Discus Star Highlights Spring Day

Nebraska discovered a star Friday during the Spring Day activities.

The girls participating in the discus throw found themselves far outclassed as Carol Moseke, from sixth floor of Pound Hall, tossed the two and one-half pound discus a mighty heave of 128.5 feet.

Miss Moseke, who was Pound Hall's "secret weapon," began throwing a discus while in high school in Cedar Rapids, Nebr.

For the last three years she has participated in national competition, winning fifth in the nation last year.

While Miss Moseke was demonstrating excellent form in the discus area, other coeds found themselves confronted with squirmy, slimy little frogs. Not only did the girls have to put up with holding the frogs, they actually had to be nice to them!

Coeds in the roller skating competition had to keep the frogs in their hand while they skated, and had to keep the frog alive and happy until the end of the race.

As all houses showed their athletic prowess, two emerged as Nebraska's top athletic houses for Spring Day, 1965. Love Memorial Hall and Sigma Phi Epsilon were overall women's and men's winners.

Need Volunteers In Poverty War

Students are eligible to help this summer or for a full year as a volunteer in President Johnson's War on Poverty program.

In July and August 30,000 volunteers will be needed in their own communities to assist four and five-year-old children of the poor through the Project Head Start Child Development Centers.

In Head Start volunteers work side by side with teachers, social workers, doctors and other professionals to give pre-school children advantages which can change the patterns of their lives.

Students interested in the War on Poverty program may write to: Volunteers, War on Poverty, Washington, D.C., 20506 for further information.

HOW ABOUT THAT TIGER OF YOURS?

It's great to see one of those backyard lessons bear fruit in a classy little ballplayer. That's a real moment for any dad.

The best moment of all, however, is when a dad looks at his son and sees a man... especially when he has given him the kind of education he needs to compete in tomorrow's world.

GML can help you guarantee your son that kind of education. We'd like to show you how. Call us today.

Air Force ROTC has now been updated to fit into today's busy undergraduate schedule.

Here are the facts about the new two-year AFROTC program:

Who is eligible for two-year AFROTC? Any male undergraduate who still has two years remaining in college. It's an especially good break for junior college students who plan to complete their baccalaureate requirements at a four-year institution.

What's the curriculum like? It's been thoroughly revamped. You won't find pat answers and traditional ritualized solutions to problems. New instructional methods teach the student to arrive at his own conclusions, and to test them against those of his classmates and instructors. Symbolic of the change is the new title—Department of Aerospace Studies.

How will students for the new program be chosen? First, you must pass the Air Force Officer Qualifying Test and have a medical examination. Then you meet with the interview board of senior Air Force officers, who will decide whether you are to be selected to attend the Field Training Course. This will be held during the summer before your junior year. Its purpose is two-fold: to let the Air Force judge you and to let you judge the Air Force. Only after you are both satisfied will you be enrolled in the program. So you see, you have everything to gain and nothing to lose by applying now. But you must act fast—applications will be closing for next year's juniors. Forms are available from the Professor of Aerospace Studies, or from Headquarters Air Force ROTC, Maxwell AFB, Alabama.

As an AFROTC cadet, will I receive pay? Yes, you will be paid for the Field Training Course which will amount to approximately $120. During the school year, you will be paid $40 a month, and you will also get free uniforms.

Will I have a chance to fly while I am in AFROTC? Senior graduates are eligible for the Flying Instruction Program. This involves 36½ hours of flight training and 25 hours of ground school. Successful completion earns you a civilian private pilot's license.
