

Washington State Falls To Late Free Throws

By Ed Icenogle Sports Assistant

Nebraska's Ron Simmons entered the final minutes of a game that was tied nine times and put through a pair of free throws to give the Huskers an 80-78 decision over Washington State University Tuesday night.

Simmons, a junior guard, scored the points with only 38 seconds remaining after he was fouled by Washington State's Lenny Allen.

A crowd estimated at over 5,400 watched at the Coliseum as Stuart Lantz rolled up 26 points, including 12 free throws on as many attempts to be the Huskers' high scorer.

Junior Tom Baack, who started against WSU with an average of 25 points per game, was second high for the Huskers with 22.

The Cornhuskers shot to an early 9-3 lead with the aid of the defensive press that gained them Monday's 100-75 win over the same squad—the same squad, physically, anyway.

Nebraska's coach Joe Cipriano explained the "overnight" improvement in WSU's performance: "Washington State knew they could play better. Tonight they played us pretty well . . . they were able to stay with our press."

They stayed with the press well enough to catch the Huskers and stay even with them midway through the first half.

Then, behind the hot shooting of forward Randy Stoll, a 6-7 junior, Washington State pulled ahead to a nine-point lead.

Stoll, who had 10 points for the evening, put together four field goals in a row to put WSU ahead.

High point man for Washington, 6-8 forward Ted Wierman, put out 23 points against the Huskers.

Senior Willie Campbell, who had 16 tallies for the game, Lantz and Baack paced a first half NU comeback which left Nebraska with a 43-39 halftime lead. The final two-pointers of the Cornhusker surge was a last second tip in by Baack.

Forward Tom Baack (32) ends a flurry of Husker baskets which boosted Nebraska's lead from 49-40, to 60-40, in less than two minutes Monday night against Washington State.

Washington State took its turn at coming back and narrowed the NU lead to 50-48 in the second half before Stoll fouled out. From there WSU matched the Huskers and finally knotted the score at 68 all with six and a half minutes in the game.

Washington State jumped briefly into the lead with a corner shot by 6-6 Mike Werner. Branch tied it up at 70-70 as the match entered the final five minutes.

From there on out NU and WSU alternated making two point gains. The tenacious Husker press went back into action in the last two minutes, keeping Washington from scoring while Lantz made the tying points on a one-and-one free throw and Simmons came in to win the game.

The Nebraska mentor was as worried as many of the fans in the closing minutes of play.

"We knew they were going to be pretty tough," Cipriano said. "It was just a matter of who got the break."

Perfect 'Bama Record Includes Six Shut-Outs

Alabama's football team has drawn blanks all season long—six shutouts in all.

The Crimson Tide, the University of Nebraska's enemy Jan. 2 in the Sugar Bowl, has shut out six opponents this season, including the last four in a row.

On their way to a perfect 10-0 campaign, the Alabamians gave up no points to Southern foes Louisiana Tech, Clemson, Louisiana State, South Carolina, Southern Mississippi and Auburn. All of these wins were by three touchdowns or more.

The Tide's other victims were Mississippi, Tennessee, Vanderbilt and Mis-

Devaney Success At Nebraska Gives Huskers 47-7-0 Record

During his five years at Nebraska, football coach Bob Devaney has become the winningest coach in the nation by treating Husker fans to a 47-7-0 overall record, including four bowl games. During Devaney's 10-year head coaching career, his teams have won 82, lost 17 and tied five for a percentage of .828, not counting ties, or .812, counting ties.

Devaney's teams at Nebraska have posted consecutive records of 9-2, 10-1, 9-2, 10-1 and 9-1 heading into the Sugar Bowl clash with Alabama. The Sugar Bowl will mark Nebraska's fifth straight bowl appearance since Devaney's arrival in Lincoln.

Bob Devaney

Under Devaney's guidance, the Cornhuskers have produced eight All America players — Bob Brown in 1963, Larry Kramer in 1964, Walt Barnes, Tony Jeter and Freeman White in 1965 and Wayne Meylan, Larry Wacholtz and LaVerne Allers in 1966—as well as 33 All-Big 8 performers in the past five seasons.

Devaney came to Nebraska as a successor to Bill Jennings early in 1962 and promptly proceeded to set a football-wacky state even during the lean years on its ear.

Here's the way the Bob Devaney legend burst on the Cornhusker scene:

1962—Devaney took a 3-6-1 club from 1961 and turned it into the surprise of the Big 8. The Huskers won six straight, wound up 8-2, accepted a bid to the Goliath Bowl and shocked Miami, 36-34, on the frozen turf of Yankee Stadium. Devaney was named Big 8 Coach of the Year.

all accomplished despite the loss of their No. 1 quarterback, Fred Duda — and earned a Cotton Bowl berth. Devaney again was named Big 8 Coach of the Year. The Huskers led Arkansas until the final min-

1963—On rolled the Huskers, posting a 9-1 record, landing an Orange Bowl berth and socking Auburn, 13-7. Devaney repeated as Coach of the Year.

1964—With 11 of 13 seniors from 1963 moving on to pro ball, the Huskers were supposed to sink. Instead, they won nine straight games before losing their final game to Oklahoma—

Iowa State Plans Wrestling Meet

Ames, Iowa — The annual Iowa State Varsity-Freshman wrestling meet is set for Wednesday night at 7:30.

In addition to his coaching genius—and Devaney is quick to award sincere credit to his veteran staff of assistants — the Nebraska coach is a highly-sought after dinner speaker, clinic lecturer and off-the-cuff humorist.

Full-Court Press Aids Husker Win

The Nebraska basketball team used a devastating full-court press to good advantage Monday night as they whipped Washington State 100-75 in the first game of a two-night stand for the Cougars.

So effective was Nebraska's pressurized attack that Washington State failed to get a two-pointer until five minutes and 26 seconds had elapsed in the first half. The Huskers by that time had amassed a 16-5 lead.

The Cougars edged to within 11 points, 47-36, at halftime after being down by 14 at one point during the first 20 minutes. Washington State's 6-9½ center, Jim McKean, accounted for 28 of his team's 36 points at halftime and had officials scurrying to locate the Coliseum one-game scoring record, before he cooled off and ended the game with 35 points, high for both teams.

Nebraska broke the game wide open shortly after the second half tip off. Out front by nine, 49-40, the Huskers ran the count to 60-40 in less than two minutes by getting maximum efficiency from the full court press.

Eight of 11 points in Nebraska's spree were scored

The Cornhuskers got the "break", managed their second win over Washington State in two nights and brought their season record up to four wins and one loss.

Cipriano was pleased with the free throw accuracy of the Huskers, for a good reason. It proved to be the difference in the game. NU hit on 30-35 for a .857 per cent. WSU managed only 22 for 11, or .710 per cent.

Nebraska also had a slight edge on rebounds, grabbing 41 to Washington's 37. Lantz was the leader of the NU effort with 11 rebounds to his credit.

Washington State was 2-1 before coming to Lincoln, with wins over Gonzaga and Montana State.

The Cornhuskers move on to the Vanderbilt Invitational at Nashville, Tenn., this weekend to play LaSalle in the opener.

Scores, Not Stats Make MU Victor

For the ninth straight season under coach Dan Devine, the Missouri Tigers compiled a winning record — this time a 6-3-1 mark — but you never could have guessed it from a quick look at the team's final statistics.

The Tigers, even though closing with wins over Oklahoma and Kansas, were beaten by the opponents in first downs, rushing, passing and total offense. And M.U.'s leading scorer failed to register a touchdown.
