Two Olympians

By Peggy Speece

Last week I had the opportunity to hear two University of Nebraska students speak about the 1964 Olympics held in Tokyo. These two students were speaking as authorities—they had competed in the Games.

Brawny, jovial Bob Pickens told his audience how he made the United States team as a heavyweight wrestler. And how at 235 pounds he was one of the lighter heavyweights competing!

Bob attended the University of Wisconsin before trying out for the Olympics. At Nebraska he hopes to compete in football, wrestling and track next year if at all possible.

Soft-spoken Lynn Headley, a junior member of the Husker track squad, spoke about his experiences as a member of the Jamaican Olympic squad. Lynn is the defending Big Eight 100-yard dash champion.

NCAA Champ

Nebraska can boast one of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's indoor track champs. Sprinter Charlie Greene won the 60-yard dash in a time of 6.1 in the NCAA championships held a little over a week ago. Big Eight 880 champ, Husker Jim Wendt placed fourth in the half mile.

The Big Eight conference showed itself to be a track power by virtue of Missouri's team championship and Oklahoma State's second place in the same event.

At the United States Track and Field Federation's meet in Milwaukee, Charlie sped to a victory once again. He tied the meet record in the 50-yard dash at 5.2. Jim was fifth in the 1,000-yard run, a longer race than he customarily runs, and Husker Dick Strand won his qualifying heat for the 600-yard run in a time of 1:12.1.

Soon the tracksters will take to the wide open spaces. Outdoor track opens with the Texas Relays on April 2-3.

NU Gymnasts Fall From Big 8 Throne

Nebraska's gymnasts were dethroned as Big Eight champions at Boulder, Colorado.

Finishing behind Iowa State and Colorado, the Huskers best performer was Francis Allen. He finished second in both the high bar and the parallel bars.

Jerry Fontana, who captured the individual title on Friday, was a big factor in Iowa State's 178½ point salvo. He placed first on the high bar, third in side horse, and fourth in the rings and parallel bar.

BOB SAMUELSON—Sports Ed.

Today we begin the All-Intramural selections with the announcement of the All "C" team selections. The All "B" team selections will follow on Thursday and the All-Intramural "A" selections will be announced on Friday.

The selections have been made solely on the basis of votes by competing intramural teams. No team was allowed to vote for members of its own squad.

Nearly three hundred votes were received on ballots from nearly sixty intramural teams, so we feel we have a reasonably good cross section from which our all-star players emerge.

It should be pointed out that the independent teams played single-elimination in the "A" tournament, and the fraternities played double-elimination. Since an important factor in a player's garnering the opposition's votes is playing against as many different teams as possible, the independent teams who lost early in the tournament are at a natural disadvantage. There is nothing that can be done to rectify this situation under the present form of tabulation.

If a player from an independent team which did not finish high in the tournament received enough votes to qualify him for an honorable mention slot, the chances are good that on a more winning team he would have received more votes.

The compilation of the squads was a good deal more work than it might first appear.

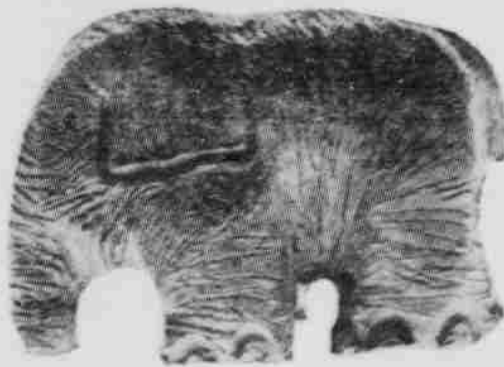

Thanks should be extended to Joel Meier, intramurals director, for his help in distributing the ballots and his advice in the management of the voting; James Pearse and Bob Gibson who helped with the vote-counting, writing, and other jobs; and Don Voss, who is doing the work on the certificates which will be given to all players who receive mention in the selections.

We received a letter from Jack Frost of KLIN Radio clarifying an error in the story about Bob Zenger being the recipient of the Outstanding Nebraska Sportscaster award. It reads, in part, as follows:

"Bob Zenger operates as Sports Director of KOLN-KGIN-TV and KLIN Radio. KOLN-KGIN-TV and KLIN Radio are under separate corporations, yet we cooperate as members of the Cornhusker football as well as basketball game information and entertainment medium. All of the Nebraska Cornhusker football as well as basketball games were broadcast live over KLIN Radio, not KOLN-KGIN-TV. The film reports were aired on the TV medium, but the live coverage was provided through the facilities of KLIN Radio. It was Bob's broadcasting on KLIN Radio of these sports events which, in a large part, merited his coveted award."

The article Mr. Frost refers to implied a connection between KOLN-KGIN TV and KLIN Radio. Our apologies to Mr. Zenger, Mr. Frost, and the management of both corporations.

By James Pearse
Sigma Phi Epsilon heads up the "C" team all-stars. The "C" champs are represented by two big men, Jim Adams and Paul Wenke.

Adams is a 6'2" freshman from Omaha. Despite his height and the 195 pounds he carries on the long frame, Adams played outside. His favorite shot was the outside jumper.

Adams was impressive in the other aspects of the game besides shooting. Tom Formanack, another "C" team pick called Adams the best all-around player in the "C" league.

The other Sig Ep is 6'4" Paul Wenke, also a freshman. Hailing from Pender the 195 pounder's work off the boards was a key factor in the Sig Ep's title drive.

Wenke helped the point production by pumping in goals from inside the key. Another 6'2" team member is Phi Delta Theta's Louis Burgher. Temporary Rush chairman and member of NU Meds, the McCook sophomore tips the scales at 205 pounds.

Burgher was the Phi Delta's most effective rebounder and he used his size to gain position for many tip-ins. When maneuvering for a shot at the hoop, Burgher was frequently found open in close to the basket.

A hustling 5'10", 215 pound Cozad freshman, Sigma Nu's Ken Brunk is the fourth member of the all-star "C" squad. Ken spent most of his time out front directing traffic for the NU's.

Tom Formanack of the Beta Theta Pi house rounds out the "C" stars and makes the fourth freshman placed on the team.

Formanack is the smallest representative at 5'9". The solid 175 pounder joints Brunk in the guard court of the "C" team.

Along with his directing duties on the court, Formanack added scoring punch with his 15-foot jumpers from around the top of the key. Pressing the top five vote getters for first team berths were Phi Kappa Psi's John Allen and John Unthank.

Allen is a 5'9", 160 pound freshman from Auburn. He was the main ballhandler for the Phi Psi's and added good outside shooting to their attack.

Unthank is a junior from Lincoln Southeast. His big contribution was also outside shooting. Unthank is 6'1" 170 pounds.

Joining Allen and Unthank in the ranks of those receiving honorable mention on the "C" all-star team are Bob Byington, Beta Theta Pi; Ron Stading, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Bill Blankenship, Kappa Sigma; and Harvey Singer, Sigma Alpha Mu.

Congratulations are extended from the Daily Nebraskan to the boys who have been selected to the "C" all-star team by their opponents.

A certificate noting their selection will be given to each of the players who were selected for the top five and honorable mention roles.
