

Students Urge Faculty To Oppose Draft Tests

The draft, women's hours, strikes and student governments are making the news on university campuses.

The Colorado Daily from the University of Colorado reports that an anonymous group of Colorado students have appealed to their faculty members to take a stand against the draft and Selective Service tests.

The students' letter quotes statements made by deans at Brandeis and Harvard Universities and suggests that "you urge your students NOT to take the Selective Service tests in May, on the grounds that the test is an absurdity mocking every student and faculty member on our campus."

The Daily adds that of 20 professors, only six had seen it and 10 of the 20 declined comment on the contents of the letter and the possible courses of action the faculty members would take.

Another Colorado campus has recently received permission to sell 3.2 beer in the student union, according to the Colorado State University Collegian.

The Collegian reports that the Colorado School of Mines has received the unanimous vote of their board of trustees to sell beer in the union. The beer will be sold only to Mines' students, staff, faculty and appropriate guests.

Although plans have not been fully formulated, the paper continues, the present proposal is to sell only draft beer from a tap in the snack bar located close to the billiard and bowling sections of the student union.

Charges of illegal possession of false identification cards against three University of Illinois students were dismissed, according to the Daily Illini.

The three students were picked up after a raid. They were carrying fake drivers' licenses and draft cards. All three are minors.

The Illini reports that their charges were dismissed as "The complaint does not allege that the identification cards were forged or used to obtain liquor."

Another article in the Illini reports that 600 employees of the University and Building Service are on strike after negotiations with University of Illinois officials failed to result in contract settlement.

"The word here is Go-go-go a spokesman for the Union told the paper."

The Ohio University Post reports that the men's inter-dormitory council (MIC) has proposed to the curriculum council that three credit hours be given a year for student government leaders.

The MIC president told the Post after discussions with student leaders, faculty members and administrators, he has developed what he thinks is "a valid and worthwhile solution to the problem of effective student government verses maintaining the academic standing of student leaders."

The Daily Colorado says that the Committee on Women's Rights put into final form a resolution to be submitted to the AWS in hopes of getting a referendum.

The committee announced plans to submit a resolution to the effect that "A referendum be held of all women students to the effect of eliminating all hours except for freshmen women."

Joslyn Concert Features Reist

A University associate professor of woodwind instruments will be the guest clarinetist for the chamber music concert of the Joslyn Fine Arts Ensemble in Omaha Sunday.

Wesley Reist will play the clarinet with the ensemble at 4 p.m. in Joslyn Art Museum's Concert Hall.

The ensemble will present Boccherini's "Piano Quintet in B flat, Op. 57, No. 2," Barber's "Serenade for String Quartet, Op. 1" and Brahms' "Clarinet Quintet, Op. 115."

The College of Dentistry's Miss Impressions will be announced at the dental formal in April. The finalists are: Kay Kramer, Kappa Alpha Theta, left in front; Marilyn Hardee, Alpha Omicron Pi; Alice Dale, Chi Omega; Susie Sitorius, Alpha Delta Pi, left in back; Karen Westberg, Alpha Xi Delta; and Marion Sicklebower, Kappa Delta.

Center To Host Meetings Concerning Industrial Development, Radioisotopes

A conference on industry and a meeting on the use of radioisotopes to preserve food are two of the events taking place at the University's Nebraska Center this weekend.

More than 50 Nebraska chamber of commerce and industrial development executives are meeting now at the center for the industrial conference.

The radioisotopes meeting, sponsored by the Agricultural Experiment Station and the College of Engineering and Architecture, will be held Friday.

The industrial meeting is sponsored by the University Extension Division and the Nebraska Resources Division. Dr. Kenneth Wagner of Jackson, Miss., will open the meeting Tuesday with a step-by-step explanation of Mississippi's industrial development program.

Other experts on the program include W. H. Baldwin, credit manager of the Stanley Worlds of New Britain, Conn., and Joseph Fraser, project manager of Corplan Associates, Chicago, Ill.

At the meeting on radioisotopes, Dr. Arthur Ward, head of conferences and institutes at the center, said four authorities from the Atomic Energy Commission will discuss changes in federal government regulations concerning the use of radioisotopes by private industry.

Dr. Ward said the men, yet to be announced, will also discuss application and use potential of radioactive materials for Nebraska food processing industries.

Read Nebraskan Want Ads

Quiz Bowl To Hold Interviews

Interviews will be held Saturday at 1 p.m. for the five positions on the Quiz Bowl executive committee.

Applications are available outside Room 345 in the Nebraska Union and must be returned by Saturday noon.

The positions open are president; vice presidents in charge of questions, arrangements and publicity; and secretary-treasurer.

Nebraskan Want Ads

Three low-cost rates apply to all classified advertisements in the Daily Nebraskan: standard rate of 5¢ per word and minimum charge of 50¢ per classified insert.

FOR SALE

MUSIC SALE - Annual sale on music books. Prices drastically reduced. Values from 5¢ to $1.50. NEBRASKA BOOK STORE.

1965 Corvair Conv., 180 Turbo-charged, 7,000 miles, convertible, yellow & black, 4-speed, like new. Call 422-7827.

FOR RENT

NEW APARTMENTS - for upperclassmen near University. One- & two-bedroom units. Available now. Built in kitchen, air-conditioning, private utility, laundry facilities. $65 per student. Call Jerry Gentry House, 2140 Orchard, University approved. Nice private room, cooling, 2.5¢, 471-6282.

Large Apartments, near campus. Also, 2-bedroom Apartments. Make call. Call 425-4064 evenings.

Apartment available for 1 or 2 boys. 2410 Dudley. 426-4077.

WANTED

Recent faculty position and wife desire furnished apartment or small house of suburban professor or other, 1 to 2 year lease. Inquire June. Reply in full, 400 Military Avenue, Apt. 30, New Haven, Conn.

UNIVERSITY RECORDER SOCIETY

Interested Recorder Players. Call or see Richard Vrhel, Room 215, Meade Building.

TRYOUTS

Tryouts for jazz vocalist, male or female, to be featured at the Phi Mu Alpha concert will be held March 20, 8 p.m., North Party Room, Student Union. No appointment necessary, just come prepared to sing two jazz selections.

MISCELLANEOUS

We guarantee better grades with mastery of Study's new scientific system. Send $1 to: Human Services Academy, P. O. Box 228, Stanford, California 94305.

New Frontier's "21" Fair Discount Card accepted by most major airlines for a 20% savings. Send a card or inquiry? Call Robyn Brock. 425-7286.

It's Spring vacation time

You're heading South to enjoy surfing, swimming, beachcombing and your favorite sport, bikini watching. You're traveling light, but it's obvious you're going to need a blazer. Take this Cricket Cloth Blazer with its new textured hopsack look, patterned lining and matching pull-out pocket square. Dacron and worsted keeps you cool, comfortable, sheds wrinkles.

CRICKETEER® CRICKET CLOTH BLAZER $45.00

*DuPont Reg. T.M.

The Captain's Walk

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA - LINCOLN

Orange Blossom DIAMOND RINGS

LANAI FROM $100

Sartor Hamann

1200 O STREET NEBRASKA ACADEMY OF AMERICAN ART SOCIETY

On Campus with Max Shulman (By the author of "Rally Round the Flag, Boys!", "Dobie Gillis," etc.)

WAKE ME WHEN IT'S OVER

The trouble with early morning classes is that you're too sleepy. At late morning classes you're too hungry. At early afternoon classes you're too logy. At late afternoon classes you're too hungry again. The fact is—and we might as well face it—there is no good time of day to take a class.

What shall we do then? Abandon our colleges to the ivy? I say no! I say America did not become the hope of mankind and the world's largest producer of butterfats and tallo by running away from a fight!

If you're always too hungry or too sleepy for class, then let's hold classes when you're not too hungry or sleepy; namely, while you're eating or sleeping.

Classes while eating are a simple matter. Just have a lecturer lecture while the eaters eat. But watch out for noisy foods. I mean who can hear a lecturer lecture when everybody is crunching celery or matzo or like that? Serve quiet stuff—like anchovy paste on a doughnut, or steaming bowls of lamb fat.

Now let us turn to the problem of learning while sleeping. First, can it be done?

Yes, it can. Psychologists have proved that the brain is definitely able to assimilate information during sleep. Take, for instance, a recent experiment conducted by a leading Eastern university (Stanford). A small tape recorder was placed under the pillow of the subject, a freshman named Wrobert Wright. When Wrobert was fast asleep, the recorder was turned on. Softerly, all through the night, it repeated three statements in Wrobert's slumbering ear:

- 1. Herbert Spencer lived to the age of 109 and is called "The Founder of English Eclectic Philosophy."
- 2. The banana plant is not a tree but a large perennial herb.
- 3. The Archduke Ferdinand was assassinated in 1914 at Sarajevo by a young nationalist named Mjilas Cveticnik, who has been called "The Trigger of World War I."

When Wrobert awoke in the morning, the psychologists said to him, "Herbert Spencer lived to the age of 109. What is he called?"

Wrobert promptly answered, "Perennial Herb."

Next they asked him, "What has Mjilas Cveticnik been called?"

Wrobert replied, "Perennial Serb."

Finally they said, "Is the banana plant a tree?"

"To be honest," said Wrobert, "I don't know too much about bananas. But if you gents want any information about razor blades, I'm your man."

"Well," said the psychologists, "can you tell us a blade that shaves closely and cleanly without nicking, pricking, scratching, scraping, scoring, gouging, grinding, flaying or flensing?"

"Yes, I can," said Wrobert. "Personna® Stainless Steel Blades. Not only does Personna give you a true luxury shave, but it gives you heaps and gobs and bushels and barrels of true luxury shaves—each one nearly as truly luxurious as the first."

"Land's sake!" said the psychologists.

"Moreover," said Wrobert, "Personna is available not only in the Double Edge style blade, but also in the Injector style blade."

"Great balls of fire!" said the psychologists.

"So why don't you rush to your dealer and get some Personnas at once?" said Wrobert.

"We will," said the psychologists, twinkling, "but there is something we have to do first."

Whereupon they awarded Wrobert an honorary L.L.B. (Lover of Luxury Blades) degree, and then, linking arms, they sang and danced and bobbed for apples till the campfire had turned to embers.

© 1966, Max Shulman

If you're looking for an honorary degree yourself, we recommend B.S. (Burrma Shave®)—from the makers of Personna. It soaks rings around any other lather; it comes in regular or menthol.

Faculty Senate Investigates Complaints, Space Requests

After tabling the acceptance of the committee on libraries' report last month, Faculty Senate accepted the revised report read by Howard W. Ottoson with an amendment at the Senate's meeting Tuesday.

Ottoson, chairman of the department of agricultural economics and new head of the committee on libraries, read the report which stated that representatives of library committees of the various colleges had been invited to its meetings "in order to provide a broader base for discussion."

Complaint Investigated

A further statement of the library committee's activities this past year said, "A complaint from the department of chemistry in response to the library's staff service in the chemistry library was analyzed. No action was taken."

The approval of space in the west basement of Love Library as temporary quarters for the Nebraska Human Resources Project was discussed by the committee. In view of the tight space situation in the library, the committee endorsed the measure as a temporary action.

The committee's report was passed with an amendment that the report be supplemented with accounts of all the library committee's activities this past year. This supplement will be made before Thanksgiving of next year.

Committee Nominations

The committee on committees report was presented by Abram Epp of the agricultural economics department.

The report stated, "The principle work of the committee since the last report has been to make nominations to the Chancellor for appointment, or to the Senate for election to the various committees." There are 21 committees and a minimum of 34 committeemen are replaced each year.

"We solicit suggestions from any member of the faculty," Epp continued. "I would suggest that you give the name to anyone on our committee at least three months prior to the date designated for appointment or election."

The report also noted that the committee on committees has a sub-committee working on the subject of fringe benefits that are available to members of the faculty. The report was accepted unanimously.

Press Ranks Seventh

Bruce H. Nicoll, director of publications and the University press, presented the committee on University publications report. The report stated that in 1965 the University of Nebraska press ranked seventh out of 65 other university presses in production. During this time, nearly 300 thousand books were sold in this country and abroad by the University Press.

Nicoll also made a plea for manuscripts to be submitted to the committee. His report was accepted without opposition.

The committee for retirement and insurance postponed its report on the year's activities until next month.

Bussman Attains Regional Office

A University junior was elected president of the Central Plains Region of Gamma Delta, international association of Lutheran college and university students.

Bob Bussman, who is a member of the University's Sigma chapter and has served as the local vice president and special events chairman, was elected at the regional convention in Norman, Okla., this weekend.

Twenty-six other members of the University chapter attended the convention.

WE SERVE A CAMPUS COMMUNITY...

With more members than Triangle National Fraternity.

With more townspeople than Nebraska City, Ogallala and Valentine combined.

With more people than Kearney, Scottsbluff or Columbus, Nebr.

With a larger population than in 75 different counties in Nebraska.

it pays to advertise in...

The DAILY NEBRASKAN

"Serving the Students of the University of Nebraska"