

KK Chooses Six Fraternity Skits

Six fraternities have been chosen to participate in the Kosmet Klub Fall Revue on Nov. 12.

Beta Theta Pi, Delta Upsilon, Kappa Sigma, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Kappa Psi and Sigma Nu will participate in the show entitled "Fuddled Fables" at Pershing Auditorium. The groups were chosen from a field of 13 competing units Wednesday night.

"The judging board was pleased with the quality of the skits that did try out," Tom Holyoke, KK show chairman, said. "Deciding which acts to use was tough, and it looks like we have a light, entertaining show in store for everyone."

Holyoke explained that the judging board included himself, Dr. Dallas Williams, professor of speech and dramatic arts; Frank Hallgren, Kosmet Klub adviser; Lucy Comstock, show director; and John Rasmussen, Kosmet Klub president.

"Melvin in Wonderland" is the Beta Theta Pi skit in which Alice's younger brother tours Wonderland and finds himself in danger of losing his head. Jody Parker is skit master.

Delta Upsilon tells the saga of Bladmir Birdie, the conceited golf pro, in "The Grass is Phencer's on the Other Side of the Green" or "Check Before You Chip." Skitmaster is Ross McCown.

The story of a would-be princess named Max from the wrong side of the tracks will be presented in "We Have an Opening For a Princess," by Kappa Sigma. Flip Zinga is skitmaster for the skit which follows the plot of the Broadway musical "Once Upon a Mattress."

"Big Al and the Seven Hoods" or "All that Crosses the Line is Not Gold" is the Phi Delta Theta skit in which the local track star must compete against the syndicate candidate for first place in the St. City, Ohio, race. Tom Lewis and Ron Langhoff are co-skitmasters.

Phi Kappa Psi reflects on Gulliver's Travels as old Gulliver sets out to reform the state of California and rid it of LSD, Hell's Angels and the Surfers. Bruce Pauley and Mark Schrieber are skitmasters for the only skit using original music in the show.

Construction of a perfect car is found to be more trouble than its worth in Sigma Nu's "King Midas Revisited" or "The Perfect Car." Rex Cadwallader is skitmaster.

Other groups who tried out for the show include Alpha Gamma Rho, Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Sigma Phi, FarmHouse, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Theta Xi.

Tickets for the show are now on sale and are $1.50. They can be purchased from any Kosmet Klub worker and from booths in the Nebraska Union, East Union and the box office at Pershing Auditorium.

Tickets will also be available at Pershing the night of the show for $1.75.

Sheldon Shows Film On Ivan The Terrible

Caviar and smoked salmon will be the intermission hors d'oeuvres for "Ivan the Terrible" Friday at Sheldon Art Gallery, according to Norman Geske, director of University art galleries.

Parts I and II of the movie will be shown, beginning at 7 p.m. in the Sheldon auditorium. Tickets may be purchased at the door for $1.50.

"Ivan the Terrible" is Sergei Eisenstein's sixth film and was made from 1943 to 1945, he said. It is generally considered to be one of the best epic films ever made.

Geske said it was intended to be the first of three biographical films of the 16th century Tsar Ivan IV, who was contemporary with Britain's Queen Elizabeth. He was responsible for gathering under one rule the many autonomous Russian principalities and so became the first Tsar of a united Russia.

The second part of the film was banned by Soviet authorities on the grounds that it misrepresented the Tsar's character and did not show him as a progressive statesman.

He said the film's structure is episodic, and divides into seven narrative sections:

—the coronation of the young Tsar and his challenge to the Boyars, in front of the foreign ambassadors in the Cathedral.

—his wedding to Anastasia Romanovna and his quelling of a popular riot initiated by his enemies.

—Ivan's siege of Kazan and the disloyalty of the weak Prince Kurbsky.

—Ivan's sickness and the open disloyalty of the Boyars when they think him to be dying.

—Ivan's crumbling power and his wife being poisoned by his aunt Euphrosinia.

—Ivan mourns his dead wife as she lies in state; he is completely deserted.

—Ivan, in retirement at Alendrow, receives a great procession of the common people who beg him to return to power.

Eisenstein's treatment of the historical theme was intended to rouse the national spirit of Soviet Russia while she was at war with Germany.

Geske said he is concerned with theme rather than narrative, human symbolism rather than individual characterization.

Lawmakers Invited For Informal Talks

State Senators may soon be visiting the campus to learn about University problems according to Phil Bowen, co-chairman of the Legislative Liaison and Research Committee of ASUN.

Bowen stated that on Nov. 23 there is a Legislative Council meeting at the statehouse. He expects 25 to 40 legislators to attend the council.

"At the council, the interim study groups of the legislature will report their findings. One of these groups is studying the proposed University budget request and will present what they have found out so far," Bowen explained.

"Our committee will be sending letters to the legislators asking them if, while they are in Lincoln, they would like to spend an evening with a University living unit. If the legislators accept, they will eat dinner with the living unit and then participate in an informal discussion with the members of the unit," he stated.

The program is designed to acquaint the legislators with problems facing University students. In addition, it will give the senators a chance to get to know some University students personally.

Mary Almy, the other co-chairman of the committee, is setting up a proposed program explaining the University's proposed budget to civic clubs throughout the state.

"In this program," Almy said, "we plan to explain the budget request in facts and figures, but, in addition, we plan to stress the student's concern in getting the budget passed."

The program, which will be presented by members of the committee, will deal mainly with the student and his problems, but, according to Almy, will also present ways in which interested individuals within civic groups can aid in getting the budget passed.

Bob Strayer, another committee member, is presently contacting radio stations in the Lincoln area concerning the possibility of having a guest editorial run on the station concerning the budget request.

He is also looking into the possibility of doing the same thing in Omaha and outstate radio stations.

Education Office Affirms Plans

The United States Office of Education was reported Wednesday to have approved a contract with the Lincoln Public Schools under which cultural and educational programs would be developed for educational television network use.

The approval report came from Washington offices of Nebraska Senators Carl T. Curtis and Roman L. Hruska.

The sum requested for the Elementary and Secondary Education Act project was $219,968.

Under the project, teachers and consultants of the Lincoln Public Schools will help develop programs and design methods of integrating them into the curriculum of all schools.

MASTER'S CANDIDATES:

You had a pretty good reason for going on for your Master's.

Now here are some good ones for putting it to work.

For putting it to work with IBM. Reasons such as:

IBM is THE leader in THE major growth industry: information handling and control. Doesn't it stand to reason you can grow farthest with an exciting, continually growing company?

You'll be advanced as far and as fast as your talents and ambitions allow. That's why you went on for your advanced degree, isn't it? To make the most of your potential?

You can choose from six major career areas with IBM: Computer Applications, Programming, Finance and Administration, Research and Development, Manufacturing or Marketing.

Yes, we would like to talk with you. You may be the bright, look-ahead kind of person we're looking for. And we could be the exciting kind of company you're looking for. So...

Whatever your immediate commitments, whatever your area of study, sign up now for an on-campus interview with IBM, October 17-18

If, for some reason, you aren't able to arrange an interview, drop us a line. Write to: Manager of College Recruiting, IBM Corporation, 100 South Wacker Drive, Chicago, Illinois. IBM is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Does water pollution bug you? Or smog? Does it concern you that some places in the country never have enough teachers? Or nurses? And when you read about the growing pains of a developing nation, do you wish you could do something?

You can. Thousands of General Electric people are helping to solve the problems of a growing, changing world.

Generating more (and cheaper) electricity with nuclear reactors. Controlling smog in our cities and pollution in our streams. Using electronics to bring the teaching skills of an expert into many classrooms at once, the trained eyes of a nurse into many hospital rooms at once.

If you're not content with the world as it is . . . and if you have the brains, imagination and drive to help build a better one, we'd like to talk to you.

See the man from G.E. during his next campus visit. Come to General Electric, where the young men are important men.
