

Rights Muddle

It all seemed so simple last April. Just pass the Student Bill of Rights and it would become part of the ASUN constitution...

the approval of the Regents. ASUN President Dick Schulze cites the Preamble of the ASUN Constitution as a possible reason.

Your Chance

"I'm from Nebraska. I'd never have a chance." That too often has been the attitude of University of Nebraska students...

fessors or instructors but are competing along with other graduating seniors. Eligibility requirements include good health, United States citizenship...

Groovin' Sunday

The local species of the flower children are holding a love-in Sunday and inviting everyone to take part. That wide-open invitation means you're eligible...

students or to the local community. The affairs were the rage last summer and the huge love-in gatherings in Griffith Park in Los Angeles...

CAMPUS OPINION: Don't Stereotype

Dear Editor: Date: Thursday, Sept. 21. Time: Immediately following Hyde Park. Question: (By Daily Nebraskan staffer) What is your name?

(boy, was she disappointed). Caption under photograph, Daily Nebraskan, Monday, Sept. 25: "Don Sutton, a member of Students for a Democratic Society..."

hard all year and deserve recognition. Don't get me wrong, I'm not worried about the "taint of association" with SDS because as far as I'm concerned...

some fun, why don't you send a reporter to interview "The Antelope Pavilion," a psychedelic band here at the U. We all have long hair!

great deal of controversy concerning the "art object" outside of the Woods Art Building. I would like to take this opportunity to praise the University art students on this semester's endeavors.

Don Sutton (Editor's Note: The Nebraskan apologizes to Mr. Sutton for the error in identification.)

Easterners Gripe

Dear Editor: Let us play a game where one has to use his imagination. Sometime take a stroll between the Plant Industry Building and C.Y. Thompson Library...

Should you actually see it you win the game because your imagination is better than most students'. Would it not be better to build a new East Campus Union so the East Campus students could put their imaginative minds to better use?

... And Gripe

Dear Editor: A note from the Forgotten Campus where the new student union isn't. The new East Campus Student Union must be being built very close to the City Union. It doesn't appear to be on the East Campus. I am told that the Big Brass say "no one on East Campus really cares..."

Art? Dear Editor: Last spring there was a Vietnam . . .

Popular Outcry Could End War

(Editor's Note: The following article was written by the former South Vietnamese minister for finance and economics who was kept from running in the Sept. 3 presidential elections because he planned to run on a peace platform.)

By AU TRUONG THANH Collegiate Press Service

Vietnam is the typical example of a revolutionary war. The long duration of this war has enabled us to see the successive steps of an evolution through the different phases of a development which had been conditioned by internal and external circumstances.

a climate of mistrust, of discouragement and/or impotence in the face of the daily intensification of the war.

NO ANALYSIS Why so? Because of the lack of time for an analysis of the facts with due consideration to the genuine opinions of the nationals of the country in which the war is being waged.

First of all, let us analyze the factors which were at the start of a revolutionary war. The individual human being is at the hub of the revolutionary war and he had to be a native of the country where the revolutionary war is waged.

OPPORTUNITY Generally speaking, it takes some time to start a revolutionary war because the simple and primitive peasant can be politically transformed only under particular circumstances and with time.

In the case of Vietnam, the mechanism had been launched by the armed struggle to regain national independence of development of the liberation war went on a self feeding system, because a war waged on a larger scale strengthens the factors found at the start of a revolutionary war.

that follows the war for independence does worsen the thirst for national sovereignty.

Also the war, in alienating the city folks from the farmers more social unjust, creating at the same time among city folks a widening gap between war profiteers and war suffers and thus aggravates a dangerous social imbalance.

NEGATIVE EFFECTS Finally the war and the destruction it entails, the exodus and displacement of people it creates, cause a steady deterioration of material living conditions and therefore rise the resentment of people and their desire for a change of regime.

Thus, if the movement of the revolutionary war encounters an opposition by its action, this opposition will be enhanced by a reaction as powerful as the force exerted by the movement itself; it in turn initiates a more violent opposition and starts to snowball.

EITHER the machinery opposing the revolutionary war is not strong enough and in the above-mentioned motion of crescendo, the time will surely come when that machinery will be overrun by what is called "the general counteroffensive."

OR the machinery opposing the revolutionary war is assisted from without. In such a case, the interplay of actions and reactions will go on for a long time unless in the prolonged course of events the fighting machine wears out.

It will be a war of attrition, the end of which can only be seen in a world war.

PEACE PLAN If the above analysis is correct, then we will have to deny the possibility of peace in the course of a revolutionary war and let ourselves sink into pessimism. But we feel that one possibility of peace and only one does exist.

The approach to this peace being as follows:

We have said that the main factor in a revolutionary war is the human being. That human being can perform prodigies when motivated by strong psychological incentives which led him to political or armed struggle.

What must these conditions be? First of all, the war has to last long enough so that aspirations toward complete national independence, social justice, and better living conditions will lose the attractive power they had at the outset of the struggle.

DESIRED Within this precise context, the powerful psychological motivations which can effectively act on the human being is desire for peace.

The birth of this desire amid an atmosphere of prolonged war, coupled with the fear of death, will cut down or neutralize the effects of psychological motivations.

With popular support — without which revolutionary war is not possible — now directed toward peace, the war itself will stop spreading and then move downward.

After long and painful years of war Vietnam now finds itself facing the above-mentioned conditions. The Vietnamese people as a whole must be assisted to express themselves in favor of peace.

Daily Nebraskan Vol. 91, No. 9 Sept. 27, 1967 Telephone: 475-2288, 475-2289, 475-2290. Subscriptions rates are $4 per semester or $8 for the academic year.