

State Law Review Discusses Divorce

Family law, insurance law, medical-legal relationships and estate planning are the subjects of lead articles in the new issue of the Nebraska Law Review published by the University of Nebraska and the Nebraska State Bar Association.

The review features the first in a series of articles on modern divorce law with critical analysis by Charles W. Tenney, Jr., associate professor of law at the university, and J. Neville Turner of the University of Adelaide in Australia.

Professor Tenney offers a "model for change" in his article. He suggests integrating the most valid aspects of current divorce laws and theories.

The emphasis would be on looking beyond the fault concepts and broadening the court's discretion to examine the cause of the breakdown of the family.

On the other hand, Turner, in his article, "Retreat From 'Fault' An English Lawyer's Views," points up the current reaction against traditional fault theory in divorce laws.

Future issues of the review will include articles on the problem of balancing public and private interests through divorce law.

Prof. Curtis M. Elliott of the University's College of Business Administration is the author of an article on "The Insurance Definition of Automobile."

Moral and legal responsibility in the context of medical experimentation is outlined by Leonard V. Kaplan, assistant professor of law at the university. Kaplan suggests ways to promote medical advancement with fewer risks to patients while keeping lines of legal responsibility clear.

Richard R. Endacott, a Lincoln attorney, contributed a study of the "Problems in Drafting and Administering Discretionary Trusts" which should be of value in predicting the legal consequences of clauses creating discretionary powers in trust instruments.

Trends Previewed

A group of 50 women earned college credit at the University of Nebraska School of Home Economics by taking the heritage of fashion tour through New York City.

In addition to costumes of the past, students got a glimpse of future fashions. J. C. Penny Company fashion buyers told the group that opaque stockings in shades of coffee brown, kilt dresses and sweater dresses were fall trends.

Women's Swim

A recreational swim period for women students and faculty members is being conducted by the Department of Physical Education for women in the swimming pool in the Coliseum throughout the eight-week summer session.

A fee of 10c will be charged to cover the expense of suit and towel service. Each swimmer is required to provide her own cap.

Students Attracted By Dairy Bar

The East Campus Dairy Bar has attracted summer students like a cool oasis for many generations.

The special refreshment, offered all year round, is some of the tastiest ice cream and dairy products in town.

There is usually a 30-flavor selection of boxed ice cream, a ten flavor cone selection and a six-flavor variety of sherbets. Other dairy products are also available.

ETV Presents Sunday Special, 'Our World'

The Nebraska ETV Network will broadcast a program that will be a historic first for the television industry on Sunday, June 25 at 2 p.m.

All stations of the Network will be interconnected by National Educational Television to present "Our World," a two-hour live program originating from 18 nations around the world.

Countries Visited

Beamed to thirty nations via four satellites—three American and one Russian—the program will open and close with visits to maternity hospitals in Mexico, Poland, Russia, Japan and Canada for a look at some of the world's newest residents.

The program asks the question, what kind of world awaits these infants? Program segments from throughout the world will be aimed at answering that question.

N.E.T. will originate five segments of the program from the U.S., including: scenes from the Children's Zoo in New York City's Central Park; a visit to a typical midwestern farm in Prairie Hills, Wis.; the crowded world of New York City seen from a hovering helicopter; pianist Van Cliburn rehearsing with conductor Leonard Bernstein for a concert; and another television first—a look at the massive Moonport and Vertical Assembly Building on Merritt Island off Cape Kennedy where the mighty Saturn rocket is being readied for man's first journey to the moon.

Parade Scheduled

The fourth annual NEBRASKALAND parade scheduled Wednesday, June 21 from 5:30 to 7 p.m. is another in a series of presentations focusing on Nebraska Centennial activities.

Built around the theme "Discover Nebraska," this year's parade is expected to draw nearly 100 entries including 21 high school bands from all over the state.

Chuck Connors, television star, will be the Grand Marshal of the parade. He has been named to receive this year's Buffalo Bill Award.

The program will be produced through the remote-production facilities of University of Nebraska Television.

Ag Leadership Conference Draws Nearly 100 Teachers

Nearly 100 agricultural education leaders from six states arrived on the Ag Campus June 16 for the National Vocational Agricultural Teachers Association (NVATA) Region III Summer Leadership Conference.

Millard Gundlach of Montfort, Wis., national vice president of Region III, was in charge of all sessions.

Features of the day-long general sessions included reports by state presidents, progress report on Project 1, "Preparing High School Students for Agricultural Occupations Other than Farming," by Dr. Alan Kahler and a panel discussion by state presidents.

A banquet in the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education at 6:30 p.m. Friday was provided courtesy of the Behlen Manufacturing Co. of Columbus. Walter Behlen, president of the firm, presented "The Behlen Story" to the audience of some 150 delegates and wives.

Bar Institute Will Be Held

The sixth annual Bridge-the-Gap Institute sponsored by the Junior Bar Association of the Nebraska Bar Association will be held June 21-22 in the University of Nebraska Center.

The Institute provides an opportunity for young lawyers to obtain background on the mechanics of the everyday practice of law. Presentations will offer a how-to-do-it approach to the subject matter with emphasis on the practical aspects.

Thirteen Nebraska lawyers will discuss various aspects of law practice at the Institute. They include: Samuel Van Pelt, Lincoln; Hon. Rudolph Tesar of the Douglas County District Court at Omaha.

Thomas Burke, Omaha; Robert E. Johnson Jr., Omaha; Edwin A. Langley, Lincoln; Hal W. Bauer, Lincoln; Claude E. Berreckman, Cozad; Howard Tracy, Grand Island.

Robert Barnett, Lincoln; Thomas Carey, Omaha; Norman Krivosha, Lincoln; Edward F. Carter Jr., Lincoln; and Harold L. Rock, Omaha.

Scholarship Funded

A $5,000 bequest from the estate of Mrs. Betsey Howard Mitchell will establish a scholarship in American history at the University of Nebraska Foundation in J. C. Mitchell, a pioneer Nebraska educator. Mitchell died in 1944 and his wife lived in Lincoln until her death in 1966.

Car Driving Lessons Offered

Driving lessons will again be offered during the summer session beginning on June 27 and continuing through July 28, announced William A. Tuning of the Men's Physical Education Department.

All university students, staff and dependents are eligible for the driving lessons, he said.

A $10 fee is required of all students and must be paid before the first lesson is given, Tuning said.
