

TV Ban Lifted, Residents Use Dorm Room Sets

Students in University residence halls may now have television sets in their rooms, if it is agreeable with the members of their individual floor or living unit.

Russ Brown, assistant director of student affairs, said residence directors decided Tuesday that the television policy should be left to the individual units and floors.

The new policy replaces the one established some time ago banning television sets in students' rooms.

"It is our intent to put the responsibility with the students in developing their own regulations," Brown said.

The television question was brought to the housing directors' meeting when staff members began reviewing regulations and raising questions, Brown said.

Cather Hall executives have approved the idea of having television sets in students' rooms, with the regulations to be left to floor government.

relations arising from a situation such as this are "an area of great concern to the University." Brown said that fire engines from more than one company area go to these fires, but didn't know the actual per-fire cost to taxpayer.

"We're real pleased with their attitude," McIntyre said. "You wouldn't believe the difference between this year and last."

The resolution passed by a unanimous vote. It was announced that a forum will be held next Tuesday Oct. 11, in conjunction with the administration. This will be a bi-weekly forum designed to provide the administration and the students a chance to present their ideas.

The first forum, at 4:00 p.m. in the west half of the Nebraska Union Cafeteria, will concern the topic of housing. Edward Bryan of the Housing department will present the program. It is hoped, by Schaar, that in the future no program will be set up, but that an informal line of communication can be developed.

An editorial in Wednesday's Lincoln Journal said in part, "The University is at the crossroads and the people of the state will be asked to make some financial sacrifice to bring it up to standards that measure up with the rest of the nation. Most of those jeering students are deferred from military service so that they can get an education."

"It is not too much to expect that the University not become a haven for young men who are not serious about an education, not only because of the draft status, but because they clutter up classrooms badly needed for serious students."

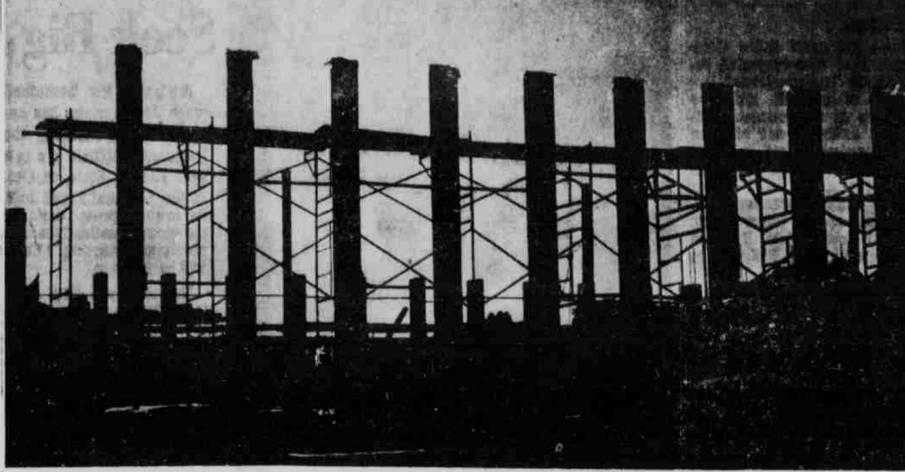

The editorial added, "The great majority of University students are fine representatives for American youth and they should not have to bear the stigma placed on them by a few."

Kosmet Klub Skit Auditions Oct. 19

According to Joe Caraway, Kosmet Klub spokesman, the skits must be 10-15 minutes long and should comply with the overall show theme, "Fuddled Fables"

Auditions for travelers' acts will be at 8 p.m. Oct. 8. The show will be presented Saturday, Nov. 12, at Pershing Auditorium.

TWICE THE ENROLLMENT . . . will be able to be handled by NU's new College of Dentistry.

Enrollment Capacity To Double At East Campus Dental College

Presently under construction on the East campus is the new $4.4 million Dental College.

According to Carl Donaldson, University Business Manager, the two-story building will be completed by the fall of 1967.

The new building will have seminar rooms, classrooms and 84 semi-private stations for clinic work, as well as a research laboratory and animal headquarters.

There will be facilities for closed circuit television to allow several students to observe the work of another student.

Laboratory sciences held in this building will be oriented toward dentistry. Presently dental students take laboratory sciences with other students.

Dr. R. L. Ireland, dean of the Dental College, said that the new building will enable the college to increase its freshman enrollment from 75 to 60 dental students and from 10 to 20 dental hygienists.

He said that the enrollment for the whole college will be able to increase from 172 to 304 students. Last year the college had about 250 applications and only 36 could be taken.

The general requirements for entrance into Dental College are that the student have a C-plus to a B average and score well on the dental aptitude tests.

Ireland said that preference is given to in-state students but added that there are four non-resident students included in this year's freshman class.

There are several advantages that will be gained by the move to the new building, he said.

Upgraded quality of instruction due to modern facilities and equipment will be the major benefit of the new building, according to Ireland.

"Crowded conditions in Andrews Hall have stymied progress," he said.

A modernized curriculum and increased research activities are also included in the plans for the use of the new building.

Ireland said that the college hopes to be able to attract desirable faculty because of the increase in teaching and research space.

He said that when the building is completed it will "have the space of a six-story Andrews Hall."

Election Policies Cleared

Controversy surrounding the recent Pound Hall election of officers arose when residents were required to sign their names to the ballot when they voted.

Miss Fran Holman, Pound residence director, said that the procedure was used to keep a tab on the people who had voted.

She explained that the names were cut off the ballots before the ballots were counted.

Residents will not be required to sign their names on the ballots in future elections, but a different system of keeping account of voters will be used, she said.

Executive officers elected for the year are: Elaine Kallos; president, Carol Welsh; vice president, Linda Sedlacek; secretary - treasurer, Karen Alley; activities chairman, Roselle Smith; AWS chairman.

Publicity chairman, Ann Schmidt; scholastic chairman, Joan Spivey; activities chairman, Chris Schwartz, IDCC representatives, Ann Nutsman and Dorothy Sato.

Local YD's Uninvolved In Decision

No Nebraska Young Democrat representatives aided in the formulation of the recent National YD Viet Nam resolution, according to University YD President Sabra McCall.

At a recent meeting of the National Executive Committee of the College Young Democratic Clubs of America, delegates passed a resolution calling for an end to the bombing of North Viet Nam and termed administration policy "unsound".

Miss McCall said that no Nebraska representative was present at the meeting. She said that this resolution was discussed at the next campus Young Democrat meeting.

Miss McCall said that she personally feels that it is the duty of Young Democratic clubs to support the administration rather than to challenge it.

MEN Beginning Nationalization

Mu Epsilon NU, national scholastic honorary for men in education, held its national leadership conference at the University, Oct. 1.

The group which originated Nebraska now has chapters at Kearney, Kansas University, and Peru. It is now in the process of nationalizing.

Dr. Donald Clifton, associate professor of education at Nebraska, who helped found the organization in 1955 and is now the first member of the national board of governors was the principal speaker at the conference.

Hathaway® has an offbeat interview with Stan Getz

Hathaway: Mr. Getz, what do you think of the new Hathaway Club shirt?

Getz: I think you've made a ghastly mistake.

Hathaway: How do you mean?

Getz: I used to wrap my laundry in a Hathaway shirt. Those shirts of yours were so big—especially around the middle—that I could get a whole week's laundry into one shirt.

Hathaway: Excuse me, Mr. Getz, but I don't think that's what we want to talk—

Getz: Now, the new Club shirts, you've made them so darn lean around the middle that I had to go out and buy a laundry bag.

Hathaway: Well, we're sorry about that but—

Getz: And the laundry bag is pure fluff. Not nearly as strong as that fat, old Hathaway.

Hathaway: But our shirts look a lot trimmer now.

Getz: That's true—but consider this.

Hathaway: What?

Getz: You ever thought about making laundry bags?
