

Tigers, Cowboys Meet

By Jim Pearse
Assistant Sports Editor

Lawrence, Kansas, will be the scene of an inter-sectional battle Saturday as the Arizona Wildcats come out of the desert to stalk the Kansas Jayhawks.

Arizona, who last week upset WAC foe and conference favorite Utah, is a team "come of age." Jim LaRue brought the Cats into national prominence by systematic building and scheduling of traditionally rugged football teams.

Kansas has had a week to dry off after a 26-7 dousing at the hands of tough Texas Tech in a game called after three quarters. The uncovering of junior quarterback Bill Fenton in the absence of Bob Skahan should boost the Jayhawks young and shaky new offense.

Arizona has already leaped toward a successful campaign and the Jayhawks will most likely fall victim to the Cats thrust.

The opening bell in the Big Eight conference sounds this weekend for an important ball game in Stillwater, Oklahoma.

The Cowboys corral will be the site of the Oklahoma

State-Missouri conflict, an early season "must" game for both squads.

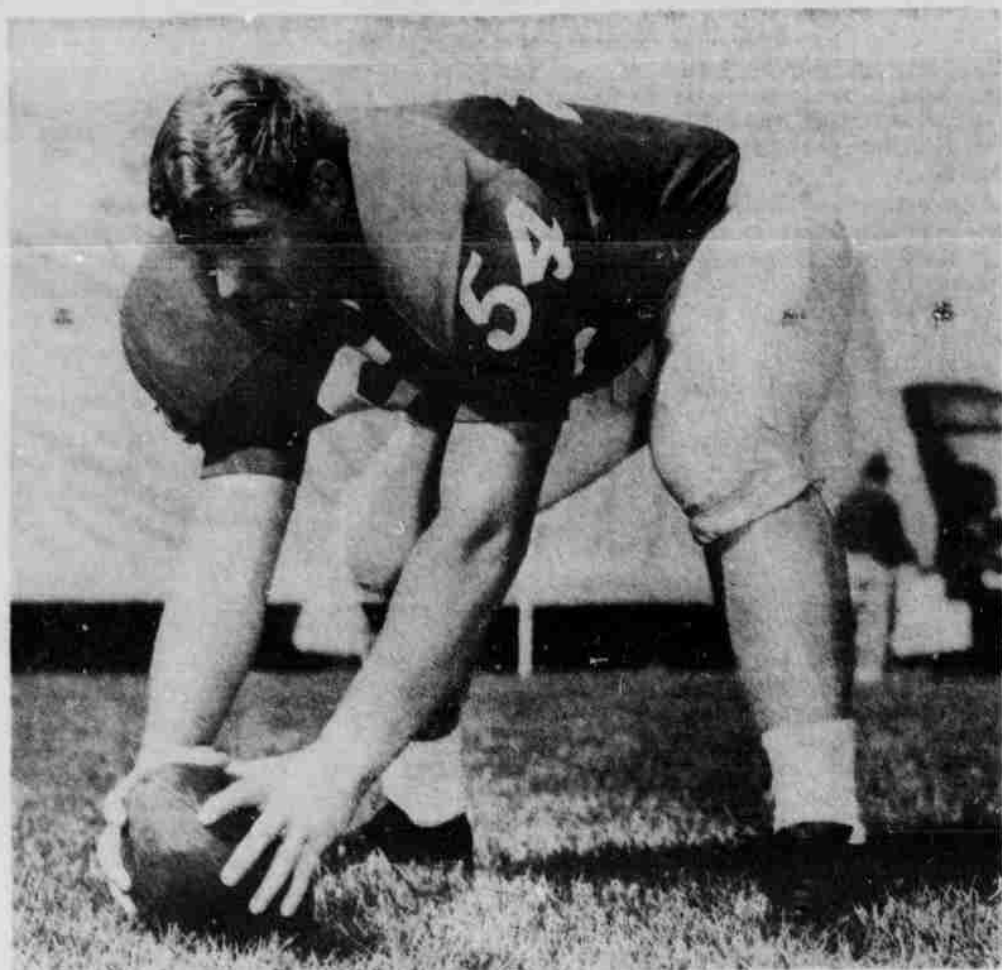

Both teams lost their openers last week as they were each involved with teams selected among the nation's best eleven Oklahoma State bowed to the Hogs of Arkansas 28-14. Missouri was knocked down by a driving Kentucky defense 7-0.

Neither team mustered a strong offensive charge in the openers, and both had gaps on the defensive side of the game.

However, that was last week. This Saturday afternoon Oklahoma State promises to have its defense, which Arkansas riddled for over 400 yards, back in the saddle and ready to do battle with Tiger Quarterback Gary Lane and his swift cleave-foot backfield buddies Charlie Brown, Monroe Phelps, and Carl Reese.

By the same token, Missouri's frontline defenses are set to stop the best fullback the conference has to offer, Walt Garrison, and the Tiger secondary is poised to chase down and destroy Poke quarterback Glenn Baxter's aerial assaults.

Devaney, Huskers Seek To Break Falcon Jinx

STARTER KELLY PETERSON . . . to alternate with Duncan Drum

By Jim Swartz
Nebraska Sports Editor

Nebraska football fans should be treated to an afternoon of passing tomorrow.

The Nebraska Scarlet takes on the Air Force Academy Falcons in an afternoon encounter at Colorado Springs. Reports and indications show that the Falcons aerial display will be directed by rookie quarterback Paul Stein who connected on 11 of 27 for 177 yards last week while the Falcons were stopped 31-14 by Wyoming.

The Husker camp has announced that it will go with a balanced game attack and use whichever one is the most effective.

In the only other encounter between the two schools Air Force ruined Nebraska's chances for a perfect season in 1963 by stopping the Huskers 17-13.

In his 1965 season outlook coach Ben Martin noted that the Falcon squad experience level is the lowest it's ever been. Adding that the experience problem is further complicated by the fact that there are no two-year lettermen.

Martin noted that the squad nucleus is the few experienced players that they have and the Falcons most serious problem areas are at the end and center positions.

Individual standouts for the Falcons are quarterback Paul Stein, an excellent scrambler, who rushed 91 yards rushing against UCLA last season and threw a 56-yard touchdown pass last week.

Included in the backfield is flanker Guy Hogle, runner-receiver who has the best speed on the Falcon squad. Quarterback Sonny Litz is another backfield standout whose passing ability could pose a threat.

In the line the Falcons have 212-pound middle guard Don Heckert who has been rated as one of the nation's top defensive linemen and sophomore offensive tackle Allen Burchett who has been labeled as one of the Falcon's brightest prospects in several seasons.

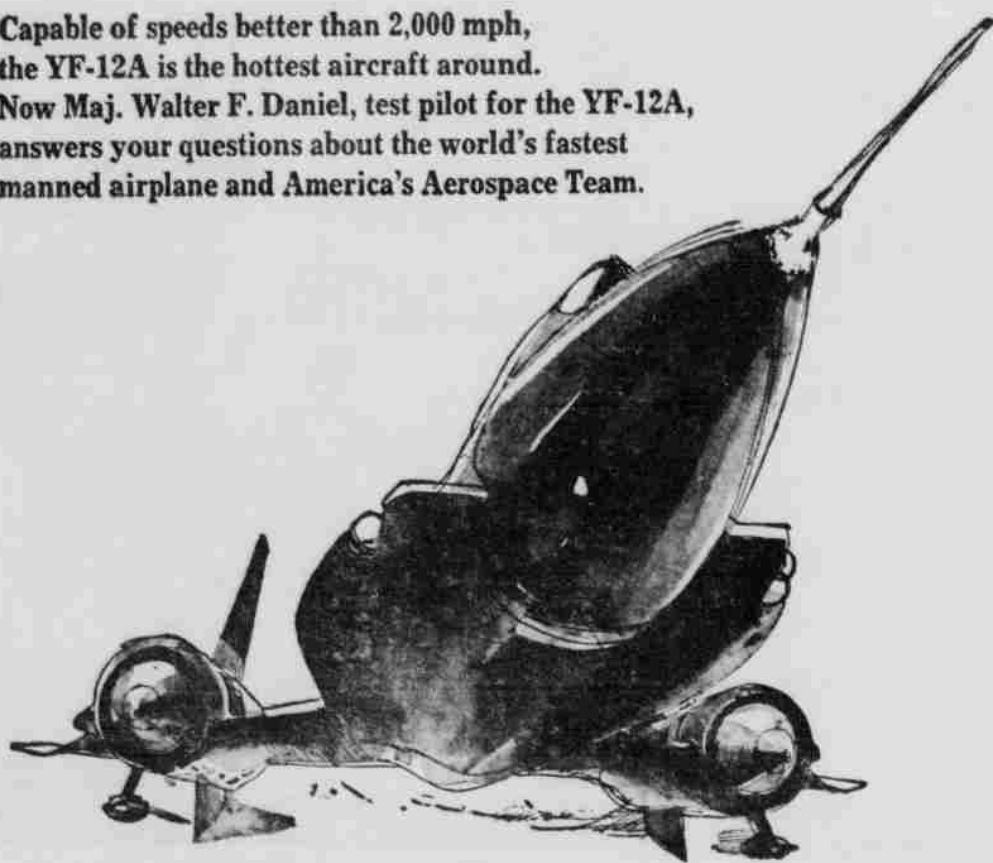

The Huskers will make the trip with the starting line-up virtually intact after last week's 34-14 victory over OCU. Kelly Petersen has gained the starting position at center and is slated to alternate with last week's starter Duncan Drum.

Frank Solich has been tabbed as the starting fullback and the defensive unit will alternate between Carl Stith and Dick Czap at tackle and Marv Mueller and Ted Vactor in the secondary.

The Husker squad came through last week's encounter without any serious injuries and goes into the game with everyone in sound physical shape.

Defensive back Larry Wacholtz has been tabbed as the team's field-goal specialist. Wacholtz was four for four in extra point attempts in last week's game.

Capable of speeds better than 2,000 mph, the YF-12A is the hottest aircraft around. Now Maj. Walter F. Daniel, test pilot for the YF-12A, answers your questions about the world's fastest manned airplane and America's Aerospace Team.

(Maj. Daniel, a test pilot since 1954, is a member of the Society of Experimental Test Pilots. He received a B.S. degree in Aeronautical Engineering from the University of Oklahoma. In February 1962, he set world class time-to-climb records in a T-38 jet trainer.)

Is the YF-12A the world's fastest manned aircraft? It certainly is. On May 1 of this year the YF-12A (formerly known as the A-11) reclaimed the world absolute speed record from the USSR. It was clocked at 2,062 mph over Edwards Air Force Base.

How big is the YF-12A?

The exact dimensions of the YF-12A have not been released yet. But it's approximately 100 feet long, with about a 50-foot wingspan. That's half again as big as our present interceptors!

Is the Air Force training many men as pilots these days?

Yes, very definitely. In spite of all you hear about unmanned vehicles, the human pilot is still very much in the picture. As a matter of fact, the Air Force pilot quota is on the increase.

What other kinds of jobs does the Air Force offer? Since it's one of the world's foremost technological organizations, the Air Force has plenty of openings for scientists and engineers. There are also many challenging and varied administrative-managerial positions.

What do I have to do to become an Air Force officer?

Air Force ROTC is the best way to get started as an Air Force officer. The new two-year Air Force ROTC program makes this method available to men who have already completed a year or two of their college education. For college graduates, if you did not take advantage of ROTC, you can still get started through Air Force Officer Training School (OTS), a three-month course open to both men and women.

Can I keep up my studies while I'm in the Air Force?

The Air Force encourages its men and women to continue their educations. For instance, you may qualify to study for a graduate degree during off-duty hours, with the Air Force paying a substantial part of the tuition.

What kind of future do I have in the Air Force? A bright one. As we move further into the Aerospace Age, the Air Force is going to grow even more important. And you can grow with it!
