and the one presented to the Legislature was that the final and accurate projection was not ready until two months after the Committee on Budget had received the request.

Marvel remarked that the University's problems are not unique.

"Every state, without exception, will have the same problems to tell you," he said. "More is spent on concrete to build highways than on University's to mold minds — I only wish this problem could be solved. It's a fine commentary on our society."
"There is a way around these problems, however, that will not mean either a tuition increase or a special session," he stressed.

Senators To Decide Procedures

Procedures for the ASUN elections in April will be decided on at Wednesday's Student Senate meeting, according to Sen. Bill Coufal, speaker of the house.

Coufal explained, "Election procedures are basically the same as last year, but the limit for individual campaign costs may be reduced. We mainly want to notify everybody about what is happening."

Voting booths will be set up in the Nebraska Union, the East Union and Love Memorial Library, he continued.

"Convenience of location is most important," he noted. Another solution that may come up Wednesday concerns supporting a project of the Young Democrats. Under this project, candidates for state and national offices would be invited to debate before the students, said Kent Neumeister, ASUN president.

'Mr. Acacia'

"Mr. Acacia," Roy C. Clark, is shown receiving his commission as an admiral in the mythical Nebraska Navy from Jim Hunter, master of ceremonies at Acacia's sixty-first Founder's Day banquet last Saturday. Clark is the national executive secretary for the fraternity. Other awards given at the meeting went to Stan Matske, class of 1923, who was the alum with the lowest role number; Roger Thornton, Ensign in the Navy, who came the farthest to the meeting; and Brad Baltenspurger, this year's outstanding pledge.

Regents Authorize Bond Sales For Construction Of New Dorm

The Board of Regents Tuesday authorized the sale of $13 million in revenue bonds to finance the construction of the new dormitory complex.

In authorizing the sale of the bonds, the Board accepted the low interest rate bid of 4.2241 per cent submitted by an association of 33 firms lead by Lehman Brothers and Phelps, Fenn and Co. of New York.

The complex, to be located northwest of Nebraska Hall, will consist of three high rise dorms plus a separate food service building, a covered swimming pool and sunken garden. It is scheduled to be ready by the fall of 1967.

Revenue bonds are the borrowing of money for construction of a building that will make money to pay the principle and interest. The money is being borrowed with the plan that student dormitory fees, principally board fees, will be used to pay back the loan.

The Regents also approved the purchase of the last piece of land needed before beginning construction of the complex. In addition, the Board authorized the purchase of a number of lots lying southeast of Abel Hall and east of the railroad tracks. The lots lie along Vine, "U" and "T" Streets near 19th and 20th Sts.

In other business, bids were accepted for air conditioning improvements and the purchasing of a home economics demonstration mobile unit.

The mobile unit will be used in a program called, "Rehabilitation of the Physically Limited Homemaker" which is being financed by the Nebraska Heart Association.

The Regents accepted grants totaling over $1 million for research and training, fellowships and special programs.

The funds will be used for research in mental retardation, study of air pollutants, graduate training in sociology and social work and for the purchase of art objects.

Leaves of absence were granted to several faculty members including Kenneth Von Barga, assistant professor of agricultural engineering, who has accepted a National Science Foundation Fellowship at Purdue University for the next year.

AEC Manager To Discuss Nuclear Power

A native Nebraskan and authority on nuclear reactor power plants, Max E. Jackson of Chicago, Ill., will speak at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Nebraska Union.

Jackson will address a joint meeting of the Nebraska professional and student chapters of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers.

A former resident of Peru, Jackson is presently a manager for technical operation of the Atomic Energy Commission in Chicago. For several years he served as deputy director of the reactor division in the Commission's Oak Ridge (Tenn.) operations office.

Jackson's address, open to the public, will deal with recent developments in nuclear reactor power plants in the United States.

Trio Wins First In Talent Show

Trophies were awarded to the top three acts in the East Union talent show March 13. First place went to a vocal trio from Love Memorial Hall consisting of Mary Anderson, Shirley Cook and Cheryl Gustman.

Second and third places went respectively to Dave Shoemaker, accordion solo, and Mary Potter, vocal solo.

Aquaquettes Plan 'Disneyland' Show

A friendly dragon, a deck of cards and the three little pigs are some of the characters that will be appearing in the University Aquaquette swim show on March 24 and 25.

The theme of the show is "Disneyland" and is a take-off on the famous amusement park, according to Peggy Blue, secretary of the club.

Ten acts from Adventureland, Tomorrowland, Fantasyland and Frontierland will be performed by the members of the girls synchronized swimming club at 7:30 p.m. in the Coliseum pool.

Music and costuming will add to the theme and carry out the atmosphere of fun and fantasy, said Miss Blue.

A cowboy and cowgirl number, complete with western attire, will be presented by Alice Date, Sally Sheridan, Rod Dewey, and Larry Wheeler.

"Alice in Wonderland" will be the title of a solo number by Peggy Blue. Her act will be executed under a sprinkler shower of rain and will start with a dive from the high board.

Seven girls in a green and orange dragon suit will slither off the side of the pool into the water to the tune of "Puff the Magic Dragon."

Huckleberry Finn and Tom Sawyer will be portrayed in an act by Mary Holm and Sally Sheridan. Also on the lighter side will be a comedy act called the "Three Little Pigs."

Strings of electric Christmas tree lights will be worn in a body-light act in which all other pool lights are turned off.

Other formation acts will be a "Constellation" number and the finale. The first is a group of girls simulating the constellations of the sky and forming star-shaped patterns in the pool.

The finale will be a deck of cards that will make heart, diamond, club and spade formations in the water. Each "card" will wear a red or black oil-skin costume with diamonds and hearts on the front and back.

An Indian number which begins with a tom-tom dance will be done by a group of six girls, in feathers and war-paint.

There are forty members in the club, selected in the fall for ability in synchronized swimming. The girls have been practicing for the spring show once a week since November. Director of the club is Miss Zeh of the University physical education department.
