Competition for Fulbright Scholarships for 1968-69, will end Oct. 20, according to Dr. Roberto Esquinazi-Mayo, faculty advisor for Fulbright scholarships.

Scholarships are available for graduate study or research and for study and professional training in the creative and performing arts.

"This is an excellent opportunity for Nebraska students to avail themselves for one of the most distinguished scholarships in America," said Dr. Esquinazi-Mayo.

The scholarships are available under the Fulbright-Hays Act as part of the educational and cultural exchange program of the U.S. Department of State.

Candidates for an award must be U.S. citizens, have a bachelor's degree or its equivalent at the beginning date of the grant and be proficient in the language of the host country.

QUALIFICATIONS
Dr. Esquinazi-Mayo said

selections are made on the basis of academic and/or professional record, the applicant's proposed study plan and personal qualifications.

Preference is given to students who have not had an opportunity for extended study or residence abroad and who are under the age of 35.

Creative and performing artists are not required to have a bachelor's degree but must have four years of study or equivalent experience.

Applicants in social work must have at least two years of professional experience after the Master of Social Work degree.

Two kinds of grants are available through IIE under the Fulbright-Hays Act, U.S. Government Full Grants and U.S. Government Travel Grants, according to Dr. Esquinazi-Mayo.

An applicant for a full grant must apply for one country only except in the case of the American Republics Area.

Applicants for travel grants may also apply for only one country with the exception of the American Republics Area.

More than 800 grants in 12 countries are provided by the program.

REPRESENTATIVE
Dr. Esquinazi-Mayo announced that Edward T. Purcell, special programs officer of the Office of International American Programs, U.S. State Department, will be on campus Thursday, September 28, to discuss the Fulbright-Hays Act.

Mr. Purcell will speak to faculty and students at 2:30 p.m. in 122 Lyman Hall.

Purcell has been assigned to the Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs of the Department of State for the last four years, and has worked mainly with the U.S. Student Program.

Six Faculty Committees To Fill Spots

Positions on six Faculty-Senate committees are open to University students, according to Dick Schulze, ASUN president.

The committees include Calendar and Examinations, Commencement, Scholarship and Financial Aids, Honors Convocations, Subcommittee on Student Social Affairs and Activities, and Subcommittee on Student Organizations.

"The students will be sitting on the faculty committees," said Schulze, "representing the students' interest as voting members."

Schulze, who will make the committee appointments, said those interested should make an appointment to talk to him in the ASUN office from 9 a.m. to 12 noon or 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. this week.

*Stop reading like they did

100 years ago, people read the way you're reading right now.

Word by word. About 300 or so words a minute.

And 100 years ago, that kind of reading didn't cause any problems. You could keep up with what was happening pretty well.

But today, our knowledge is exploding so fast that people who want to keep ahead are actually falling behind. There's simply too much to read. Too much homework. Too many magazines. Too many books. Too many reports and memos.

What's the solution? Learn how to read faster and better.

You can do it, too. So far over 300,000 other people have done it. People with different jobs, different IQ's, different interests, different educations. Students, businessmen, housewives.

These people have all taken a course developed by Evelyn Wood, a prominent educator. And all of them have at least tripled their reading efficiency with good comprehension. Most have increased it even more. Some have increased it 10 or even 20 times.

Think for a moment what that means.

All of them—even the slowest—now read an average novel in less than two hours. They read this ad in 8 seconds. They read entire issues of Time in 15 minutes.

They don't skip or skim, either.

They read every single word. Nor do they use machines. Instead, they let the material they're reading determine how fast they read.

And—mark this well—they actually understand more and remember more and enjoy more than when they read like you. That's right. They understand more. They remember more. They enjoy more.

You can do the same thing—even if you're a relatively slow reader now. We guarantee it. In fact, if you don't at least triple your reading efficiency with good comprehension, the course won't cost you a thing.

This is the same course President Kennedy had his Joint Chiefs of Staff take. The same one Senators and Congressmen have taken.

It consists of a 3 hour class that meets once a week for seven weeks.

Shouldn't you find out more about it? You can, simply by coming to a free one hour demonstration.

We'll show you a film. Explain the course more fully, answer any questions you might have.

You'll be under no pressure to enroll. If you want to fine. If you don't want to, fine. But do come. It could change your life.
