

Lynn Headley breaks the tape, winning the Kansas Relays 100 yd. dash in 9.6.

12 Records Set At KU; Huskers Win 2 'First's'

By Bonnie Bonneau
Though there were fewer big name teams than usual, with the help of a freshman named Jim Ryan, this year's KU Relays was as exciting as ever.

The predominately KU crowd loved Ryan and he responded with record setting anchors in the Frosh-Juco distance medley and Frosh-Juco mile relay and a record setting solo in the open mile.

World Record
Ryan's 3:55.8 mile is the fastest run in the world this year. Ryan's 3:59 anchor leg to KU's freshman distance medley set a world record of 9:50.4.

But the Ryan run that hurt the Husker fans most was his anchor of the mile relay. Nebraska's freshmen had been leading most of the race and were in good shape when the last exchange came.

Iowa State Wins Dual

The Nebraska golf team dropped a 11-4 dual meet to Iowa State Saturday and now has a 6-3 dual meet record for the season.

The Husker's top performer was Nick West who shot a 75. West defeated Marshall Victor, who shot a 77, 2-1.

Medalist honors in the meet went to ISU's John Hurst with a 74. He posted a 3-0 win over Nebraska's Galen Ullstrom who carded an 82.

The ISU freshman squad beat the NU frosh, 9 1/2-8 1/2. Nebraska's Charles Walter was the medalist with a 78.

Iowa State 11, Nebraska 4
John Kappa, 76 (ISU) defeated Charles Borner, 77, 2-1; Nick West, 75 (Neb) defeated Marshal Victor, 77, 2-1; Aaron King, 76 (ISU) defeated Steve Bock, 91, 3-0; Steve Wilcoxen, 78 (ISU) defeated Steve Nelson, 81, 2-1; John Hust, 74 (ISU) defeated Galen Ullstrom, 82, 3-0.

anchor for the Huskers and Ryan for KU. NU held the lead for the first 220 yards, but Jim Ryan comes in second to no one. Kansas's time was 3:15.5. Nebraska's 3:15.7, and K State's 3:16.0 all of which broke the old record of 3:16.5.

Nebraska received two first place medals, one for Lynn Headley's 9.6 100-yard dash, and the other in the Frosh 100 went to Clifton Forbes.

Charlie Greene did not enter the 100, he saved all his strength for the 440 relay, but even that could not retrieve the lost ground in a bad first handoff and the Huskers finished second with a 41.3 to Rice's 40.8.

Baseball Team Drops Two To Leading Oklahoma State

By Bob Flasnick
The Cornhusker baseball team dropped two of three games to league-leading Oklahoma State over the weekend to give Nebraska a 5-4 league record and 9-5 overall.

Husker pitchers looked good during the series, but a lack of hitting and a bunch of bobbles spelled trouble in the two losses Nebraska encountered against OSU.

Oklahoma State coach Chet Bryan said, "We're real happy to beat the kind of pitching we played here." He described Nebraska's three starters as "real good boys."

What pleased Bryan the most was "that big sophomore kid" Larry Burchart, who shackled Nebraska for three hits in a 4-0 OSU win the series finale on Saturday.

Nebraska's Bob Hergenrader allowed the Cowboys six hits in Saturday's single game and was handed his second loss of the season against one victory.

The Huskers came up with another injury on Saturday when Alex Walter hurt an ankle going after a ball hit to him in centerfield during the fifth inning.

The Husker's single victory was the opening game of Friday's double-header when Scottbluff product Gary Neibauer pitched Nebraska to a 3-0 win, allowing the boys from Stillwater only two hits. The win gave Neibauer a 2-1 record for the season.

Oklahoma State used three pitchers in the opening game in an effort to silence the Nebraska bats which accounted for six hits in Friday's victory. Two of those six came from centerfielder Walter.

The Cowboys needed only one hurler in Friday's second game. Richard Frank a junior, turned in one of the best performances of his career when he allowed the Huskers only two hits on the way to a 7-0 win. Nebraska helped Frank along by committing six errors.

Six-foot-six right hander Bob Stickels suffered his first loss of the season in Friday's second game to push his record to 3-1 for the season.

Nebraska will try to get back on the winning track this weekend in a three game series with Missouri at Columbia, Mo.

Randy Harris completes the first leg of an attempted double play against visiting OSU.

Sam's Salutes

By BOB SAMUELSON
While watching the Academy Awards presentations Monday evening, it occurred to me that the limitations of the awards to the area of motion pictures is a tragic deficiency of this great country of ours.

Take the sports world, for instance. Just imagine the Sports Academy of Sciences' presentations being held this evening at the Astrodome in Houston.

The Master of Ceremonies, dressed up as Babe Ruth, steps out on the rostrum and presents the little gold statues to the winners. The statues are no 'Oscars,' but rather 'Abners' — perfect representations of Abner Doubleday who founded the grand old game of baseball.

The awards would go something like this:

- Best Performance by a Supporting Actor . . . Gay Brewer.
- Best Use of Makeup . . . Cassius (Adonis) Clay
- Best Fake-Out-Everybody Performance . . . Charlie Winters' draft status
- Best Set Production . . . Augusta Masters Course Committee
- Best Comedy Performance . . . New York Mets
- Best Non-Professional Use of Hollywood Sunglasses . . . Charlie Green
- Best (Lack of) Direction . . . Roy 'Wrong Way' Riegals
- Most Promising New Starlet . . . (Tie) Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale
- Best Farical Comedy . . . Nebraska-Alabama Game
- Best Dramatic Actor . . . (Tie) Bill Russell and Wilt Chamberlin
- Worst Continued Performance by a Sportscaster . . . Jim McKay, ABC-TV
- Worst Single Performance by a Sportscaster . . . Paul Christman's comments about the Nebraska-Missouri game
- Best Anti-Climax Performance . . . NFL Championship (Snowbow) Game
- Best Use of Language for Effect . . . Tony Sharpe
