Suggestive Music

group that writes subliminal meanings into songs," noted Thomas.

The disc jockey explained that there has always been a side-stream of really suggestive songs, but that the current waxes and wanes periodically. At the moment, allusions to drug experiences seems to be more prevalent in rock 'n roll tunes, according to Thomas.

'Nothing New'

Singing about sex is nothing new, said one University English professor who cited Elizabethan ballads as evidence. In recent years, Cole Porter wrote about it and singers such as Frank Sinatra and Robert Goulet have crooned about it. Thus, sex is not a thing unique in popular music, stated the professor.

University professor of psychology David Levine said that the increased suggestiveness of drugs and sex in popular music, or the increase in finding "hidden meanings" pertaining to these themes, may indicate an increased awareness of drugs and sex on the part of society. In his opinion, Levine feels drugs and sex have become more acceptable to the public — more likely to be topics of conversation.

Program manager Thomas stated that popular music is governed by the public's taste. He explained that his radio station's "Top Fifty" list of songs is determined on the basis of sales and telephone requests made in Lincoln. Other songs played on the radio are chosen according to reviews in trade magazines and professional judgment.

Thomas added that in his opinion, song lyrics make little difference in the sale of a record. He said that the public is not especially demanding suggestive lyrics, but is demanding a good beat and a tuneful melody.

But the lyric controversy continues with singers getting off each other's clouds, taking trips, and running to the shelter of mother's little helper, while providing listeners with a new game called "Find the Hidden Meaning."

SDS Plans Teach-In About 'Black Power'

Executive secretary of the Central Committee for Conscientious Objectors, (CCCO), Arnold Tatum, will speak at the University Oct. 18.

Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) voted unanimously at its Wednesday night meeting to sponsor the well-known conscientious objector.

Tatum will give a formal address explaining his position as conscientious objector and will be available for counseling students during the day he will be on campus. CCCO is a group that seeks to inform citizens who seek information concerning the process of becoming a conscientious objector.

The SDS-sponsored teach-in on black power has been set for Sunday night, Oct. 30, in the Love Library small auditorium at 7 p.m.

Al Spangler, president of the University chapter of SDS, stated he had received word from two of the invited civil rights groups in regard to speaking at the black power teach-in.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) have expressed their desire to participate in the teach-in. The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), one of the more controversial proponents of black power, has not yet replied to the SDS request for a representative. Spangler stated that national SDS will definitely send a speaker for the teach-in.

In order to raise funds for the teach-in, various SDS members will sell their blood to hospitals and the Red Cross in Lincoln.

Approximately five University members of SDS will travel to Kansas City Friday for the weekend Plains State Regional Conference. The conference will discuss methods of social change. Following the regular program, an informal regional meeting will be held.

The new advisor for SDS will be Dr. Moredecai Marcus, professor in the English department at the University.

Applications are available outside the ASUN office and must be returned by Friday at 5 p.m. Applicants also should sign up for an interview time.

Reporter Not Admitted During Abel Hall Fire

By Julie Morris Senior Staff Writer

A Lincoln newspaper reporter was barred from entering Abel Hall during Tuesday night's fire alarm and was "forcibly escorted" outside the building when he followed firemen inside.

John DeCamp, the Star reporter who covered Abel's fire alarm Sunday night, was refused admittance to the building by residence directors Bob Muschewski and Richard Arndt and later was surrounded by a group of Abel residents, who told DeCamp to "go home."

DeCamp said the residence directors "forcibly escorted me outside the building and in front of the building eight to 15 students surrounded me and were extremely angry about the publicity they'd received the previous morning."

Arndt said DeCamp was denied entrance to the building because "the building was being evacuated of all unauthorized personnel."

Lincoln's chief fire inspector, DeWayne McIntyre, had instructed the Abel officials to keep unauthorized persons out of the building during alarms, Arndt said.

McIntyre, who was contacted Wednesday, denied investigating the officials with any type of authority to bar people from the building.

The fire inspector said he had told Abel officials "if they didn't want unauthorized people in the building they had to take the steps."

McIntyre stressed that he did not indicate who was unauthorized. "This decision, he said, is left up to the owners of the building or their representatives. The owners of a building, he said, can bar anyone they wish from the building."

Ten Posts Vacant On Faculty Senate

Students interested in serving on any one of several Faculty Senate committees are asked to pick up applications for the positions in the ASUN office.

Applicants will be judged solely on the basis of their application, according to Roger Doerr, ASUN vice president.

Ten positions are vacant on the committees. Each committee and its duties will be explained on the application.

DeCamp said he asked Arndt if McIntyre had specifically indicated that DeCamp be barred from the building. "Arndt said 'yes,'" DeCamp said.

Arndt said, "Mr. DeCamp did not behave in a very positive or friendly manner Sunday night, if he had been cooperative Sunday night there would have been no problem Tuesday."

Arndt said DeCamp's report of Sunday's fire alarm was "distorted." DeCamp's story reported that students jeered firemen and "loudly urged a 'raid' on Sandoz Hall as they stood outside during the alarm."

Abel student assistants, who were keeping the residents under control during Tuesday night's alarm, said Monday's Star story was "pure fiction" and "not factual."

Stan Getz is an exclusive MGM/Verve artist. Latest release: the sound-track music from the motion picture "Mickey One" on MGM records.

His shirt is Hathaway's Classic Oxford Club. $7.50.

Hathaway is a division of The Warner Brothers Co.

Hathaway Hallmarks (Or what we hoped Stan Getz would mention)

1. A tag for your name: Sewn on the shirt tail of every Hathaway Club. Helps keep your Hathaway shirts out of envious hands.
2. Traditional button-down collar: Hand-turned for a soft roll, comfortable fit and casual flare. Result: Every Hathaway Club button-down looks equally well with or without a tie.
3. Three-hole button: Used exclusively by Hathaway. It is much stronger than the four-hole kind. (Euclid and your Math. professor know why.)
4. Tapered body: Hathaway trimly tapers each and every Hathaway Club. This means that the body won't bag, billow or bulge over your waistline.
5. Lap seams: All seams on a Hathaway Club Shirt are "lapped"—much like the seams on a traditional jacket. This makes the seams extraordinarily strong and flat and neat.
6. The Red "H": Found on every Hathaway Club where the tails meet—but only when the shirt has passed 18 inspections.

Libraries, NU Extension Offer Learning Festival

Five informal education programs involving lectures and demonstrations by University staff members and other authorities have been scheduled for the 1966 Fall Festival of Learning.

The sixth-annual program of non-credit courses for adults is sponsored jointly by the University Extension Division and the Lincoln City Libraries.

This year's Festival will offer courses examining the problems confronting today's cities, social changes brought about by medical research, man's role and responsibility in the modern world, folklore, and the theater.

Interested persons may obtain registration forms at all Lincoln public libraries or from the University Extension Division in Nebraska Hall. All courses will begin during the month of October, with classes being held at Bennett Martin Library.

The courses, times, instructors, and nature of subject matter:

- The Politics of Urban Upheaval, by Richard Shugrue, Creighton University; Dr. Arthur B. Winter, Dr. Alan Booth, Dr. Murlin Hodgell, and Dr. George T. C. Peng, all from the University of Nebraska. The course will include discussions on the challenge to political order in coping with the increasing crises facing today's cities from 7:30 to 9 p.m., five Mondays beginning Oct. 17.
- The Living Theater, by Dr. Dallas Williams, professor, Dr. William Morgan, associate professor, and Dr. Joseph B. Baldwin, professor, department of speech and dramatic art, University of Nebraska. Participants will observe and discuss a classical and a modern play from 7:30 to 9 p.m. on three Mondays beginning Oct. 17 and 8:00 Saturdays, Oct. 22 and 29 at Howell Memorial Theater.

- Folklore, by Roger Welsch, Nebraska Wesleyan University; Dr. Alice Kehoe, University of Nebraska; and Mrs. Lois Collins, Lincoln City Libraries. Folklore will be examined from the views of an anthropologist, children's librarian, and folklore historian, with special emphasis on the Nebraska heritage from 7:30 to 9 p.m., four Tuesdays beginning Oct. 18.
- Man and Medicine, by Dr. L. E. Brown, Dr. Richard Cohen, Dr. K. D. Rose, and Dr. Joseph Sills, staff members of the University of Nebraska. The course will include discussion on the changing role of medical practice, treatment and medical research and their social implications from 7:30 to 9 p.m., five Wednesdays beginning Oct. 19.
- The Future Image of Man, by Dr. Theodore Jorgensen, Dr. Wesley Meierhenry, Dr. Clayton Yeutter, Richard Hagelberger, and Lyle Eddy, all University of Nebraska staff members. The lectures will stress man's role in the creative, social, political, and scientific worlds from 7:30 to 9 p.m., five Wednesdays beginning Oct. 19.
