

Nominations Open For 10 Best-Dressed

Ten Best-Dressed coeds on the University of Nebraska campus will be presented Oct. 24 at a style show. AWS is sponsoring the contest in conjunction with Focus on Coeds.

Nominations are now being accepted from all living units and the coeds selected must meet the following requirements, according to AWS.

All nominees must be full-time students in good standing with the University. They must be upperclassmen and meet the minimum requirements for participation in extra-curricular activities as set by the University.

AWS emphasized this is not a popularity or personality contest. Coeds will be judged on the appropriateness and suitability of their dress at all times.

In selecting the best-dressed coeds, judges will be concerned with individual sense of the latest fashions and personal grooming, poise, and general overall appearance.

Each living unit may submit ten names. Women's living units may nominate a maximum of five from their own unit. Coeds selected as finalists in past years are eligible.

All nominations must be submitted to the AWS office in the Nebraska Union by 5 p.m. Friday.

The top 20 coeds nominated will be notified Oct. 3 and official judging will be Oct. 9-13. The best-dressed coed will be selected by judges independent of AWS.

AWS Board Chooses Coed Follies Theme

"Expo In Retro" was selected Tuesday by AWS board members as the theme for the 1968 Coed Follies production, Feb. 23.

Kathy Kuester, Coed Follies chairman, introduced four proposals that were passed by board members. Individuals or groups that placed in last year's Travelers act competition are eligible to tryout again.

AWS voted to cut the cost of admission to $1 for those participating in the show. Also this year each of the six groups competing will be allowed a budget of $125, an increase of $25 over previous years.

Another change will be in the awarding of trophies. Winners will be limited to first and second places and these groups will be presented the traditional traveling trophies.

Plaques will be given to the other groups in recognition of being chosen as one of the six to participate. Board members felt that this change would somewhat erase the dividing line between winners and losers.

Miss Kuester is the overall chairman for the production. Jan McGill has been appointed skitmaster and the stage manager is Susie Dietemeyer.

Rally, Parade To Begin Home Football Season

This season's first football rally will be held Friday at 6:15 p.m. according to Jan Donnan, Tassels rally chairman.

A rally parade will begin from the south side of the Nebraska Union and will proceed to Memorial Stadium.

Head football coach, Bob Devaney, will speak and the traveling spirit trophy will be awarded, Miss Donnan said.

The spirit trophy is given to the living unit displaying the best spirit and having the largest representation.

Signs displayed in front of the living unit, signs carried at the rally, and identifiable dress also help to determine the winner.

An overall spirit trophy will be awarded to the living unit who has compiled the most number of points at the end of the basketball season.

Points are given for winning the weekly rallies and contests like the "Yell like Hell" and "Knock 'em with Noise," signs in front of the living unit, and representation at airport rallies.

Two Members Added To Wesley Foundation

The University's Wesley Foundation has added two members to its staff, one of whom will be a full-time associate minister-director.

The Reverend Melvin Luetchens has taken the ministerial post and John Breckenridge has joined the staff, while working on a doctorate.

Rev. Luetchens, who is leaving the pastorate at Ord, Nebr., said he will be "counseling, preaching, leading in worship and working with the students."

ENJOYS AGE GROUP

"I had thought a long time back of the possibility of campus ministry because I enjoy working with this age of people," said 28-year-old Rev. Luetchens.

"I like some of the ideas about being around a University, where students are searching for that which is new and changing," he said.

Rev. Luetchens, married and the father of two young boys, attended Westmar College in Iowa and attended the Evangelical United Brethren Theology School in Chicago.

FORMER DEAN

Breckenridge, who has been the dean of students at Hastings College, will be counseling and teaching part-time at the Wesley Foundation while also serving as the staff representative to the Hungry Id, the Foundation's coffee house.

"Mr. Breckenridge has led several conferences on drugs, LSD and so forth," said The Rev. Duane Hutchinson of the Wesley Foundation.

Pilgrim 20 Singers To Perform

The Pilgrim 20 Singers, a Kansas folk-rock group, will make their first Lincoln appearance at the Nebraska Union ballroom Friday at 8 p.m.

Patterned after the New

Christy Minstrels, the Singers feature folk, modern and religious music accompanied by two electric guitars, two Spanish guitars and several percussion instruments.

The group was formed only last summer and has already performed at Omaha University, Kansas State, and Kansas University while touring the Midwest.

Students Win Dates With Questionnaire

The "winning personalities" of Ann Meyer and Steve Curry have won themselves dates with celebrities for the Minnesota-Nebraska game Saturday.

Miss Meyer will be escorted by Lee Majors, star of TV's "Big Valley" and Curry's date will be Sivi Aberg, the current Miss Sweden.

The date includes a luncheon before the game and "something special" afterwards.

University students entered the contest, sponsored by Golds and Clairol, by filling out personality questionnaires during the first week of school.

The questionnaires were processed by a computer to determine who was "best-suited to date a blonde."

"When I got the phone call from Clairol I thought someone was pulling a trick on me," Miss Meyer said.

Curry said his reaction was that he "was really pleased." "Even my barber has asked me if I'm getting all ready for the big date."

Neither winner could remember the winning combination of the multiple choice questionnaire.

Miss Meyer said she chose an "exotic" fragrance as her favorite scent, while Curry liked a "woody" scent best on a girl. Miss Meyer, a sun-bleached blonde, said she described herself as "attention getting" in the questionnaire.

Both, however, remembered that they "preferred blondes."
