

University Atmosphere Has 'Few Intellectuals'

The intellectual atmosphere at the University is not as exciting as it could be due to the small number of people in the intellectual group, according to Jane Adams.

Miss Adams is a campus traveler for National SDS. Her duties include talking to people on campuses through out the mid-west, mailing out brochures, taking care of funds and "telling various groups what is happening on other campuses."

"It's very indefinite," she said. "I just try to hook the groups together and give them an idea of what is going on in other places."

Miss Adams noted that she was "pretty well pleased with the University. The intellectual atmosphere, however, is not as exciting as say the University of Iowa."

"The reason for the lack of excitement lies in the small numbers involved with the intellectual group," she continued. "Even in the group itself, discussion is hindered by the small number. The more people discussing something, the more challenge exists."

Miss Adams spoke of the historical spirit of the state as a whole that seems to be lacking at the present time.

"I know that Nebraska as a whole has a revolutionary history," she said, "but I don't see it any more. It's like that with a lot of states that spirited the Populist movement and now that spirit is gone."

Miss Adams attended Antioch College and the University of Southern Illinois before becoming a full-time worker for SDS.

At the University of Southern Illinois, she said, a movement similar to the Campus Freedom Democratic Party was organized "but aborted by the Administration."

"The Administration abolished student government and already controlled the newspaper," she added. "After they had abolished student government, they set up a student council that served strictly in an advisory capacity."

"The students were all up in arms," she noted. "Every organized group from the Greeks supported a student government stating what student government should be."

Miss Adams stated she was "very impressed that the reporters on this campus were actually involved with things. Too often the student newspapers, or the reporters at least, are nothing more than arms of administration."

Of her plans for the near future, she said she will continue as a traveling adviser for SDS.

"Lord knows what I'll be doing after that!" she exclaimed. "Maybe go to Latin America for a while. I really can't see more than a year or two in advance."

Lending Library Sets New Hours

The Nebraska Union record lending library is now open Tuesdays from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and Thursdays from 3:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Located in the Union Program office, the lending library loans records to students at no cost.

"Students should stop by look at our selections and make suggestions for records they'd like to have in the library next year," Kathy Augustin, music committee assistant chairman, said.

Theta Sigs Hear Lady Journalist

An end to the 'Superman' image of journalists was called for by Mrs. Carolyn Tyler, editor of the Riverton, Wyoming "Daily Ranger".

Speaking to guests of the women's journalism honorary Mrs. Tyler stated, "We aren't telling people that journalism is doing. We're leaving it up to the way-out minds of television writers."

Reporters are not 'Clark Kents,' said Mrs. Tyler, they are not people living in a world of crime and cocktail parties.

"Journalists are ordinary people who enjoy their work," she stated.

Mrs. Tyler continued, "Journalism is the greatest profession in the world and we need to tell people that it has emerged from the Dark Ages."

"I love the work and I love to share it with other people," said Mrs. Tyler.

Mrs. Tyler is a 1957 graduate from the University school of journalism and for the third consecutive year has been named outstanding woman journalist in Wyoming. She is the former editor of the "Ainsworth Star Journal."

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS... have the opportunity to view the largest one-man show to appear at Sheldon Art Gallery presently on display.

Sheldon Gallery To Display Half-Million Dollar Collection

The largest one man show ever to appear at Sheldon Art Gallery went on display Sunday and will remain at the gallery until May 1.

The 114-piece show of oils, water-colors, ink drawings, an American artist, Milton Avery, who during his lifetime was considered one of the outstanding painters in the nation, according to Fred Wells, executive secretary of the Art Association.

States Wells, "Avery's works hang in all the prominent galleries of the United States."

The collection, valued at nearly a half million dollars,

Sheldon To Show Official Nazi Film 'Triumph Of Will'

An official propaganda film of the Nazi party in 1934 will be shown April 13 at Sheldon Art Gallery.

Entitled "Triumph of the Will," the film is the official Party record of the gigantic rally at Nuremberg in connection with the 6th annual Party Congress held in 1934.

In a release from the art gallery, the film is said to show "militant pomp and marching masses" as well as "major policy speeches by Nazi leaders: Hitler, Goebbels, Goering, Hess and Himmler."

"Triumph of the Will" is described as a technically brilliant masterpiece and the crowning achievement of Nazi propaganda.

"Today the film stands as a unique tremendously impressive document of a dictator's philosophy and methods," states the gallery release.

The movie features German dialogue with English subtitles.

Easter Seal Record Set By Phi Delt

A Lancaster County, and possibly a state record for soliciting funds for the Easter Seal project was set Saturday by the Phi Delta Theta pledge class.

According to Gary Gray, co-chairman of the Phi Delt Help Week, the pledges collected $2,040.40 in seven hours. This surpasses the previous Easter Seal record of $1,800 in two days.

The project, Gray explained, was carried out by the pledges with the help of two members from each sorority on campus. The girls exchanged paper Easter lilies for donations on downtown street corners.

"By late afternoon virtually every pedestrian downtown had a lily," he noted.

Interest in the project was heightened, Gray added, by confining a radio disc jockey in a "jail" measuring five feet by eight feet until the goal of $2,000 was reached.

Union To Open Sculpture Display

A demonstration on the art of sculpting will mark the opening of a display of student sculpture work in the Nebraska Union lounge Wednesday afternoon.

The sculpture display will be the first of two student art displays and one sale to be held at the Union this month. They are all sponsored by the Union contemporary arts committee.

An inter-living unit art exhibit will be held April 19-22. The show will be held on the Union terrace and all living units are invited to submit paintings or drawings to be judged.

Anyone interested in participating in this display, is asked to contact Elaine Kallos at Pound Hall.

On May 4 and 5 a student art sale will be held in the Pan American room of the Union. Any University students may submit paintings, sculpture, or other works of art to the sale.

Those interested in selling their work should bring it to the Union Program office on either April 28 or 29. The work should be labeled with its title, artist, medium and price.

A separate list should be submitted along with the art object for the sale's records. The contemporary arts committee will extract five per cent of the sales price as a charge for the sale.

Home Ec Classes To Present Show

A fashion show, "Mosaics in Fashion", will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday in the East Union Activities Building.

Presenting scenes in a college girl's life, the show will feature clothing made in home economics classes and modeled by students in home economics classes and modeled by students in home economics.

The fashion show is open to all University students and to the public.

Court Sets Student's Hearing

A University student was arraigned in Lancaster County Court Monday on two counts of motor vehicle homicide in connection with a Sunday accident in which two pedestrians were killed.

Larry Olson, 20, of Fremont, entered no plea and asked for a preliminary hearing which was set for April 20. Bond was set at $2,500.

Mrs. Evelyn Aldape, 34, 128 No. 29th, and Horace D. Brooks, 57, a roomer in the Aldape house, were crossing O St. near 20th just west of the Rock Island Railroad tracks when they were struck by a west-bound car in the north lane.

Deputy County Attorney Ronald Lahners said Mrs. Aldape and Brooks were hit at "approximately the same time."

A passenger with Olson notified police of the accident which occurred at about 1 a.m. Sunday.

Three passengers in Olson's car, all University students, were released subject to call, according to Lahners.

He said Mrs. Aldape and Brooks were pronounced dead on arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital and that autopsies have been ordered.

Why is a Bass weejun moccasin better than going barefoot? True, it costs more, but appearance and comfort are more too. (Stubbed toes are "out" this year and are apt to smart a bit) Bass makes moccasins like the Indians did, with one single piece of leather that extends all the way under the foot. Not to mention the leather soles and heels. Don't be a beast, baby your feet, cradle them in a Bass weejun.
