

Huskers Host Buffs

Colorado Sports Information
If ties are like kissing your sister.
(At least, brother, you have escaped.)
Then, by the same token, mister.
Playing Nebraska is like getting raped!
 Colorado had to climb off the deck with an agonizing 50-yard fourth quarter march to set up tying field goal in 10-10 dead heat with Iowa State Saturday. Buffs showed courage, though not great precision, in cranking out three first downs (each of which went to fourth down) before Frank Rogers kicked his 33-yard field goal (again on fourth down).
 In contrast to impressive offensive performances in previous two weeks against Kansas State and Oklahoma State, CU could put nothing together consistently Saturday. Iowa State, on other hand, came back after listless first half to dominate last 30 minutes.

 In compiling a 3-0-2 record, Colorado has at no time this fall shown a consistently-clicking offense, capable of Buffs have needed ignition grinding out long TD drives, from the defense (punt returns, interceptions) to light scoring moves. Or they've detonated long runs. Buffs are fumble-prone, too, losing 11 of 18 thus far.

Nebraska's Big Red rock-crusher has scarcely broken a sweat in waltzing past five foes by awesome 183-31 composite score. Lowest NU output was 27-17 over Air Force after Husker took early siesta after they'd scored 21 first three times they got possession.

Though getting buried (93-15) in its three collisions with Nebraska's Devaney Dynasty, Colorado has scored first in each game. Buffs led at half 6-0 in 1962, 6-0 after driving with the opening kickoff in 1963, and 3-0 after intercepting early NU aerial last fall.

SAM'S SALVOS

By Bob Samuelson

Come on, ASUN. Let's go, Corncobs. All right, Mike Barton, let's try again. SOMEbody get us an effective student body football yell.

Are we going to be torn apart by the likes of a "Soooifee" or a "Waaaar Eagle" this year as in the past two? We ARE unless someone gets on the stick.

Whoever thought of wearing red had a great idea, and it is gradually catching on—especially at games away from home.

What we need now is a student body yell that can be picked up by all the Husker followers. F. C. Green has been doing as fine a job at yelling as I can remember, and he should be commended. BUT, we still need an inspiring, all-encompassing yell.

"Shotgun" Frankie Solich—so called because he is dangerous, likely to explode in a short burst, scatters everywhere, and tears up the opposition—is at the top of the Big Eight in average rushing yardage this week with a 6.3 yards-per-carry average. He is third in total rushing yardage with 388 yards.

Nebraska Freshmen Begin At K-State

By Jim Pearse

An eager group of freshman footballers travel to Kansas State today for their first sampling of collegiate combat.

Fresh coach John Melton says his yearlings will leave Lincoln for Manhattan at 10 a.m. and return after the game.

The departure cannot come too soon for the young Huskers. "The attitude is great," reports Melton.

"Practice can get to be quite a drag. The boys are anxious to start." Starting quarterback for Nebraska will be Frank Patrick, the highly publicized 6'7", 210 pounder from Derry, Pennsylvania.

Behind the giant general will be Tom Penny, a 6'11", 190 pounder, returning to his home state to battle for the first time. Robert Best will man one halfback position. Best, a McCook graduate, carries 175 pounds on his 5'11" frame.

Dick Davis completes the backfield. Davis is from Omaha North and the statistics show him to be 5'11", 195 pounds.

High School All-American halfback Nester Yannon has been hobbled by a bad ankle this fall, according to Melton, but will see action, as will all the frosh. Coach Melton reports that Yannon will not work at full speed, however. Coach Melton pointed to Texan Tommy Casbeer (6', 235), Pennsylvanian Robert Liggett (6'2", 251), and Michigan Robert Lintz (6'2", 225) as defensive standouts in the fall drills.

Melton says this year's rookie corps is the fastest he's had at Nebraska, though not as big as previous groups.

Asked about a game plan for the Wild Kittens, Coach Melton commented, "We plan to run more than pass, but if we can't move on the ground naturally we'll put the ball in the air." The towering Patrick should have little trouble spotting receivers.

Today's contest will be followed by next week's tussle with Missouri's freshman as a prelude to the Husker-Tiger clash next Saturday in Columbia.

Every Science, Engineering and Math student should know about CSSTP before he makes up his mind about a career.

Sign up now at your placement office to get the story on CSSTP—from the IBM interviewer November 16-17

CSSTP means Computer Systems Science Training Program. It's an extraordinary IBM program that enables you to use your technical knowledge and problem-solving skills in new, exciting ways. Ways that may never occur to you unless you talk to the IBM interviewer.

He'll show you how CSSTP leads to exceptional career opportunities with IBM Data Processing.

He'll tell you about the vital role of IBM's Marketing Representative. How he goes into major businesses to help solve their urgent management and control problems. He'll spell out the challenges which face IBM's Systems Engineer.

How he studies customer needs and computer requirements, and develops systems solutions to their problems.

In short, he'll describe all the unusual assignments in IBM's more than 200 offices from coast to coast. All are places where you can grow with IBM, leader in America's fastest-growing major industry: information handling and control.

So don't miss your IBM interview. Visit your placement office and sign up now. If for any reason you can't make it on campus, feel free to visit your nearest IBM branch office. Or write: Manager of College Relations, IBM Corporate Headquarters, Armonk, N.Y. 10504.

Whatever your plans, before you hit upon a career, see if IBM doesn't make a hit with you.

Whatever your area of study, ask us how you might use your particular talents at IBM. Job opportunities at IBM lie in eight major career fields: (1) Marketing, (2) Systems Engineering, (3) Programming, (4) Research and Development, (5) Engineering, (6) Manufacturing, (7) Finance and Administration, (8) Field Engineering. IBM is an Equal Opportunity Employer.
