

PMA Sinfonia To Give 'Portraits In Jazz IX'

Members of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, a music fraternity will present their annual scholarship concert Tuesday, April 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the Nebraska Union Ballroom.

The program entitled "Portraits in Jazz IX" will feature a variety of vocal and instrumental groups.

Music Scholarships

Proceeds will be used to finance two $100 freshman music scholarships. The scholarships are annually presented by Phi Mu Alpha to Nebraska high school seniors showing outstanding ability in music.

The selections of three jazz musicians, Thelonius Monk, Will Jackson and Louis Bellson, will be performed by the University Lab Band under the direction of Dennis Schneider, assistant professor of brass instruments.

The Lab Band will also play an original number, "Invention for Alto Saxophone and Trumpet" by John Mills, a University graduate student in music.

Bach Swingers

The Bach Swingers under student director John Mollison will present "Fugue in D Major" from the Well-Tempered Clavier and several other numbers.

Several gospel jazz selections including "Is You All on the Alter" will be presented by the H. Moncrief Rowe-Anderson quintet. Nebraska basketball star, Nate Branch, will play the organ for the quintet.

Trudy Duemey and Wayne Stoeber, University students who were winners in the 1967 Sinfonia Jazz Poll, will sing at the special jazz concert. Miss Duemey will sing "Alfie" and Stoeber will sing "Free Again."

Tickets for the concert are on sale at the Student Union and the University Department of Music.

Viet Conflict 'Spontaneity Key To Success,' Opposed By Melodramas To Be Presented

Approximately 15 University professors and students took part Saturday afternoon in a "Peace March" throughout downtown Lincoln in conjunction with marches held throughout the nation.

Mrs. Zana Hepperly, University junior majoring in history, said that in all about 50 people participated. Besides the University participants, there were also marchers from Nebraska Wesleyan University and some professional people.

She said representatives from two Lincoln organizations, the Nebraskans for peace in Vietnam and citizens for a SANE nuclear policy, participated in the march. Students for a Democratic Society did not take part, she said.

The procession began in front of the Nebraska Union, proceeded to 11th and O Sts. and then returned to the Union.

Mrs. Hepperly said the march was in support of the nationwide protest marches against the war in Vietnam.

With four days to show time, a rehearsal for the two melodramas to be presented this Friday and Saturday will probably be held, the Olde Crusty Minstrels have announced.

"Our directors believe spontaneity is the key to melodramatic success," said Founding Father John Winkworth. "The rehearsal is not definite and will be held only if we can all get together."

Two Melodramas

At a cost of 50c per person and 75c per couple the audience will be treated to 2 melodramas — He Done Her Wrong or Wedded But No Wife, and The Great Western Melodrama. They will be presented at 8 p.m. this Friday and Saturday in the Nebraska Union Ballroom.

"Audience participation will be encouraged through group singing, throwing popcorn at the villain, and booing and hissing," Winkworth said.

Barbershop Quartet

He added that a barbershop quartet will lead a group sing at intermission. "It's not a very reputable group, so their name will not be given."

"The quartet, like the rest of the show, will be in costumes of the Gay Nineties' Era," he said. "The entire show will have elaborate sets, exquisite scenery, and a cast of thousands at a cost of peanuts."

Master of Ceremonies

"Leading this whole mess will be our effervescent Master of Ceremonies, Phil Boardman, who also doubles as the hero of the first melodrama," Winkworth continued.

"Our sensuous kitten of the keys, Kathy Augustin, will bang out the accompaniment," he said.

"Of course everything has to have a worthy cause and the Olde Crusty Minstrels have decided to give a scholarship to the most worthy senior through the Nebraska Foundation," he continued.

Criteria

Winkworth said the criteria hadn't been set up yet but added, "It will be closest to the following: the senior who has been on scholastic probation the greatest percentage of his college career or the senior who misses graduation because he got his application in the mail too late."

"Tickets will be available from cast members and in the Nebraska Union," Winkworth added.

SDS To Sponsor Teach-In On Draft

A teach-in on the draft will be sponsored by the Students for a Democratic Society April 30, according to Cater Chamblee, SDS spokesman.

He stated that the teach-in would be held in either the Nebraska Union ballroom or Love Library.

Speakers will probably include someone from the local civil service board, a representative of the Du Bois Club in Chicago, a member of the Mennonite religious sect, several representatives of national SDS, and someone from the American Friends Service Committee.

Chamblee said that the SDS would also like someone to represent the Young Americans for Freedom or the John Birch Society if they can be found. However so far SDS has been unable to contact such a person.

Ad Board Yet No Count On

Ballots for the Advisory Board election have not been counted, according to Mel Schlachter, advisory board committee chairman.

He said the results will be released during the first part of this week.

The Bill of Rights ballots also have not been completely counted.

Dr. Paul Byerly, ASUN advisor, said the results will be known by Wednesday.

If you're graduating this June, here's your chance to get a running head start in a successful career.

There's only one hitch: it will take eight months of your time. But measured against results, these eight months could be the most advantageous ones you'll ever spend.

If you have the right qualifications—a B.A. or B.S. degree and a genuine interest in succeeding—you may be one of a select group of young men participating in the new Management Internship Program at Saranac Lake in the Lake Placid area of upstate New York.

This unprecedented program starts in early September and is sponsored by the American Management Association—the world's largest and foremost non-profit educational organization devoted to advancing and sharing the principles of sound management throughout the entire management community. Last year alone some 1,800 separate AMA educational programs were attended by more than 100,000 managers representing such diverse fields as business, education, labor, government, religion, public health, and the communications media.

Everything about the Management Internship Program is unique. The Management Center where you'll live and study is equipped with every recent technical advance in educational methodology. The faculty is drawn from the nation's most gifted and successful practicing managers. And the curriculum is tailor-made to the knowledge every beginning manager needs but few possess—including well-developed leadership skills... a sophisticated understanding of the interrelationships between business and other social and economic organizations... a thorough indoctrination in the various phases of management... and a firm grasp of practical business techniques.

In addition, you will have the invaluable opportunity to associate with the company presidents, labor leaders, government officials and other top-level administrators who participate in AMA's regularly scheduled meetings.

It's unlikely that there is a manager at work today who would not have welcomed a comparable opportunity to get a practical orientation in management before embarking on his demanding career. Can you afford to pass it up?

REQUIEM FOR A SQUARE

You, like any other lovable, clean-living, freckle-faced American kid, want to be a BMOG. How can you make it? Well sir, there are several ways, none of which will work.

You're too puny to be an athlete, too lazy to be a valedictorian, and too hairy to run for Homecoming Queen. As for becoming a best-dressed man, how are you going to buy clothes with a miser for a father? Are you licked then? Is there no way to make BMOG? Yes, there is! And you can do it! Do what? This: Become a hippie! Get cool! Get alienated! Have an Identity Crisis! Be one of the Others!

How? Well sir, to become a hippie, simply follow these five simple rules:

1. Read all of Tolkien in the original dwarf.
2. Have your Sophomore Slump in the freshman year.
3. Wear buttons that say things like this:
NATIONALIZE DAIRY QUEEN
ASTHMATICS, UNITE
LEGALIZE APPLE BUTTER
HANDS OFF AIR POLLUTION
4. Go steady with a girl who has long greasy hair, a guttar, enlarged pores, and thermal underwear.
5. Attend Happenings regularly.

This last item may require some explanation, for it is possible that Happenings haven't reached your campus yet. Be assured they will because Happenings are the biggest college craze since mononucleosis.

A Happening, in case you don't know, is the first formless art form. Things just happen. For example, eighty naked men come out and squirt each other with fire hoses containing tinted yogurt. Then eighty more naked men come out and light birthday candles in the navels of the first eighty men. Then one girl, clothed, comes out and pulls three thousand feet of sausage casing through her pierced ear. Then eighty more naked men come out and eat a station wagon.

There is, of course, a musical accompaniment to all these fun things. Usually it is "Begin the Beguine," played by 26 trench mortars, a drop forge, and a rooster.

There used to be, some years ago, still another requirement for becoming a hippie: a man had to have a beard. But no longer. Beards were worn in the past not so much as a protest, but because shaving was such a painful experience. Then along came Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades.

Today if you don't want to shave, well, that's your hangup, isn't it, baby? I mean when you've got a blade like Personna that tugs not neither does it scrape, what's your copout, man? I mean like get with it; you're living in the past. Shaving used to hurt, used to scratch, used to gouge, used to give you all kinds of static. But not since Personna. It's a gas, man. It's a doozy; it's mom's apple pie. You dig?

I mean, man, you still want a beard? Crazy! But you don't have to turn your face into a slum, do you? Shave around the bush, baby, neatly and nicely with Personna. I mean like Personna comes in double-edge style and injector style too. I mean like any way you try it, you gotta like like it.

Hey, man, like how about doubling your shaving cool? Like how about selling those crazy whiskers with some Barba-Shave? Like regular or menthol? Like have you got a better friend than your kisser? Like treat it right, right? Yo-yo!
