

'Y' Students To Convene In Chicago

Approximately 1,200 college students, some 20 University students included, will be participating in the eighth YM-YWCA National Student Assembly (NSAY) in Chicago over Christmas vacation.

Focus of the conference, scheduled Dec. 27 to Jan. 2, is on urbanization and the problems of the American city.

Speakers at the meeting will include Malcolm Boyd, author of a volume of contemporary prayers "Are You Running With Me, Jesus?"

Much of the assembly's program will be "in the streets" as students move through the city to visit community organizations and frontier experiments in the arts and tour the various areas of the city.

Other phases of the program will be discussion group sessions and experimental worship sessions combining traditional and contemporary religious observances.

The University students attending will leave Lincoln by chartered bus. University YWCA director Mrs. Twig Gordon said there is still room on the bus for other students who might like to attend. Interested students should contact the Y office before Monday, she said.

Mrs. Gordon said the value of the program will depend on the individuals attending. "A lot of people will get a spark, but whether they can put it in to operation on this campus remains a question," she said.

The background for the assembly program was developed last summer in a YM-YWCA program in which 100 students worked in Chicago as community action interns, as career tryouts and as urban field study aides. These students will be the leaders of assembly.

The assembly operations will be based at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in downtown Chicago.

Construction On Union Not To Halt Operation

During the 18 to 24 month construction period the Nebraska Union will continue to operate its facilities, according to Allen Bennett, director.

Construction is expected to start in May on the one story addition and expansion of the present building, and may not be completed for 24 months, depending upon labor and material problems, Bennett explained.

"It's likely to be noisy and messy during part of the construction period, but we hope the students will bear with us," Bennett noted.

The area most severely affected from the beginning of construction work will be the S. St. entry, according to the Nebraska Union director.

The drive and sidewalk traffic will be diverted as holes are dug along the north and west walls for placement of concrete columns.

The entry itself will be redeveloped with enlarged interior stairs and lobby. This is being done to ease the flow of traffic, according to Bennett, and will also add to the beauty and practical function of the building.

During this time, temporary stairs may be built at the entrance.

The ballroom will be out of service for approximately one month, as a result of the joining of roofs and north wall with the new second story addition, said Bennett. A temporary partition may be thrown up on the ballroom's north side at this time.

The west window wall of the lounge will be pushed out approximately thirty feet, though this area will not be affected for a number of months after construction starts, Bennett said.

Lincoln Company Submits Low Bid

Kingery Construction of Lincoln is the apparent low bidder to build four new dorm units east of and adjacent to the new dorm complex now under construction on No. 16th st. The bid was $888,374 for the general construction work.

The four dorms, to house 82 students each, should be ready for opening in the fall of 1967.

Other low bidders include Morrissey's Plumbing and Heating of Lincoln, mechanical construction work, $326,341 and Energy Enterprise of Lincoln, electrical construction work, $114,600.

The apparent low bidders will be reviewed by the Board of Regents at their Monday meeting. Construction should begin shortly afterwards.

The dorms are being financed through revenue bonds.

'TIS THE SEASON TO BE JOLLY

I know how busy you are—studying, going to class, helping old grads find their dentures after Homecoming—but, hark, the Yuletide is almost upon us and it's time we turned our thoughts to Christmas shopping.

We'll start with the hardest gift problem of all: what to give the man who has everything. Well sir, here are some things I'll bet he doesn't have: 1) A dentist's chair. 2) A Mach number. 3) A street map of Perth, Australia. 4) Fifty pounds of chicken fat. 5) A pack of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades.

"What?" you exclaim, your eyebrows leaping in wild incredulity. "The man who has everything doesn't have Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades? What arrant nonsense!" you scoff, making a coarse gesture.

But I insist. The man who has everything doesn't have Personna because everyone in the dorm is always borrowing them. And small wonder! Wouldn't you be there with an empty razor and a supplicating sidle if you heard somebody had super-blades that were super-sharp and super-durable; that scrape not, neither do they nick; that shave you easily and breezily, quickly and slickly, scratchlessly and matchlessly; that come both in Double-Edge style and Injector style? Of course you would!

So here is our first gift suggestion. If you know a man who shaves with Personna, give him a safe.

Next let us take up the thorny problem of buying gifts when you have no money. Well sir, there are many wonderful gifts which cost hardly anything. A bottle of good clear water, for example, is always welcome. A nice smooth rock makes a charming paperweight. In fact, one Christmas I gave a beautiful coed named Norma Glebe. I took a rock, a bottle of water, a bit of ribbon, and attached a card with this tender sentiment:

Here's some water
 And here's a rock.
 I love you, daughter,
 Around the clock.
 Norma was so moved, she seized the rock, smashed the bottle, and plunged the jagged edge into my sternum.

Here now is a lovely gift for an American History major—a bronze statuette of Millard Fillmore with a clock in the stomach. (Mr. Fillmore, incidentally, was the only American president with a clock in his stomach. James K. Polk had a stem-winder in his head and William Henry Harrison chimed the quarter-hour, but only Mr. Fillmore of all our chief executives had a clock in his stomach. Franklin Pierce had a sweep second hand and Zachary Taylor had 17 jewels and Martin Van Buren ticked but, I repeat, Mr. Fillmore and Mr. Fillmore alone had a clock in his stomach. Moreover, Mr. Fillmore was the first president with power steering. No wonder they called him "Old Hickory!")

But I digress. Returning to Christmas gifts, here's one that's sure to please—a gift certificate from the American Society of Chiropractors. Accompanying each certificate is this fetching little poem:

Merry Christmas, Happy New Year,
 Joyous sacro-iliac!
 May your spine forever shine,
 Blessings on your aching back!
 May your lumbar ne'er grow number,
 May your backbone ne'er dislodge,
 May your caudal never dawdle,
 Joyeux Noel! Heurieux massage!

And greetings of the season from the makers of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades, Double-Edge or Injector, and from Personna's partner in shaving luxury, Burma-Shave, regular or menthol.
