

Huskers Win On The Road—

Cipriano Crew Hits ISU

By James Pearse

It was a sticky Nebraska defensive press and spirited shooting from Fred Hare as he came off the bench in the second half that characterized a 69-65 Husker victory at Iowa State Saturday night.

With Joe Cipriano again starting the contingent of Campbell, Spears, Webb, Branch, and Simmons, Nebraska jumped to an early 13-5 lead. Campbell hit three field goals in these opening moments, while the press employed by this group again proved its worth as it forced ISU out of their offensive game.

Jerry Spears did another fine job on the boards which in part enabled the Huskers to work their control offense to a 32-26 intermission advantage.

Grant Simmons continued to add to his string of steady performances highlighted by a strong scoring punch. He finished the night as a team leader with 18 points.

After the half time break, Cyclone star Bob Ziegler broke from the Husker defense that had corraled him during the first twenty minutes.

Along with Al Koch, Ziegler brought Iowa State to a 44-44 tie nearing the mid point of the second half. A free throw by the 6'2" guard from Laurens, Iowa, put ISU on top for the first time Saturday evening.

Seconds later the home-standing Cyclones held what proved to be their largest and last bulge of the game, 47-44.

This three point spread ushered in the man who is fast becoming the best sixth man in the Big Eight, Fred Hare. There were about ten minutes on the Army clock as the Omaha sophomore hit the floor. Not only did Coach Grant Simmons . . . Junior Terror shown here laying one up against Missouri, has become one of the offensive mainstays of Coach Joe Cipriano's ballclub. He hit for eighteen against Iowa State Saturday night.

Cipriano put a hot hand in his line-up, but he also threw in the pressing defense to iron out the Husker's habitual second half slump.

In the waning moments it was press (the team) and pump (Hare). Freddie clicked for twelve last-half markers, several coming during the crucial times around the five minute mark when Nebraska balanced precariously between victory and defeat.

In the final analysis, Hare came away with 15 points, seven rebounds (tied with Spears for team honors), and respectable hustle on the late pressing efforts.

The Huskers go into the final weeks of the season as a definite threat for a fifth place finish in the conference and an over-all percentage of .500.

Basketball Tournament Completes First Week

By Bob Gibson

Some romps, some stumps, many close games, and a week of the intramural basketball tournament has been completed.

Probably one of the most hotly contested games so far was the Beta Theta Pi "A" Alpha Tau Omega "A" league contest. Trailing by nine at half, the Betas consistently chopped away at the ATO's lead to tie the game with less than a minute remaining.

Beta Bob Trotter was fouled on a drive with only a few seconds remaining, and sank his free throw after the time had run out for a 33-32 win.

Navy ROTC scored a 43-40 win over the Ed Psychs to advance in their league. The Ed Psychs, regular season conquerer of NROTC couldn't pull this one out despite three men in double figures (Tom Osborne-14, Al Olson-12, and Dave Theisen-10).

NROTC kept ahead most of the game and used Mike Ernst's game high of 19 points and Hap Holziafel's 11 to ice the win.

Pioneer House pulled out a 41-35 win over Alpha Gamma Sigma in the fourth quarter. Tom Ham of Pioneer House was game high scorer with 23 points with teammate Pat Mahar second at 12. High for the losers was Jim Kmoock with 11.

Cornhusker Co-op and Sigma Alpha Mu played a nip-and-tuck game down to the final buzzer with Co-op coming out on top by a 37-34 margin. Eugene Zitek was high for the winners with 17 points, while Jeff Kushner's 18 points took game honors for the Samies.

Ag Men "B" swamped Delta Sigma Pi 34-14 on the strength of Jerry Leising's 22 points. Delta Sigma Pi could manage only four points in the first half, but jumped to ten in a fast moving third quarter which saw the Ag Men respond with twelve points.

A contest of powerhouses occurred between Sigma Phi Epsilon "A" and Phi Kappa Psi "A" with the Sig Eps coming out on top by the unusually wide margin of 45-36. Phi Kappa Psi was on top by two points at the half only to see their lead slip away under a scoring drought in the third and fourth periods. Tim Schmad scored 14 points for the victors while Jerry Webb and Bill Marshall paced the Phi Psis with 12 and 11 points respectively.

The fast moving Sigma Nu "A" team downed Delta Tau Delta "A" 50-42. Down by one at half the Sigma Nu's decided defense was the answer, and cut down the Delta scoring in the second half. This coupled with their fine scoring duo of Bob Witte (23 points) and Bill Zuspan (14 points) secured the victory. Marv Mueller was high for the losers with 15 points.

Powerful Track Men Swamp Iowa State, Wyoming Saturday

Nebraska's powerful track team unlimbered its muscles here Saturday against Wyoming and Iowa State. Nebraska piled up a tremendous lead on the track and held its own in the field events to amass 82½ points. Iowa State had 38½ and Wyoming managed 30.

Charles Green, sophomore sprinting sensation, was on the 'bench' as he has a touch of flu. He's expected to be ready for the Big Eight fray in Kansas City this weekend, however.

It was depth that turned the tide for the Huskers, as the thinclads were outscored by one of the other teams in only one track event—the 1,000 yard run.

Husker Lynn Heady showed that he is versatile as well as talented, as he subbed for Green in the 60 yard dash and ran a hot 6.2, then came back in the 60 yard lows to press teammate Ray Harvey after Preston Love hit a hurdle near the finish.

Steve Carson, Iowa State dandy in the quarter, did not run his favorite race, but switched to the 600 yard run where Nebraska team captain Dick Strand pasted him soundly. Dave Crook ran the 440 as planned and won easily in 49.5. The Carson-Crook duel that didn't materialize was a disappointment to the full house at the indoor track.

In the field events, the Huskers managed three victories. Jack Cramer sailed to an easy high jump victory at 6'2½. Cramer's best to date is a 6'6" effort last year which he hopes to better in the Big Eight meet.

Jim Beltzer posted a 53'1½" heave to take first place, and Rich Schnaible won the pole vault at 13'6". He was awarded first place because of fewer misses. Nebraska was blanked only in the broad jump.

Nebraska's thinclads are ranked solidly throughout the leading Big Eight track leaders.

Charlie Green is the only Husker who is leading his field, however, as he tops the list of 60 yard dash men.

Lynn Heady (left) and Preston Love . . . Pair picked up wins in triangular Saturday.
