Abel Alarms Fail First Drill Test

Abel Hall's first fire drill took place Tuesday night with the absence of fire alarms. The alarm system failed and one lone bell in the basement was the only one ringing.

Students were alerted by dorm counselors, who carried the message from room to room. All residents left the building with the exception of those on the 13th floor.

M. Edward Bryan, housing director, reported the alarm system was being repaired Wednesday. He said that the drill was primarily a check of the equipment.

Bryan further stressed there was no cause for concern about the alarm system, saying all the dials, gauges and pumps in the building had to be checked out and this takes "some little time."

This speech, and the question and answer period that

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Manley Discusses University History

Students are much better behaved nowadays says Dr. Robert Manley. At least they don't drop stink bombs through holes in the ceiling on their professors' lectures.

Manley spoke Tuesday at the East Campus Student Union on the history of the University. He said that generally when the people of Nebraska speak of the University they think of the College of Agriculture and the work it has done.

Interviews for Committee Assistant on the East Union Recreation Committee will be Tuesday, Sept. 28 at 5:30 p.m. Applications are due by 5 p.m. of the same day.

followed, was attended by over one hundred students and is part of the East Union's Lounge Series.

East Union tries to bring students in personal contact with outstanding speakers and faculty members at monthly meetings.

East Union Committee Looking For Assistant

Interviews for Committee Assistant on the East Union Recreation Committee will be Tuesday, Sept. 28 at 5:30 p.m. Applications are due by 5 p.m. of the same day.

The qualifications are sophomore standing, a 5.0 average, and at least one semester of experience in Union.

Sheldon Begins Art Films

A new film program will begin at Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery when the installation of projection equipment has been completed.

Norman A. Geske, director of the Sheldon Gallery, said a film series is planned to compete with the Union film series," Geske said. "Our main objective is to give films which cannot be seen elsewhere... those that don't ordinarily make local outlets."

Explaining the integration of the film series into the Sheldon Gallery program Geske said, "We regard the film as one of the most important forms of art in the 20th century."

The film program will consist of three separate series. One series will show films from all countries that are regarded as milestones or classics in the film industry.

Another series will show short subjects including experimental, documentary, scientific and avant-garde films or any that are artistically important.

The third series will show children's artistic films that are not available on the local market.

Tickets will be sold for each separate series on a subscription basis.

Tentative plans are for the feature film series to be shown alternating Fridays and the children's film series to be shown alternating Saturday mornings.

Freshman Camp To Open Friday

Speakers, discussions and recreation will compose the YWCA - YMCA Freshman Weekend, Sept. 24-26.

The annual affair will be attended by 50 freshman boys and 50 freshman girls and will take place at Camp Kitacki, a YMCA camp near Louisville, Neb.

Skits, campfires, discussions of topics such as scholarship, ethics, activities and religion are included in the weekend program.

Speakers for the program include Dr. Robert Manley, assistant professor of history; Dr. Alan Pickering, director of the United Campus Christian Fellowship; Dr. Robert Narveson, assistant professor of English; Dr. Don Clifton, associate professor of history and philosophy of education and educational psychology and measurements; and Dr. Clarence Forsberg, minister of St. Paul's Methodist Church.

Buses will provide transportation to the camp late Friday afternoon and back to campus early Sunday afternoon.

Tickets To Be Sold For Concert Series

Tickets for the Community Concert Series are on sale in the Nebraska Union and from members of the Union Music Committee until Oct. 1.

Season tickets are five dollars for students and eight dollars for adults. Artists such as Arthur Fiedler and the de Paur chorus will be featured.
