

Believe

By Tom Henderson

This week Don Forsythe was named sports editor of the Lincoln Journal, in our opinion, one of the best decisions of the year.

During the last four years, Forsythe, 28, has performed the most demanding task the Journal has—that of prep sports writer, keeping charts and records on the hundreds of high school teams in the state.

Done Well

And while doing so, he has proved that even the toughest job can be done well.

Forsythe, who was recently named Nebraska Sports-writer of the Year by the National Sports-writers and Sports-casters Association, often worked an 80-hour week, without extra pay, in his effort to do the best possible job.

And for his determination he was rewarded about twice a week with a seat in a poorly constructed high school press box, often unheated and uncovered and always overcrowded. From now on he will go first class.

Iowa Grad

Forsythe, who replaces Curt Mosher, who has accepted a job as public relations director of the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League, is a graduate of the University of Iowa and served as sports editor of the Grand Island Independent prior to coming to the Journal.

Trying to fill the shoes of Mosher will not be an easy task, however.

Mosher, who came to the Journal at about the same time that Forsythe did, has done a fine job also and will be very capable in his new position.

Mosher's ability to communicate with his staff has produced for the Journal some of the most responsible sports writing in the area in addition to his own refreshing style.

Now his big worry will be trying to pound his type-writer as fast as Cowboy star Bob Hayes can run.

We would like to take this opportunity to say good luck to both men in their new assignments.

University Student Claims Garden City Rodeo Title

Terrell placed second in calf roping, fourth in bareback bronc riding and fifth in bull riding, while nine other University students competed in the rodeo.

Roxann Graske of Waterloo took first in ribbon dogging and third in goat tying. John Sennet of Mason City was third in calf roping and fourth in steer wrestling and Dave Haskell of Ainsworth was sixth in calf roping.

The University participants will be among the competitors in the Ninth Annual Nebraska Intercollegiate Championship Rodeo Apr. 21-22.

The University Rodeo Association's president, Butch

Terrell, has announced that Nancy Simmons of Omaha, Miss Rodeo America 1967, will appear at the Championships.

Golf on Tap

Swimming Title Is Decided

Beta Theta Pi entrants amassed 103 points to garner first place in the all-University intramurals swimming meet, according to the office of Joel Meier, intramural director.

Delta Tau Delta was second with 64 points, while Phi Delta Theta had 63.

Phi Gamma Delta was fourth with 45 points, while Alpha Tau Omega had 22, for the last of the top five places.

Jim Krauss was high point man for the meet.

In other intramural sports, deadlines are approaching for wrestling, fencing and deck tennis.

Monday, Apr. 17, will be the weigh-in time for the intramural wrestlers. Wrestling coach Orval Borgialli is handling the entries for the tourney.

Apr. 18 is the date of entry in deck tennis doubles, according to Meier. Each organization is limited to from one to six doubles teams.

Matches will be scheduled for late afternoons and evenings.

Delta Upsilon is the 1966 all-University deck tennis champion.

Fencing is being added to the 1967 program, with male students who have experience in fencing or have taken a fencing class eligible.

Entries are due May 1, and organizations are allowed to enter one or more individuals with knowledge of fencing.

Jerry Novak, fencing instructor, is handling information concerning the fencing tournament.

IUCF Sponsors Ping Pong Games

A ping-pong tournament sponsored by the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship will begin Friday in Selleck's basement with playoffs and final matches set for 6 p.m. Saturday.

Cyclone Netmen Invade Courts

Iowa State Cyclones invaded the Nebraska tennis courts Friday for a dual with the Cornhusker netmen.

Individual Bests Anticipated In Conference Track Tests

A full Saturday schedule for Big Eight conference track teams against first-class competition could force individual performances in several events to new all-time conference bests.

Resting closest to achieving such a spot are Kansas' George Byers and Gary Ard, Oklahoma State's Chris McCubbins and Larry Curtis, Colorado's Chuck Rogers, Missouri's Steve Herndon, Nebraska's Dave Kudron and Oklahoma's James Hardwick.

Byers, who has been able to forget about his lack of height while skimming the high hurdles for 120 yards, has equalled the all-time league low for the event, a :13.8, held by former Nebraska Olympian, Keith Gardner.

Gardner didn't hit that mark until the summer of 1958 in an international meet at Goteborg, Sweden, following his graduation. Byers, a shorty at 5-9 for a high-hurdler, is just a sophomore. He already holds the world indoor mark for the 60 lows and he just keeps improving outdoors in the highs, clipping six-tenths off his clocking in three meets as he works on his form.

Ard, who is proving to be one of the most versatile in the Big Eight with his jumping and sprinting duty, gave the Conference its first 50-foot-plus triple jump since 1958 when he went 50-4 1/2 last week. This was the fourth best leap in league annals. Another Kansan, Kent Floerke, has the all-time lead with his 50-10 1/4, which now appears within Ard's range. He'll have a chance at New Mexico Saturday.

When McCubbins and Missouri's Glen Ogden meet in a dual at Stillwater, Saturday, a new all-time Conference best for the three-mile could be the result. The two rank one-two in the Big Eight for the event, with McCubbins already holding the Midlands low of 13:38.7 Ogden has a 14:03.3 best, which came against the Cowpoke senior.

It will be another week before Curtis and Rogers, the class of the Big Eight pole vaulting crew, meet at the Kansas Relays, but they both are quickly moving up to aim at Rogers' all-time high of 16-5. Rogers, vaulting against Utah State this weekend, has an outside 15-7 as he makes his comeback from an injury. Curtis has cleared 16 outside this year.

Track Team At Home

Nebraska's track team, anxious for its first outdoor victory of the campaign, hosts Air Force in a dual meet at Memorial Stadium Saturday afternoon.

Field events start at 1:30 p.m., with running events on tap for 2 p.m.

Home Meet

It will mark the first home meet for the Cornhuskers since 1965 (Stadium construction put the Scarlet on wheels last spring) and also the return to duty of world sprint star Charlie Greene.

Greene pulled a muscle in the opening outdoor meet—New Mexico socked the Huskers in a triangular—and has not run in the subsequent meets. Nebraska also has dropped a dual with Arizona State and a triangular to Minnesota at Iowa State.

We're still a good track team, but we haven't hit our peak yet," Coach Frank Sevine said. "If we keep improving as we have in the early meets, we'll be pretty tough by Big 8 time in May."

Greene is slated to anchor on the 440-Relay team and run the 100-yard dash, Sevine said.

Cliff Forbes, the other Husker sprint star, will concentrate on the 220 and the relay.

Husker fans will also have a chance to see two of the Big 8's finest hurdlers in action—defending outdoor champion Dave Kudron and former indoor king, Ray Harvey.
