UNION FILMS . . . chairman Kris Bitner looks over a "coming attraction."

Foreign Film Society Lists New Selections

"Juliet of the Spirits" and "Darling" are two of the films that will highlight next year's foreign film schedule from the Nebraska Union Film Society.
 Kris Bitner, chairman of the Film Society, stated that next year's selection of films is the finest since the society began.
 The list includes four works from the French cinema art and films from all major countries known in the film field. Russia, Sweden, Japan, England and America are all represented on the list. Dramas far outnumber comedies and musicals in the selection for next year.
 Next year's selection will be as follows: "Eroica," "Hallelujah the Hills," "U-brellas of Cherbourg," "Girl with Green Eyes," "Cartouche," "Ashes and Diamonds," "The Shop on Main Street," "A Woman is a Woman," "Dear John," "The Overcoat," "Alphaville" and "Kwaidan."
 The Film Society will continue to publish "N U Cinema" next year in addition to holding regular film forums and several special films for members.
 Speakers whose names are synonymous with the cinema will be added to the program for next year, stated Miss Bitner. Also, the film society will work in conjunction with Sheldon Art Gallery Film Program on a summer series which has recently been announced.

Ticket prices for next year's Union film program have been increased because of an increase in the price of film rentals and the rental of the Nebraska Theatre.
 Miss Bitner said that "the rise in price is necessary to insure the continuing high quality of the programs."
 A five per cent reduction in price will be offered to this year's members purchasing membership in the 1966-67 series before May 31.
 Applications are due Friday noon for students interested in representing the University at the National Student Leadership Institute June 11-18 in New York City.
 Applicants, who will be interviewed by members of ASUN, should sign up on the ASUN door. The interviews will be held late Friday afternoon.
 Kris Bitner, who attended the conference last year, said that the institute is mostly a study of the United Nations and world problems.
 She noted that it is closely related to the Collegiate Council of United Nations and will include many United Nations speakers such as Dr. Ralph Bunche, under-secretary of

Sororities Key Proposal

 Miss Freeman said that instead of taking opposite stands on the issue, AWS and the Advisory Board should discuss the matter and come to a workable solution.
 She said she has written to the national director, and the national sorority is primarily worried about the problem of security. "This is a technical problem that can be overcome," she stated.
 Noting that the decision would ultimately be up to the alumni advisory board, Erma Winterer, president of Kappa Delta, said she intends to meet with the board.
 She said there was some about the key system. "Some girls don't think they can trust themselves with the key," she said.
 Polly Rhynalds, president of Sigma Kappa, said that their representative to the advisory board had not contacted the Senior Key Committee or any of the girls in her house before they voted. "They didn't know the whole story before they voted," she added.
 "The girls are very much in favor of the key system if it is enforced and if the girls understand the responsibilities of the key," commented Jan Connell, president of Chi Omega. "However, there are a few question marks in their minds."
 "And if it doesn't work, we can always dissolve it," she added, noting that the system will have to be tried sooner or later.
 "Most of the houses felt positively toward the key system, but after considering some of the corporation board's questioning, there are some mixed reactions," said Mary Kullish, treasurer of Gamma Phi Beta.
 She said they would be discussing the matter, but she was not sure if they would change their representative's view.
 "Mostly there are questions concerning expense and the peace of mind to the house-mother," she added.
 On the other side, Joan McClymont, president of Kappa Alpha Theta, said her house feels that many of the rules set down by AWS are "too stringent."
 "It they are going to give us responsibility, they should not be so strict," she said.
 Although she said they would discuss the matter with the representative on the Panhellenic Advisory Board, she stressed they would not necessarily defy their representative.
 Pam Hedgecock, president of Delta Gamma, said she felt that some of the representatives to the Panhellenic Advisory Board had not discussed the matter with the corporation boards or the advisory boards. She noted the president of their advisory board said she didn't feel the advisory board would oppose the key system.
 Adding that the girls in her house favor the key system, she said they feel they lead a relatively sheltered life in college and the key system would give the responsibility that will be required in life after they get out of college.
 Marcia Richmond, first vice president of Alpha Xi Delta, said a few seniors had indicated they would not use the key system.
 "It's the idea of having the key there if they need to use it, not that they're going to be using it all the time," she said.
 Kay Kersbrock, president of Alpha Phi, noted that some-

Please don't zlupf Sprite.
 It makes plenty of noise all by itself.

Sprite, you recall, is the soft drink that's so tart and tingling, we just couldn't keep it quiet.
 Flip its lid and it really flips. Bubbly, fizzing, gurgling, hissing and carrying on all over the place.
 An almost excessively lively drink. Hence, to zlupf is to err.
 What is zlupping?
 Zlupping is to drinking what smacking one's lips is to eating.
 It's the staccato buzz you make when draining the last few deliciously tangy drops of Sprite from the bottle with a straw.
 Zzzzzzzlup!
 It's completely uncalled for. Frowned upon in polite society. And not appreciated on campus either.
 But, if zlupping Sprite is absolutely essential to your enjoyment, if a good healthy zlupf is your idea of heaven, well... all right.
 But have a heart. With a drink as noisy as Sprite, a little zlupf goes a long, long way.

The no-drag shaver. You might not shift to 3rd until you're 17.

Usually 17 is the time peach fuzz turns into hard bristle. Then you've got trouble, unless you have a shaver that can grow up with you. Like the new REMINGTON® 200 Selectro Shaver with the dial. Alias no-drag. We gave it an alias because you can shift all over your face and adjust to your particular beard. Any variety from fuzz to scrub brush. Turn the dial to 1st. You can take off uphill on your neck. No drag. In 2nd you can go through a couple of days' growth. No pull. In 3rd you can take on anything without leaving skid marks. Shift to 4th and you're in and out of corners. You drift over tender spots like your upper lip. 5th is the finishing line. Straight sideburns. In 6th you clean out the whiskers. The Selectro Shaver is up there in the Ferrari class, but we've managed to make it cost less than a lot of regular shavers. We're not out to take you for a ride. We also make a complete line of cordless shavers, in case you're interested.
