Student Receives Call From 'Uncle'

"Greetings from Uncle Sam"—the phrase that makes male University students shudder—and one in particular.

That student is Mark Plattner, a University junior in good standing and carrying 15 hours.

Why the shudder? Because Mark has received formal "greetings"—and a notice that he must report for induction Oct. 27.

When Plattner received the induction notice, he checked with Registrar Floyd Hoover. Hoover gave Plattner a note saying he is a student in good standing to take to his Selective Service Board in Omaha.

Plattner was told in Omaha that the board may be drafting students, and that they would review his draft notice.

Until he hears from the Omaha board, Plattner will not be idle. "I wrote the President, explaining my situation," Plattner said.

"I wanted to start my letter to Johnson with 'Greetings, this is from Mark Plattner, a professional student who wishes to remain so.'"

"But I decided to take a more formal approach," Plattner added.

Until he gets the final decision, it's a matter of crossed fingers for Plattner.

Rumors that students are being drafted have circulated over the campus from time to time.

But Col. Edwin Scott, who is chief of the manpower division of the State Selective Service, said that currently "we are not processing registrants who are full-time students in good standing."

He added that the proper information may not have gotten to the local Selective Service boards.

No Comment Offered On House Destruction

Administration officials have refused to comment on the house that had been torn down on 16th Street north of Vine.

The house and other property on that block have been condemned for University use, but no plans have been announced. "It will probably be used for classroom building," was the only explanation.

Pep Groups Sponsor Yell Contest Friday

Tassels and Corn Cobs are sponsoring a "Yell Like Hell" contest to be held Friday.

Living units should pair with another unit to present a 30 second yell with one member of each house leading the yell.

A trophy will be awarded to the group who shows the most originality, yells loudest and displays the most over-all spirit.

ASUN Discusses Scheduling Right

By Wayne Kreuscher
Senior Staff Writer

Student Senate's power over other activities on campus, mainly the scheduling of events, was discussed at Wednesday's Senate meeting.

The discussion resulted because of a request from Barb Beckman, AUF president, that AUF-A-Go-Go, a charity carnival to be held Oct. 9, be scheduled as the only campus event for that night.

No motion was made on AUF's request. Discussion on the Senate floor suggested that the Senate did not want to set a precedent by giving an activity this exclusive scheduling right and it was pointed out that AUF actually doesn't have to worry about many conflicts.

Sen. Terry Schaa firmly explained that the Senate and the Association of Students of the University of Nebraska (ASUN) does have the right to tell activities if they can have an event or not.

Schaa stressed that this power included only campus organizations and not living units.

Sen. Sally Morrow said she thought ASUN would have "gone beyond our power" if it did start telling activities when they could have events.

In discussion of AUF's request, ASUN Vice President Larry Frolk said that the University's activities office in the past has refused to schedule any night exclusively for one activity.

Sen. Liz Aitken explained that AUF might be considered an exception to other activities and given this exclusive right because of its charitable purposes.

A motion was made by Sen. Kelley Baker suggesting that the Student Senate Activities Committee work with the University's activity office to insure smooth scheduling of activities so there would be no conflicts.

But after discussions on this motion, it was defeated. Many senators said that this motion wasn't needed and would accomplish no useful purpose.

Mrs. Jean Register, student activities adviser, said that if any exclusive scheduling or controls over activities' scheduling of events were to be made, it would have to come from ASUN.

The Student Senate in other business approved a judicial code for the Student Court and the appointment of Keith McIntyre as chief justice of the Student Court.

ASUN President Kent Neumeister announced that Dick Newton had been appointed chairman of the Foundation-Alumni Association.

Sen. Kelley Baker was appointed as chairman of the special Homecoming finalist procedure investigating committee.

Senators Kris Bitner and Jan Binger were named the Student Senate candidates for the AUF Activities Queen.

Hatchery Houses Science Classes

By Jan Itkin
Junior Staff Writer

Classes in a converted chicken hatchery?

Yes, the 501 Building on North 10th Street, formerly Hill Hatchery, has been renovated for classroom use.

Freshman chemistry classes and the Graduate School of Social Work comprise the bulk of classes held there. Quiz sections in physics, sociology, mathematics, and history and classes in architecture, zoology, and German also meet there.

The building is composed of six classrooms and ten chemistry laboratories which contain a total of 256 lab stations.

Mrs. Miriam Hurst, room assignments clerk, said "It was a good thing the registrar was far-sighted enough to realize almost two years ago that the number of students would necessitate another building."

The University acquired the red-brick building in 1963 and remodeled it last summer. In addition to constructing classrooms in the structure, the chemistry labs were added.

Because of the acids used in chemistry experiments, acid-resistant floors and glass pipes were used in the building.

The move to the building alleviates crowded conditions in the departments and allows them room for expansion. The Graduate School of Social Work, for instance, now has an enrollment of 62 full-time students compared to 55 last year.

"The 501 Building was absolutely essential to handle the increased numbers of students," Dr. Henry Holtzclaw, professor of chemistry, said.

Some students feel, however, that it is too long a walk from the rest of the campus.

Mrs. Hurst also commented on the distance problem. "The only problem we have encountered is having students accustom themselves to racing around classes and crossing 10th Street. We have tried, however, to keep classes close to where they would otherwise be," she said.

ASUN To Name Three To Cabinet

Association of Students of the University of Nebraska (ASUN) interviews for three cabinet positions and for the executive member of the Electoral Commission will be held Sunday at 1 p.m. in the Nebraska Union.

The three cabinet positions include: the secretary of organizations for honoraries and professional fraternities, sororities and societies; the secretary of regulatory organizations such as IFC, Panhellenic and AWS; and the secretary of organizations for all other activities.

Application blanks for these positions are due in the Student Senate by 5 p.m. Friday.

At next week's Student Senate meeting interviews will be held for the Senate's electoral commission member.

Bullet Hits Wall; Misses Employee

Lincoln police are investigating the origin of a bullet which was fired into Nebraska Hall Tuesday.

The bullet went through the window of Room 125, passed through a wall and hit a book, narrowly missing Miss Lucille Stephens, a clerk for the Federal Geological Survey.

"At first it made me mad, but afterward it sort of scared me," Miss Stephens said.

Miss Stephens had been crossing the room at the time the bullet came through the wall, and it landed about two feet from her.

Campus police said that the bullet was of long range velocity and could have been fired from as far as two miles to the north.

Kenagy Is IFC Rush Leader

John Kenagy was selected Rush Chairman for the Interfraternity Council at the organization's weekly meeting, Wednesday night.

"I firmly believe that Rush is the most important of all Greek activities, simply because it is the means by which the system perpetuates itself," commented Kenagy.

In his address to the IFC, Kenagy stated that he believed that "the practice of spook patrols is just as detrimental, if not more so, than dirty rush."

"I feel that if any house is guilty of spooking a rushee, it should be subject to the same penalties as prescribed for dirty rush," he added.

Kenagy is a junior in Pre-Med, a past Student Council representative and assistant rush chairman for Phi Gamma Delta.

Also announced at the meeting was that Oct. 7 is the end of the 30 day waiting period and at this time open rush may begin.

"Hyde Park" Forums To Begin October 13

It was announced yesterday that "Hyde Park" type forums, where anyone may discuss anything he may choose, will begin in the Nebraska Union Oct. 13 at 3:30 p.m.

Liz Aitken, chairman of the Union Talks and Topics Committee, said that more information would be given on the forums later.
