

Big Eight Marks Fall Saturday

A trio of young pups chewed up the record books last weekend, while the Big Eight Conference's top guns, who were season leaders, took the back pages and watched two new Conference records written and another tied.

Ripping the biggest hole was Kansas State's Vic Castillo, a 5-10 and 174 quarterback, whose passing yardage in his initial varsity contest came within three yards of equaling his weight added to the inches of his height.

Becoming the only man to make the Big Eight's single-game passing honor roll in his first game, he hit 20 of his 43 casts, a Big Eight record, to roll up 241 yards, setting five Kansas State standards and tying another.

He is also the first sophomore since Tony Scardino of Missouri to make the honor list, which posts those with 200 or more yards a game. Even though there are eight totals listed ahead of Castillo's, only five men rank ahead of him, including Scardino, Paul Christman of Missouri, Bill Weeks and Rich Mann of Iowa State, and Monte Deere of Oklahoma. Deere was the last man to get over 240 yards in a game, against Kansas State in 1962.

Almost duplicating Castillo's effort was Kansas' Bill Fenton, a 5-8 by 155 sophomore, who is probably better known for his tennis and baseball exploits. Fenton's 189 passing total was given a big boost when he teamed with Willie Ray Smith for 97 yards against Texas Tech.

This long blow is the best ever in the Big Eight, surpassing the 94-yard, Lane Brown to Francis Starns play for Kansas State against Colorado in 1951. This was one of the oldest records on the Big Eight books.

While Castillo and Fenton were going one-two over defending champions in passing (Bob Church of Nebraska), and total offense (Gary Lane of Missouri), another pair of sophomores pushed out the top returnee in punt and kickoff returns, Oklahoma State's Larry Eliot.

Mainly on the strength of his Big Eight, record-tying, 95-yard punt return, Iowa State's Gary King ranks first in this speciality. His sprint to equal that of Darrell Roy, who ran 95 for Oklahoma against Kansas State in 1948.

Osie Cain of Kansas State leads Elliott in kickoff returns, after logging four 87 yards against Indiana.

Elliott, however, still became the first man in Conference history to gain over 1,000 yards in kickoff returns, pushing his three-year accumulation to 1,074. His punt-return total is now 480, leaving him but 206 yards away from becoming the first Big Eighter to gain a mile in kick returns.

Other individual leaders were: Iowa State's Tony Baker, rushing, 123; Kansas' Willie Kay Smith, receiving, three for 132; Nebraska's Freeman White, receptions, eight; and Missouri's Ray West, punting, six for 47.7.

There is no doubt now. Those were brown clouds that menaced Big Eight Conference country last weekend, not just ordinary thunderheads that muddy up fields and force shortened games.

Conference coaches pretty well put the convincing touch on their claim that "Gem Eight" would be launched in this speciality. His sprint to equal that of Darrell Roy, who ran 95 for Oklahoma against Kansas State in 1948.

On a day that would discourage most launches, a record number of passes were attempted for an opening weekend in Big Eight football, with a mark-breaking total finding the range for a new standard in yards accumulated.

The seven opening teams accounted for 945 passing yards, hitting on 74 of 168 attempts. The closest rival to this weekend came the first Saturday in the 1962 campaign, when all eight teams played and gained 834 yards on 72 of 136.

Greatest reversal of the past came from Kansas State, which unleashed 46 passes, a total that is just four shy of half the number it threw the entire season last year. The 248 yards gained are more than half the accumulation in last year's 10 games.

Stadium's North Addition Design, Safety Studied

An out of state engineering firm is being hired immediately by the University to check on the structural design and safety of the newly built north addition of Memorial Stadium.

Business Manager Carl Donaldson said the action has been taken after several persons reported feeling some "movement" in the stadium late in the game last Saturday during an exciting touchdown drive by the Cornhuskers.

University engineers are also checking on the north stadium as well as the firm of Henningsen, Durham and Richardson in Omaha who did the structural designing from the plans set up by the University.

Donaldson said the University is confident that all safety precautions were taken in designing the structure and that there are no defects in the construction. He said the University, however, is likewise concerned about complete safety for football fans and therefore ordered the outside study immediately.

Office Advises Wrestlers

From the Nebraska Sports Information Office comes word that all those men wishing to compete in varsity wrestling must have their physical examinations completed by 7 p.m. Thursday, September 23. This will be the last date for physicals before practice begins. No one will be checked out for practice without his physical.

Glenn Potter, freshman basketball coach, advises all freshman not on scholarships to report to Student Health for a physical examination on September 23 at 7 p.m. You must have a physical before participating.

The Nebraska Union will hold a roll-off to determine the University's bowling team Saturday. The roll-off is scheduled to start at 9 am with nine games slated to be bowled.

The top 10 scorers will meet October 2 and bowl nine games with the seven high scorers making up the team.

To be eligible a man must be a full-time student with a grade average of 5.00 or better.

Students should sign-up at the games desk or for further information see Dan Greer, the games area manager.

New Roblee "brog" and its Scotch-Irish granddaddy

As early as 1600, Scotch and Irish country men were wearing a shoe made from a single piece of untanned deerhide with the hair still on and tied with thongs. It was called a "brog". Its descendants are here in our store today... without hair... and known as brogues. Roblee brogues have every feature you like in a business shoe. Husky, hearty looks. Rugged, lustrous leathers, rubbed and rolled till they're soft and pliant. And a light, comfortable feel on your feet. The Imperial (shown) in black, brown or moss grains... 19.00. Cordo smooth... 21.00. Other Roblee styles from 13.00-25.00. Sizes 13-14 slightly higher.
