

The Ticket Parade

This was the scene early on the afternoon of the Iowa State basketball game. A repeat is expected today, as 3500 general admission tickets go on sale at 4:30 p.m. in the coliseum. Nearly every reserved seat has again been sold, as Nebraska continues to fill the house for its league-leading Husker basketballers.

Nebraska Beats CU

Charlie Greene was running well in front and only six yards from the finish when he suffered a leg cramp Saturday in the 60-yard dash at Boulder, Colorado in a dual meet with the Buffaloes.

Greene limped in third behind Lynn Headle of Nebraska and Ester Banks of Colorado.

Nebraska went on to win the meet 63-59, but had to win the final two events to salvage the victory.

Ray Harvey won the 60-yard low hurdles and the Husker mile relay team steamed in ahead of the Buffs in the last event of the day to give Nebraska the victory.

Sweeping all three places in the two mile run, Colorado took a 49-41 lead and stayed in front until Harvey won the hurdle event. Harvey had won the high hurdles earlier in the afternoon.

Dave Crook, who won the 600-yard run, out-distanced Colorado in the last leg of the mile relay to seal Nebraska's triumph.

Jim Beltzer was well below his 57 foot puts of recent weeks, but managed to win his specialty with a toss of 55' 3".

The newly found high jump specialist, Steve Krebs, placed second in his event with a leap of 6' 2".

The next stop for the Husker trackmen is Kansas City and the conference indoor track championships this weekend.

Tigers Gunned Down; Simmons Leads Press

By James Pearse

"And then there was the second half, and along came Grant Simmons and the Nebraska press, and Nebraska was behind, and then they were way ahead, and..."

If you were to walk in on a recap of Saturday night's basketball game in Columbia, Missouri you could expect to hear something like the above conversation taking place.

Nebraska won the contest 71-53 to boost their conference mark to 9-0 and over-all record to 17-3. But it wasn't as simple as it may appear.

The Missouri Tigers, led by league-leading scorer Ronnie Coleman, held the high-geared Huskers at bay for over a half by gumming up the Husker's fast-break offense with a slow down strategy.

Not wanting to give the Huskers quick-firing corps a chance to gun them down, the Tigers controlled the ball most of the first half.

Nebraska got off only sixteen shots during the opening twenty minutes, and trailed the crafty Cats 28-25 as the teams went to the showers for intermission.

Nebraska came on strong at the outset of the second half with their devastating full-court press.

And the most devastating Husker of them all was captain Grant Simmons.

The senior from Omaha led the pressure game which flushed the ball from the Tigers and soon had Missouri tanning in the open, fighting for their lives.

At 15:58 Nebraska grabbed the lead never to be headed again.

Then with the score 58-42, the Huskers sealed the Tigers off from the basket. For the next five minutes Nebraska gunned away until they had pumped in 15 straight points and bagged the victory.

Simmons was all over the court during those furious moments when Nebraska moved in for the kill.

Stealing the ball, passing the ball, scoring layups and jump shots—if it was being done, Simmons was doing it.

There was the time when Simmons was alone in the defensive court as three Tigers roared down on him. Refusing to give ground the courageous captain stole the ball from the on-rushing Tigers, then raced to the other end of the court and scored.

Missouri was led by Coleman, who hit for 15 points, seven below his average.

The Huskers as a team hit a blistering 52.5 per cent from the field. They also did a good from the free throw stripe with 13 of 18.

Tonight Nebraska meets the Colorado Buffaloes for the first time this season.

Colorado has been having their problems of late. Star center Chuck Gradner has been injured most of the season and is just now beginning to round into form.

The Buffs have been on the road all week-end, taking a 68-52 clanging at Kansas State Saturday night.

Game time tonight is 7:35 p.m. in the Coliseum as the Huskers shoot for conference win number ten.

Coach Joe Cipriano said that Simmons' performance in the second period is unmatched by any previous performance turned in by the 6'3" guard.

Simmons led both teams in scoring with a twenty-eight point out-put, hitting on 11 of 16 field goal attempts and collecting 6 of 8 charity tosses.

In supporting roles were Nate Branch, who had a fine night on the press and contributed 13 points. The only other man in double figures for Nebraska was Stuart Lantz with 10.

Nebraska's Steve Sorenson collected 223.35 points to win the diving against Colorado's Mike Ballard.
