old and is majoring in architecture.

Miss MacDonnell's grandfather, the Honorable D. P. West of Nebraska City, is a 1901 graduate, and her mother received her master's degree and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa here.

Miss MacDonnell has lived in Argentina with her parents for nine years, speaks Spanish fluently and has already taken college-level examinations in Argentina, at Northlands private school for girls in Buenos Aires.

She said that life and school were much different here and that she liked the students she has met very well.

When asked how she liked American food, her one complaint was that our "coffee tastes like burnt toast and is far too watery." She noted that students drink much more milk here than they do in Argentina. Explaining she said, "Milk there is not pasteurized and often is not safe to drink."

Miss MacDonnell commented that life seems to run far more efficiently here and complimented the University on its beautiful campus buildings.

One difference that she noted in the students was the apparent political apathy that exists in the United States in comparison to the Latin American nations. She said she regretted that "no one seems interested in the political or economic happenings within their own country."

You only know the half of it.

Our business no longer hangs by a fiber—cellulosic or otherwise. Far from it. We're researching, producing and marketing a rich range of products—chemicals, plastics, paints, forest products and petroleum products—all over the world.

Sales have more than quadrupled in the past 10 years. "Celanese" sales growth, its hefty interests in chemicals and its hugely expanded foreign operations have already moved it into a big new class," said CHEMICAL WEEK in a recent article.*

What does this mean to you?

Since our future expansion depends on our continued ability to develop top-notch people, it is, after all, in our own best interest to bring you along as fast as you can take it, and give you all the support you need—in your technical specialty or in management.

LET'S MAKE A DATE. Give our college representative a chance to fill you in on more of the specifics. He will be on your campus within the next two weeks—arrange through your Placement Office to see him. If you miss our visit, drop a postcard listing your major study to Mr. E. J. Corry, Supervisor of College Relations, Celanese Corporation of America, 522 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10036.
