

Experts To Hear 'Outstanding' Prof.

A man voted an "Outstanding Professor" at Purdue University, Dr. Sam N. Postlethwait, will address an educational research symposium at the University Monday through Wednesday.

Noted for his innovations in teaching techniques, he will deliver the banquet address at the Second Symposium on Research and Utilization of Educational Media for Teaching the Deaf at the University's Nebraska Center, 7 p.m. Tuesday.

The symposium will bring together 60 leading national authorities on the teaching of the deaf.

Dr. Postlethwait, a noted botanist and investigator in the use of audio-visual aids in college teaching, has received considerable recognition for the development of a special teaching center for botany students at Purdue.

Students using the center are assigned to special carrels where they have access to programmed instructional materials such as tape recorded messages, 8 mm films and workbooks.

The center, considered supplementary to the usual class lectures, has been shown to be less expensive and more effective in maintaining personal contact between professor and student than the traditional college botany laboratory.

Soaring enrollments in botany at Purdue, an accompanying increase in performance of the student body, and significant increases in botany students' acceptance in graduate colleges has been pointed to as evidence of the success of Dr. Postlethwait's center.

Dr. Robert Stepp, head of the bureau of audio-visual instruction at the University of Southern California, will be Nebraska and symposium coordinator, said Dr. Postlethwait will discuss applications of what he calls "multifaceted teaching approaches" to the teaching of the deaf.

Dr. Robert Heinrich, assistant professor of instructional technology at the University deliver the keynote address, "Application of Systems Concepts of Instruction" at 7 p.m. Monday.

Dr. Heinrich's research is applied to determine the amount of self-teaching, that is, learning without the aid of an instructor, a person can obtain using an array of audio-visual devices and techniques.

Another highlight of the symposium will be a demonstration at 9 a.m. Wednesday of the use of overhead projectors and other devices with deaf children at Prescott School in Lincoln.

Campus To Have More Lighting

The University campus will have more lighting on streets and sidewalks, according to a report by the ASUN student welfare committee.

The University's physical plant has plans and materials to light the area from the library to the Greek houses. The lights will be put up as soon as possible and probably during a vacation period.

Already lights have been put up in the Area II parking lot east of Cather Hall, as a result of the committee's investigation.

In another project the committee sent letters to the Faculty Senate and the faculty bulletin to publicize a dead week in an effort to make it more effective.

The committee is also working on the check cashing problem in the Nebraska Union. The problem lies in administration because not enough money is sent to the Union to enable students to cash checks for large amounts, chairman Andy Taube said.

Two possible solutions, he said, would be to have a commercial bank set up in the Union or to request the comptroller's office to send more money to the Union.

Computers Search For Mythical Mates

What are your views on sex? Prudish, conservative, liberal, or free love? That's question No. 28 on the SEED computer dance questionnaire.

Proving that computers have a feeling for romance, the April 22 dance sponsored by the University Builders SEED committee will attempt to pair couples as to compatibility via electronic brains.

Tickets for the dance and the questionnaires will be available in the Nebraska Union until Friday. SEED is selling only 500 tickets to each sex for the computer dance.

Contact

This is just one example in the current college phenomena of machine-matched mates. Operation "Contact," run by an MIT graduate student, and "Match," the brainchild of two Harvard undergraduates, have in nine months processed some 90,000 applications for computerized dates across the nation.

An important step in the computer process is the questionnaire on which personal data is recorded. From there the information is fed into a computer which matches individuals with similar backgrounds and interests.

The SEED dance question sheet asks such things as age, sex, height, race and religion. How many movies do you attend a month? Do you enjoy philosophical discussions, art, literature and sports?

Self-Evaluation

Self-evaluation plays an important part in filling out the questionnaire. Are you a campus leader? How would you rate your own appearance? How many people have you dated since your first year in high school? Are you a good dancer?

Despite articles in national magazines proclaiming the computer as the match-maker of the future, even "Match" and "Contact" have their problems.

Problems

"Match" recently paired a girl with her roommate's fiancé, and the creator of "Contact" lost his girl to a punch-card compatible boy from Amherst.

Five Universities Send Students To NU Meeting

Chemical engineering students from five state universities met at the University global meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

The students met in Avery laboratory where they were welcomed by Dr. John E. Davis, dean of the University College of Engineering and Architecture.

The students, from the Universities of North Dakota, Colorado, Iowa, Iowa State and Nebraska, will tour the plant facilities of the Brunswick Corporation in Lincoln Saturday morning.

They will present special papers on their research from 2 to 5 p.m. in room 217 Ferguson Hall.

Robert F. McNamara of Omaha, manager of the marketing research diversification department of Northern Natural Gas Co. will speak at the noon banquet in the Nebraska Union.

Payments Deadline Extended

The deadline for payment of deposits for the ASUN European Flight Plan has been extended from April 1 to April 15, according to Ed Human of Van Bloom Travel Agency.

As of Thursday, 45 reservations had been made for the flight. "A number of students indicated an interest in the trip," Human said, "but they felt the first week in time for payment."

The deposit which must be paid by April 15 is $100. Total cost for the trip is $395. The remaining $295 must be paid by thirty days before departure.

Plans for the trip include a train to Chicago, and a June 16 departure from Chicago to London via United Airlines jet. Return to the United States is set for August 18.

ASUN Finishes Voting Report

A program to acquaint University students with voter registration procedures has been completed by the ASUN student welfare committee.

Andy Taube, committee chairman, said that the project was planned to encourage eligible students to vote.

The committee's report will be filed in the ASUN office and copies will be sent to the Young Democrats and Young Republicans, Taube explained.

Upcoming elections are: city, April 5; county primary, May 10; and county general, November 10.

Qualifications for voting are: 21 years old, resident of the state for six months, resident of the county for 40 days and resident of the precinct for ten days.

Counties in which voters must register before voting, are: Adams, Buffalo, Dodge, Douglas, Gage, Hall, Lancaster, Lincoln, Madison, Platte, Sarpy and Scottsbluff. Registration is unnecessary in all other counties.

In counties in which voters must register before an election, a person may register and request an absentee ballot at the same time. In all other counties a student would need to write only for the absentee ballot.

Absentee ballots may be obtained from the county clerk's office any time within 40 days prior to the election. Ballots must be marked and mailed and postmarked no later than midnight on the day preceding the election.

Married students may apply for the absentee ballots in the same letter, but both husband and wife must sign the letter of application.
