

Williams Resigns . . . NU Comptroller Takes Iowa Post

The resignation of Robert W. Williams, University comptroller, was accepted by the Board of Regents Saturday morning.

Williams will become the Business Manager of Parsons College in Fairfield, Iowa. He has been on the University staff since October 1964. His resignation is effective June 15.

Several factors influenced Williams' decision to leave.

"At Parsons, my duties will be broader," he states. "More people will report to me, and I regard it as a step up from my present job."

Williams will receive an "improvement in salary" at Parsons.

"I have a genuine feeling of regret about leaving the University," Williams says. "This is an excellent institution and a nice town, and I have made many friends here."

"At this stage in my career," he continues, "I felt that I couldn't pass up this opportunity, financially and professionally."

A certified public accountant, Williams will be responsible for business and finance, purchasing, physical plant, food services, and data processing at Parsons.

HUNDREDS . . . of unclaimed articles are on file in the University's lost and found department in Nebraska Hall. Among the lost possessions are 400 text books, 75 coats and jackets, 300 notebooks, jewelry, shoes, sneakers, slide rules and eye glasses. Students may identify and receive their articles at the lost and found department, Room 175. The office is at the west entrance of the building on 16th Street and is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Articles are brought to the lost and found department from all University buildings except dormitories.

Students To Aid Drives For Voter Registration

Sixteen students will be leaving this week to work on voter registration projects in Denver, Colo. and Jackson, Miss.

The Denver project, which will last from April 7-12, and the Jackson project, April 9-16, are both sponsored by the National Student YWCA and have been held annually for the past few years.

The project in Jackson will receive help from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), according to Andi Block, University YWCA president.

Miss Block said there are 15,000 non-registered eligible voters in the Jackson area. Peggy King, a 1965 graduate of the University who is working with the federal Head Start program in Gulfport, Miss., will also be working with the group in Jackson.

The Denver project is being set up and coordinated by the students and staff of the University of Denver YM-YWCA, she explained.

Effort in the Denver project will be concentrated among Spanish Americans, American Indians and Negro living in Denver's "Five Points" area.

Students in both projects will be canvassing the target neighborhoods, contacting eligible voters not registered and inviting them to the voter registration center being set up for the project. The week's program also includes an extensive session before the project actually begins.

The students participating in the Denver project are: John Dietz, Robert Wilson, Dan Ortiz, Julie Morris, Carolee Heileman, Gloria Adams and Doyle Niemann.

Students going to Jackson include: John Schrekinger, Ann Duncan, Gene Pokorny, JoEllen Williams, Mary Roseberry, Peggy Allington, Carl Davidson and Loren Amelang.

Carol Williams is a non-student sponsor traveling with the Denver group. She is a 1965 graduate of the University and is now doing social work in Omaha.

TICKETS . . . went on sale Tuesday in the Nebraska Union for the performance of comedian Bill Cosby at Pershing Auditorium April 30. The performance, which is being sponsored by the Union, will also include the "Brandywine Singers."

Finals Proposals Are Approved

Troy, N.Y.—(I.P.)—A set of resolutions aimed at eliminating several of the problems of finals week at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, proposed and approved by the Student-Faculty Academic Council, states:

1. A board composed of students and faculty is to be formed to advise and to aid the Provost in resolving finals conflicts and related problems, both during finals week and the preceding week.
2. Three finals in a row is to be considered a conflict. This is defined as one final on the day before a two finals day or as a final in the morning of the day after a two finals day. Evening finals falling into one of these categories are considered conflicts.
3. The review period the week before finals week is not to be considered an examining period, and tests, finals, and other major assignments are not to be held during this period, especially during the last two days of the semester.
4. Finals will not be given on the Saturday before finals week.
5. Finals week will be officially six days long with each of the four classes having five days of regular tests and one day left open, this staggered by class.

all the social action groups such as the Vietnaks, and the heat is on them. The Greeks have never had a better opportunity to take on a back-breaking project."

Admitting that it is often hard to work with older people, he said that he thought this area is being overlooked as an area for projects.

Brown said that an emphasis on religion is also lacking.

"No individuals get up out of the rack on Sunday morning and go to church of their own choice?" questioned Brown.

"The number one curse of the Greek system is D-R-I-N-K," he said. "When

Using Pesticides To Be Discussed

An educational meeting on the selection and handling of pesticides will be held at the University's Nebraska Center Monday, according to John Furrer, Extension pesticides specialist.

The meeting, aimed primarily at people responsible for the proper use of weed and insect killing chemicals in public places, is a joint project of the University Cooperative Extension Service and the State Environmental Health Service.

The all day session will cover both effective use and safe use of pesticides. State, industry, and University experts will present latest information in their areas.
