GOAL DUST...

By Jim Swartz

The Interfraternity Council's charity basketball game for the March of Dimes Saturday proved itself to be both exciting and interesting.

The play was ragged and rugged and most of the time exhibited a roughness that has become a characteristic of the football field.

The play was certainly funny, as teams were composed of three boys and three girls and a "no holds barred" ruling existed for the girls.

The IFC Affairs Committee earned $150 for the battle and the contestants earned some aches and pains in places that they didn't even know existed.

The bruised and bumped count rose with nearly every game. After about an hour of play (?) five contestants in the "charity" games had made the trek to our beloved Student Health.

A Student Health spokesman refused to release the final injured figures to the paper but speculation would place the injuries at a far greater number than what they should have been.

What the Affairs Committee failed to recognize is that the game of basketball is no social event. And worse yet, the "girls can do anything" rule was even more ridiculous than the idea itself.

Perhaps the idea can still be salvaged with a great deal of rule revision. The possibility too of a preseason preview to the Intramural basketball teams doesn't seem so remote either. But something does have to be done before anything similar is ever attempted again.

Phi Delt's Garner IM Swimming Title

Phi Delta Theta wrapped up first place in intramural swim competition with 71 team points. Phi Gamma Delta and Beta Theta Pi finished second and third with 51 and 48½ points, respectively. High point individual in overall competition was Ken Gaeth.

A new record of 1:00.8 was set by Walt Brzezinski, Pi Kappa Alpha, in the 100-yard backstroke.

In team events, Phi Delt "A" marked off the 200-yard medley relay in 1:59 for first place. Delta Tau Delta came in second, followed by the Fiji's in third place. Jumping from third to first place, the Fiji's took top honors in the 200-yard freestyle relay in 1:59.9. Sigma Phi Epsilon qualified for second place and the Beta "A" team finished third.

Ken Gaeth chalked up his high point title by swimming for one first and two second places in three individual competition divisions. Gaeth took the top spot in the 200-yard freestyle event in 2:01.9 and splashed his way to number two spot in the 100-yard individual medley and the 100-yard freestyle.

After Huskers 101-88 Win... Face 'Winningest' Team

Oregon State invades Cornhusker territory Tuesday, Dec. 7, and brings a tradition of basketball greatness.

Oregon State, 16-10 last season, is the second-winningest team in the United States. Only Kentucky has won more games than the Beavers.

But the Cornhuskers, with a 101-88 victory over Wisconsin as a season opener, aren't going to let the past get into the way of a Husker victory.

The win over Wisconsin marked the first time a Joe Cipriano coached team had won a road game contest in December. With this incentive and expressed confidence in scoring ability, the Huskers are aiming to please the home crowd.

"Oregon State will be similar to Wisconsin as they don't have a great offensive threat on the post," Cipriano said. "However, they always have had a balanced scoring attack and are noted for a great defense," he continued.

Oregon State opened its season by beating Portland, 59-43, and will play the University of Washington in Seattle Friday night. The Beavers finished fourth in the Pacific Coast Conference last year.

Four Pins Help Grapplers Post 27-10 Victory

DUANE DOBSON... rides Omaha's Reggie Williams.

Dobson hangs on to edge Williams 4-3.

Nebraska's wrestling team started the season off right Friday, as they stopped Omaha University 27-10 at Omaha.

The matmen won seven of the nine matches to account for their 27 point total while Omaha scored on two pins.

The grapplers scored four pins, Rick Allgood, 137, pinned Murtaugh with 5:22 gone. John Hallgren, 167, pinned Davis, 6:25. Carel Stith pinned Maides in 5:37 and Lelf Thompson pinned Franklin in 7:46.

Al Hutchings, 160, and Ralph Garcia were both pinned in their matches.

Paddleball Entries Due Dec. 14

Entries for singles and doubles paddleball will be taken on Tuesday, Dec. 14 in room 102 at the P. E. Building, according to intramural director Joel Meier.

Meier noted that each organization will determine the raking of its possible six individual and doubles team.

The games for the tournament will be scheduled according to times the handball courts in the Coliseum are available, Meier noted.

He continued that varsity team athletes who are permitted to use the Field House handball courts may play their matches there. Two out of three games will constitute a match and match winners will advance in the tournament.

Pairings for the tournament will be posted on the bulletin board in the P. E. Building.

Meier said that a trophy will be awarded to the team champions and medals will be presented to champions of singles and doubles play.

Team winners will be determined by points awarded by advancing in the tournament. Points won in singles and doubles competition will count towards the All-University Championship.

Equipment for the games may be checked out without charge at the equipment cages in the Coliseum or P. E. Building, not at the Field House.
